U.S. Troop Involvement Seen In Cuban Buildup

House Group Passes Havana Resolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Congress in testimony made public today that U. S. surveillance of the Communist build-up in Cuba could lead to incidents involving the use of American military forces.

Rusk also said without elaboration that there were indications that the disclosure by the Soviet news agency Tass that Russia was supplying Fidel Castro with arms has "caused considerable concern among the Russian people themselves."

The secretary said in this connection he was hopeful that President John F. Kennedy's strong news conference statement on conditions under which this country would intervene in the Caribbean might cause Moscow to go slow on aid to Cuba.

FIGHT RESOLUTION

Rusk made the statements to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees Monday during their consideration of the fight-if-we-must resolution on Cuba.

The two committees subsequently approved a sweeping declaration of support for Kennedy in any action he might take to curb Castro, including the possible use of troops. The full Senate formally took up the resolution shortly after noon under an agreement limiting debate to three hours.

ENDORSEMENT

The House foreign affairs committee added its unanimous endorsement of the resolution earlier today and action by the full House also was a possibility before nightfall.

In many respects, Rusk's testimony was a refinement of Kennedy's news conference statements on Cuba. But his language on possible incidents involving U.S. forces was unusually blunt.

ILLICIT ARMS

Among other things, the secretary said the United States has made clear that U.S. armed forces would intercept any illicit arms Castro might attempt to move into other Latin American nations. The same, he said, applied to Cuban aggression against its neighbors.

He also said the chief executive would "of course" move immediately with necessary force if there was an attack on the big U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo.

WOULD INFORM

Rusk assured senators Kennedy would continue to keep them informed on Cuban developments. He said the consequences of any "major use" of U.S. forces in the situation would be so serious that Congress should be kept fully informed.

In his testimony, Rusk noted that U.S. ships and planes have been instructed to defend themselves if fired upon in international waters. He testified that the United States is conducting a "close surveillance" of the Carribean and intends to enforce the right to continue it.

That, he said ,"could lead to certain incidents which would involve the use of the armed forces of the United States."

TERRA LINDANS TOLD:

'Beat Subdividers To Park Sites'

Parks in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael will be possible only if the city can beat subdividers to the few remaining park sites.

This is what San Rafael Parks and Recreation commissioners told 19 Terra Linda homeowners last night at a public hearing on potential park sites in their area.

"Our big problem is to get the land before another house is built on it," said Chairman Carl J. Brown. "The area is rapidly being populated with houses—and children."

Homeowners made it clear to the commission that they want parks. They can't use the new community center and swimming pool built by the Terra Linda Recreation District in the nearby unincorporated section.

They said "weary mothers" want a place where they can let their "pre-school toddlers run and play."

Commissioners said they will recommend to the city council the purchase of three sites: One between the Terra Linda High School and Devon Drive; another at the rear of Terra Linda Unit 15 east of Trellis Drive and a third southwest of the Terra Linda High School.

"The proposal should be on the council agenda in a month or two," said Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota. "You and your neighbors should plan to be there."

All of the proposed sites, about three to four acres each, are on land owned by the Freitas estate. "The council told us to go ahead and find out how much the cost would be," said Brown.

Rodota said the key question is how money can be obtained for purchase. One possibility, he said, would be formation of an assessment district in the area.

"The philosophy of the council," said Commissioner Arthur W. Fiedler Jr., "seems to be to give you fire protection first and maybe parks later."

The 12-cent park and recreation tax paid by San Rafael property owners is just enough to maintain existing city parks, Rodota said.

Called "sub-neighborhood parks," which means the proposed parks would not include swimming pools, tennis courts or Little League fields, Rodota

Library Board Discusses Hiring Procedure In Secret

Sausalito library trustees last night held an executive session to discuss qualifications and procedures for hiring a new head librarian.

The board, according to Mrs. George C. Cummings, president, stated its pleasure over city council action Tuesday, approving a higher pay for the librarian. The council voted to approve a scale of $540-$643. Former salary was $475 per month as paid to Mrs. Josephine Ripley of San Rafael, who resigned last month.

The board agreed that the new librarian must be capable of helping to plan the proposed new library. Several applications for the position have been received and deadline for applicants is Oct. 26. The actual hiring is to be handled by City Manager Charles A. Brown, Mrs. Cummings said.

Dr. Fred M. Tetzlaff, trustee, was greeted by the board at his first meeting since his appointment.

U.S.-Cuban Tension In U.N. Flares

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Tension between Cuba and the United States flared into the open in the General Assembly today with a Cuban charge that Washington is preparing large-scale aggression against Fidel Castro's island.

Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui took the assembly rostrum to level the charge as soon as Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson had completed a major U.S. policy speech in the general debate. (See story, page 2).

Stevenson had touched only briefly on the Cuban situation. Speaking of what he listed as threats "in a dark and precarious world," he said:

"The government of Cuba, with moral and material support from outside, carries on a campaign of subversion and vituperation against its neighbors in the Western Hemisphere."

Garcia-Inchaustegui immediately demanded the right of reply.

"The leader of the North American delegation has accused my government of a campaign of slander and vituperation," he said. "This is spoken before this august assembly by a man who, from

VIRUS KEEPS SOME HOME FROM SCHOOLS

Colds, stomach aches and slight fevers were causing slightly above normal absenteeism in some Marin County schools today.

County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht said the virus was common after school opens and students begin circulating, spreading the virus to those students with less resistance.

The virus, she said, "is nothing like influenza" and is causing only colds and stomach illness.

Compromise Farm Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a cliffhanger vote of 202-197, the House passed today a compromise farm bill that included some of the provisions the Kennedy administration wanted.

The compromise bill, worked out by a Senate-House conference, still must be approved by the Senate. That approval is virtually certain.

Before passing the compromise measure, the House defeated by a vote of 165 to 104 a Republican attempt to send it back to conference. That vote closely followed party lines.

GOP MOVE

The defeated Republican motion would have instructed the Senate-House conferees to return a bill that amounted to a straight extension of present one-year emergency wheat and feed grain programs.

Republicans argued bitterly against the compromise, while Democrats contended it was the last chance for a farm program in the coming year.

The bill contains a provision that in 1964 the Secretary of Agriculture can set price supports for some crops at a level designed to prevent further increase of government-owned surplus stocks.

CORN PRICE

Republicans argued that this would mean low price supports, at 50 per cent of parity or 80 cents a bushel for corn, which they said was a ruinous level for farmers.

On the vote, 200 Democrats and two Republicans voted for the bill, while 37 Democrats and 160 Republicans voted against.

One controversial section in the bill provides for direct payment to farmer in grain from government surplus stores as part of their price supports. This is aimed at reducing government stocks and saving movements into and out of storage.

EIGHT INJURED IN FOUR-CAR PILE-UP

Eight persons, six of them Marin County residents, suffered minor injuries in a four-car pile-up in both northbound and southbound lanes of Highway 101 south of Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael yesterday afternoon.

California Highway Patrol investigators found that a lane-changing southbound sedan nudged a station wagon across the divider and headon into a northbound sedan. The third car spun and was hit by a fourth car, which was northbound.

A Novato mother with two of her own children and two neighbor children made up most of the injury list while a San Rafael driver was also hurt.

Mrs. Marilyn Dolores Bishop of 6 Fleetwood Court, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for injuries to her arm. Her daughters Laura 10 (bruised forehead), and Julia, 6 (minor bruises), as well as Pamela Chaon, 10, of 10 Fleetwood Court, Novato (back sprain) and Linda, 9 (cut on right knee) also were treated.

William E. Jones of 105 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, was treated for cuts and bruises on face and body.

Guido J. Salomone was treated for cuts around right eye and Robert P. Kaser for bruises of eye and right knee.

Kaser told the patrol he was southbound in the left lane when a station wagon ahead in the right lane, driven by John A. Charlesworth, crossed suddenly against the side of his sedan and forced it across the divider.

Kaser's car hit the northbound Jones car, which spun into the path of Mrs. Bishop's station wagon. The station wagon hit the Jones sedan. Salomone, riding with Kaser, was thrown out of the car.

Charlesworth explained to the patrol that he failed to see Kaser's car as he swung out to pass another vehicle.

An Ignacio man suffered a minor facial injury in a four-vehicle rear end collision on Highway 101 yesterday morning.

Wirtz Gets Labor Post Senate Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today President Kennedy's nomination of W. Willard Wirtz as secretary of labor.

Wirtz is moving up from the post of undersecretary to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who resigned to accept an appointment as a member of the Supreme Court.

Goldberg's nomination to the highest court is pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Three Former Estes Pals Sentenced

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Federal Judge R. E. Thomason today sentenced three former associates of Billie Sol Estes to long prison terms and said they were guilty of "one of the most premeditated, fantastic and ruthless frauds ever to come before any court in the southwest."

Thomason handed down 10-year prison terms to Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock and Harold E. Orr of Amarillo and gave a six-year term to Ruel Alexander of Amarillo.

All three were officials of Superior Manufacturing Co., which supplied Estes with anhydrous amonia fertilizer tanks.

Superior Manufacturing Co. was fined $5,000 by Thomason.

On a defense motion, the sentences were deferred to begin Jan. 7, 1963, so that the three convicted associates may appear as witnesses in criminal and civil cases and to give testimony to the federal government.

Golf Club Sets Worth $700 Stolen

Three sets of golf clubs, worth more than $700, vanished from a parked car while the owner was fishing at Kent Lake yesterday.

Edwin Owen Atwood, a salesman who lives at 2501 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, told sheriff's deputies he left his 1960 convertible parked by the lake and went fishing. The golf sets were inside the car trunk.

Theft Of Money Reported At Home

Thirty dollars was taken from a chest of drawers at the home of Edward Barry Pearson in Mill Valley between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. yesterday, it was reported to police last night.

Pearson told officers that someone forced the front door at his home at 171 Ethel Avenue.

Three ICBM Bases Ready In California

MARYSVILLE (AP) — Three Titan I intercontinental ballistic missile bases in Northern California became operational today, the Air Force announced.

Each base contains three missiles in underground silos capable of being launched in about 30 minutes, with a range of about 6,300 miles.

The liquid-fuel missiles are capable of carrying nuclear warheads. The Air Force would not confirm or deny that they are already armed.

The bases are located in the Sacramento Valley, one about five miles northeast of Chico, near the municipal airport; one north of the Sutter Buttes, about 20 miles northwest of Marysville, and the other about one and one half miles east of Lincoln.

A squadron of 300 men will man all three sites. They will live at Beale Air Force Base near Marysville, but will be on an alert schedule with all three bases manned at all times.

Marin United Fund Drive Is Launched

Marin's United Fund Drive began today as some 3,500 volunteer workers began to solicit funds throughout the county.

The United Fund Drive in Marin is part of the eighth annual United Bay Area Crusade, which has a goal of 11.2 million dollars for 260 voluntary welfare agencies in five counties.

Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps is chairman of the drive in Marin. Campaigns for donations from many business firms, professions and military personnel have already been conducted.

Marin County town chairmen met today in Kent Woodlands to plan campaigns.

Injured Railroad Man Loses Toe

Lawrence E. English, 47, of Sonoma, who was run over by a Southern Pacific railway car near Ignacio yesterday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Southern Pacific Hospital, San Francisco, today after the amputation of a left toe.

A company spokesman said doctors do not anticipate amputating English's leg. English, works for the railroad, had been uncoupling two freight cars when an engine backed into one of the cars, according to Deputy Sheriff William R. Bradford. The impact knocked English down and the car ran over his foot, Bradford reported.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Algeria's First Vote: Single Slate

ALGIERS (UPI)—Citizens of Algeria voted for a single slate of candidates today in the first national elections since their country became independent from France.

The polls opened for 10 hours to accommodate 6,459,736 registered voters, most of whom had suffered through years of fighting, bloodshed and chaos for this day.

The "candidates" are unopposed. Despite the certainty of the outcome, hundreds of Algerians in tiny Sahara settlements began voting Tuesday and yesterday when mobile polling stations reached their lonely outposts.

They could vote for the candidates selected by the political bureau or abstain.

Italians Debate Use Of Latin

ROME (AP) — Even the Romans are having trouble with Latin.

Debate raged yesterday in the Senate over whether to continue Latin as compulsory in the middle grades.

The school system branches into two parts in the middle grades. One leads to higher education and includes Latin. The other prepares for technical labor with no further education after eighth grade. It omits Latin.

Italian Communists want Latin dropped.

Argentine Ultimatum

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Troops from the countryside converged on this capital today under orders from President Jose Maria Guido to crush an uprising by army rebels.

Guido received Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, a rebel leader, last night. Ongania had come to explain the rebel position. Instead he was handed an ultimatum to end the uprising at once.

Defying the ultimatum, Ongania returned to the rebel stronghold of Campo de Mayo in a Buenos Aires suburb, vowing to fight to the last to enforce the rebel demand that Argentina return to democratic rule.

Guido ordered a joint operation against the rebels, but the air force commander, Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina, said his force would not take part.

No decision was announced by the navy.

Former Envoy Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John Leighton Stuart, 82, United States post-war ambassador to China, died yesterday after a long illness.

The Presbyterian minister was named ambassador to China in 1946. After the Communists took over the mainland, he served as ambassador to Nationalist China until 1952.

Soblen's Body Held

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's body remained in the hands of the coroner today with no indication when it will be released for burial.

An inquest into the Sept. 11 death of the fugitive spy has been adjourned until Oct. 4.

Red Troops Withdraw

NEW DELHI (AP)—About 200 Chinese Communist troops who crossed into northeast India last week have withdrawn into Tibet after an Indian show of force, informed sources there reported.

Spy Is Deported

NEW YORK (AP)—Curt Leopold Ponder, convicted of espionage while serving as an interpreter at the Nuernberg war crime trials, was deported yesterday to his native Austria.

Ponder, 39, was released from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after serving more than nine years for conspiring to turn over defense information to the Soviet Union.

Takes Over In Yemen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Crown Prince Saif al Islam Mohammad al-Badr, a modern-minded liberal, took over the ancient throne of Yemen today following the reported death of his despotic father, one of the world's last feudal monarchs.

A broadcast from Yemen's remote capital of San'a said Badr, 35, was proclaimed successor to Imam Ahmed Bin Yehya, 71, perennial target of assassins.

The Iman was said to have died from natural causes hastened by old wounds.

Rail Service Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Acting Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz scheduled further conferences with labor and management today in an effort to end the costly Chicago and North Western Railway strike. Wirtz said he was still confident of an early settlement.

Both the railroad and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers have agreed to arbitration as requested by the president. But the two parties must decide on specific questions to be submitted to a three-member arbitration board.

Forest products make up 33.5 per cent of Sweden's exports.

BACK WITH FAMILY

Mrs. Carolyn Huntoon, 24-year-old housewife who ran away with her 15-year-old baby sitter was kissed by her children, Jeanne, 4, (left) and Debbie, 3, in her Pasadena home yesterday. With them is husband Frederick, 31. She, her husband and 15-year-old William (Billy Boy) Tocher were returned from Salt Lake City yesterday where a judge gave her a six months suspended sentence for contributing to delinquency of a minor. Young Tocher was sent to juvenile hall. (AP Wirephoto)

Adlai Says U.N. Faces Impotence Unless Soviet Bloc Shares Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States demanded today that the General Assembly act immediately to require the Soviet bloc and all other members pay their share of U.N. costs.

In a major policy speech for the 108-nation assembly, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson declared "We doom our organization to impotence" unless steps are taken to put it on a sound financial footing.

"We cannot expect the United Nations to survive from day to day by passing a cup like a beggar in the street," he said.

The chief U.S. delegate urged that the United Nations give its main attention now to making itself stronger, more efficient and financially sound so it can meet the task of preserving world peace.

There are ominous threats, he said, in Berlin, Cuba, Viet Nam, Red China, Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

"And most ominous of all, the suicidal arms race continues unabated," he said. "These situations raise serious dangers to the peace of the world."

Stevenson avoided direct attacks on the Soviet Union. He appealed to assembly members to "replace strident politics with quiet but determined diplomacy."

GOP Sees Smashing Victory For Rocky In New York Race

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Confident Republicans marched into the state election campaign today under the banner of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to seek a "smashing victory" that would enhance his presidential prospects.

Amid some shouts of "Rocky for president," the governor was nominated by acclamation for a second four-year term last night at a quiet and orderly state convention that came alive only in the closing session.

The Republican ticket boasts four incumbents, all experienced campaigners, including U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

To challenge them, the Democrats earlier this week hammered out a slate headed by two political newcomers, former federal prosecutor Robert M. Morgenthau, the gubernatorial nominee, and prisoner-exchange lawyer James B. Donovan who will oppose Javits.

The Democrats, who face an uphill fight in the 48 days before the election, received a boost last night when the Liberal Party, which exists only in this state and is centered in New York City, endorsed Morgenthau and his running mates.

The endorsement was expected and traditional.

Another hopeful note for the underdog Democrats was sounded by David H. Jacquith, gubernatorial nominee of the state's fledgling Conservative Party, who said the splinter group had obtained enough petition signatures to assure it of a place on the ballot.

The Conservative Party was created to fight what its adherents consider to be the too-liberal views of Rockefeller and Javits.

Two Foreign Students Learn American Ways In Marin

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Ellen Steiermann of Uruguay and Odd Barlindhaug of Norway come from far corners of the world, but their reactions to student life at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo are surprisingly similar.

Odd, 18, and Ellen, 17, are senior scholarship students at the high school under the American Field Service program.

Both attend the equivalent of our junior colleges in their countries. Both view with some astonishment the hordes of students here who drive their own cars.

"The parking lot in front of the high school is the most fantastic thing I've ever seen," said Odd. "In Norway if you have a car, you're considered rich. In my school one or two students have cars. We have a parking lot for 300 or 400 bicycles instead."

"In my city students go by bus," said Miss Steiermann. "I had expected everybody to be in a hurry here, but it's not that way at all. It may be true in the big cities; here it's a little town."

Miss Steiermann, who lives on the south coast of Uruguay in the capital, Montevideo, said she often did not return home from schools there until 9 p.m. because of after-hours language classes.

Her parents are German settlers who immigrated to South America because of the war. Her father runs a patisserie, or pastry shop. Ellen, who speaks fluent Spanish, English, German and French, hopes to enter the diplomatic service after completing college.

Odd said his biggest adjustment after arriving in California was "learning to go to bed so early. The sun stays up in Norway until 11:30 on summer nights. It comes up again around 2:30 a.m. We usually go to bed around midnight, when it's still twilight."

His home in Norway is in Trondheim, a city which, with suburbs, includes some 82,000 inhabitants. His father is an accountant. For recreation, Barlindhaug skis and sails his boat on the fiord by Trondheim. "Norwegians are practically born with skis on their feet," he said. He hopes to become a ship's designer.

Both students concur on the fact that the $14 monthly allowance paid them by the American Field Service is not adequate.—"Especially for boys," added Odd. Asked how he managed, Odd grinned and said: "The girls are taking me out. They all want to show me places in Marin County."

"In Uruguay," Ellen said, "girls my age go out with older men, 23 or 24. Very few marry before their 20s."

Miss Steiermann is living with Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Yaffee at 2 South View Avenue in San Anselmo. She attends school with Susan Yaffee, also a senior. A second daughter, Judy, attends Univrsity of California at Berkeley.

Barlindhaug lives with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jensen, 4 Meadow Way, Fairfax. The Jensen children include Curtis, a senior at the high school; Lyle, who lives in Oregon; Mrs. Eleanor Harvey of Fairfax, and Arnold, 7, who attends Deer Park School.

Ellen and Odd agree on one more area of life in the United States: both feel school here would be easier for them than school at home except for their difficulties with English.

"I attend the American High School in Monteviedo," said Ellen. "It's a private school that was started by Americans. It puts a heavy stress on English and requires that we take 15 subjects each semester. We have different subjects on different days, and we can't choose any of them. I think the girls of 17 in Uruguay are older than here in the way they think and talk."

"I had to take English for six years," added Steiermann, "but the language is still difficult in school. My English teacher just passed out a sheet of vocabulary and defined the new words with more words I don't know."

Finally, both agree on why they came.

"I wanted to come to know, to see something new," said Ellen.

"For most Norwegians, it's a dream to come to California or Florida and a warmer climate," said Odd. "I'm curious to see other ways. Eevrything is supposed to be rich and bigger here. Now I can see for myself."

Reinvestment In U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The aerospace industry reinvests a higher proportion of its earnings—about 57 per cent in 1961—than any major manufacturing industry, Aerospace Industries Assn. of America reports.

Former City Policeman Arrested At Tavern

Retired San Francisco police officer John Thomas O'Haire, 44, was jailed this morning on suspicion of creating a disturbance at a Novato bar and resisting arrest.

Deputy Sheriff William R. Bradford, who arrested O'Haire at the Tomahawk Lodge bar in Novato shortly after midnight, said O'Haire was carrying a revolver under his coat when arrested.

Bradford, on routine patrol about 12:40 a.m., noticed O'Haire drive up to the Tomahawk bar and enter. According to the officer, O'Haire walked up to a bar stool and pulled a customer, Anthony Martino, 36, of 658 Hancock Street, Novato, off the bar stool. Martino spun around and pushed O'Haire back.

Deputy Bradford said O'Haire started reaching inside his coat where he carried a snub-nosed revolver in an inside holster.

The officer disarmed O'Haire, dumped the bullets on the floor, and marched him to the patrol car. Bradford said O'Haire put up a fight and had to be handcuffed and put into the patrol car.

O'Haire was booked on suspicion of assault, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and drunkenness. Freed on $751 bail, he is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon. O'Haire gave his address at 658 Hancock Street, Novato.

WRECKS

de la Mesa was the man hurt. The California Highway Patrol said he also was responsible.

When a line of cars southbound halted a mile south of the Hamilton Air Force Base gate Porto rammed into the rear of one driven by William R. Brown Jr. of Vallejo, which in turn banged another car driven by Paula Teresa Moche of Sonoma into a fourth driven by Andrean Colar of Vallejo.

Porto, the only person hurt, went to San Rafael General Hospital with a cut lip.

A Sausalito sailor on a motorcycle plowed through a wooden fence at Bridgeway and Locust Street at 12:21 a.m. today and went to Marin General Hospital for treatment of cuts on his arm plus other scratches and bruises.

He was AO/3 Ludlow Daniels, 18, of 5 Josephine Avenue, Sausalito, serving on the Yorktown. Daniels was transferred to Letterman Army Hospital.

Dorinda Dustman, 17, of 50 Shields Lane, Novato, drove into a utility pole at Wilson and Vineyard Roads, Novato, this morning. She was treated at Novato General Hospital for a cut knee while her companion Dianne Peterson, 18, of 20 Fleetwood Court, received treatment for a cut knee. Miss Dustman said she was blinded by morning sun. Both are College of Marin students.

Novato Moose Lodge Meeting Tomorrow

An organizational public meeting for a Novato lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Nave Lanes on Highway 101, announced Dr. Donald W. Lannan.

Jack Torrenga, state membership director for the Moose, will show films of "Mooseheart," a home and school for the orphaned children of Moose members, and "Moosehaven," a home for aged Moose members in Florida. He will also talk on the social and civic activities of local Moose lodges.

Strawberry Meat Broker Found Dead

A 51-year-old meat broker apparently shot himself in the chest, then jammed the revolver in a planter box just outside the window of his home in Strawberry before he died yesterday afternoon.

Forrest N. Randolph of 305 East Strawberry Drive was dead by the time Marin Ambulance attendants rushed him to Marin General Hospital.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton and inspectors of the sheriff's office reported this morning that all indications point to suicide, although the missing gun posed a puzzler at first.

The .32-caliber revolver was later found buried barrel first up to the butt in the planter box of the window of Randolph's room.

The coroner and sheriff's investigators said Randolph had apparently tried to hide the gun before he collapsed on the floor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Randolph told investigators she was reading her mail upstairs when she heard a loud pop, followed by a thudding sound downstairs. She ran downstairs to the room which her husband used as an office to run his meat brokerage business. She found her husband on the floor, trying to get up.

Coroner Keaton said the bullet pierced the victim's left lung, missing the heart.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

PARKS

said the parks would include these features:

A "tiny tot" play area, another play area for elementary school children, asphalt courts for "simple games," a turf area for games, a shade area for picnics and a nature area with hiking trails.

Harvey H. Sachs of 17 Serra Way noted the proposed sites are in eastern part of Terra Linda, and he asked the commission to consider the chances of putting a park in the west end. "The people in the west will raise a great hue and cry if they think they are forgotten," Sachs said. "They have to drive by the recreation district's pool every day, and it's a sore point."

The Cuban said the United States was "violating our air space, infiltrating our country and sending mercenaries against our coasts."

"The aggression of his government has destroyed the houses of our workers, damaged our industry and killed thousands of our citizens, with bombs . . .

"You say you defend the charter of the United Nations. You tell your aggressive generals that in our country, more than six million Cubans will defend with something more than the sweet words of the charter.

"We reject your statement as a means of covering up a new large scale aggression which your country is preparing against our country."

OBITUARIES

Ann Ashley Services Pending

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Ann Todd Ashley, 41, of Sleepy Hollow, whose body was found inside her station wagon at Tocaloma yesterday morning. She was manager-instructor and part owner of Meadow Club Stables in Fairfax.

She leaves four children. A daughter, Nina Van Winkle Morehead, 19, lives in San Francisco. Lorraine Todd Morehead, 17, and Todd Morehead, 15, attend Drake High School, and William Whiteley Ashley Jr., 5 is in kindergarten. The three younger children lived with their mother at 211 Deer Hollow Road, Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Ashley was divorced about two years ago from Dr. William Ashley of San Francisco.

Deputy Coroner William Bradley said Mrs. Ashley was apparently despondent over ill health and finances.

She left her home Tuesday night about 8:30. Yesterday morning, a water company official found her slumped on the front seat of her station wagon, parked about 50 yards off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tocaloma.

Besides her children, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Phyllis Todd Ellis of Gate Harbor, Wash.; Mrs. Barbara Todd Townsend of Virginia, and Mrs. Margaret Todd Boots of New Jersey. Her bother, Mrs. Van Winkle Timpson Todd, lives in New Jersey.

Funeral services are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

JENNIE GREEN

Mrs. Jennie Grace Green, 6 Calle del Pinos, Stinson Beach, a 36-year resident of Marin County, died at her home yesterday. She was 72.

A native of Nebraska, Mrs. Green was the wife of Lt. Col. Clarence J. Green, USAR.

She is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sarah Janet McCammon of Stinson Beach, Mrs. Patricia Grace Herbert of Lakeland, Fla., and Mary Jacqueline Sennello of Sebastopol.

Services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Memorial services will be conducted at 7 p.m., Oct. 7, in the Stinson Beach Community Church. She was a ruling elder of the church.

Memorial contributions to the church's Sunday school fund are preferred.

WILFRID J. GIRARD

Funeral services for Wilfrid J. Girard, originator of Girard's French dressing, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in Oakland.

Girard, 88, died in the home of his son, McCone W. Girard, in Oakland Wednesday following a long illness. A native of Massachusetts, Girard came to California in 1896 and in 1908 opened John's Grill in San Francisco where he later originated the French dressing, which until recently was manufactured in San Rafael.

He leaves a second son, G. Kenneth Girard of San Francisco and five grandchildren.

The funeral cortege will leave from Albert Engel and Co., 3630 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, and procede to St. Theresa's Church, where at 10 a.m. a Mass of Requiem will be offered. A Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the funeral home. Entombment will be in the Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum in Hayward. Spiritual Bouquets are preferred by the family.

DOROTHY CHESNUT

Mrs. Dorothy Jane Chesnut, a life-long resident of Marin County, died at an Oakland hospital yesterday after a brief illness. She was 41.

Mrs. Chesnut, who lived with her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Cerelli, at 14 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, was a member of Marinita Parlor No. 198 of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Vivian Egisti of San Anselmo.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Interment will be at Italian Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

ANTHONY DEVOTO

Private funeral services were held today for San Francisco attorney Anthony Stephen Devoto at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Devoto, 77, died yesterday at a San Rafael rest home after a long illness. Survivors include a son, Donald Devoto of Corte Madera.

Devoto practiced law in his native San Francisco from 1910 until his retirement in 1960.

Other survivors are his wife, Dorothy, of San Francisco; another son, Justin, of Los Altos, and five grandchildren. Memorial contributions to the Holy Innocents Church of Corte Madera are preferred.

Will Dad always run the team?

Yes—if he calls the right play now by establishing a Family Trust at Crocker-Anglo. It can mean a steady, planned income for Dad, today, and for his beneficiaries tomorrow. Steady income, too, during the time his estate is in probate. And Dad is the judge as to how much say Crocker-Anglo will have as the family trustee.

With Crocker-Anglo on the team, each trust benefits from the broad experience of our Trust Investment Committee, composed of senior officers. They meet weekly to review portfolios, and weigh investments in terms of economic trends, as well as the personal goals of each family. Suppose, for example, a member of the family should be stricken by a prolonged illness. Or Junior should decide he wants to go to college. With a Crocker-Anglo Family Trust, terms can be flexible and special funds can be released in such cases.

Isn't it time you took it a little easier and let Crocker-Anglo's specialists provide your family with sound financial management?

Let's go into a huddle soon and talk about it.

For more information, visit our Trust Department in San Rafael, or ask any branch manager to arrange a meeting with one of our trust officers. There will be no obligation on your part. As to the legal aspects, we recommend that you seek the advice of your attorney. We shall be happy to cooperate with him in working out the best program for you.

NEW SPACE GLIDER—This is the full-scale mock-up of the X-20 space craft designed to go into orbit and then glide back to earth. It was shown for the first time in Las Vegas yesterday. A Titan III missile will boost it into orbit. (AP Wirephoto)

Space Glider For Earth Orbit Unveiled

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The weirdest-looking space plane this side of science fiction was unveiled here yesterday by the Air Force.

It's the X-20 Dyna Soar, scheduled to be blasted into a 100-mile-high orbit around the earth by a Titan III booster sometime in 1965.

A model of the triangular shaped black space-glider, 35 feet long and 20 feet across, was shown publicly for the first time at the Air Force Assn. convention.

Technical men familiar with sketches and photographs of the X-20 were startled by the vicious ugliness of the full-scale mockup. With its upturned wingtips and long snout, the X-20 looks like its designer managed to cross a manta ray with a shark.

The Air Force also announced the names of the first six men who will fly the X-20. The pilots, all from Edwards Air Force Base are Maj. Henry C. Gordon, 37; Maj. James W. Wood, 38; Maj. Russell L. Rogers, 34; Capt. Albert H. Crews Jr., 33, and Capt. William J. Knight, 33, all of the Air Force, and Milton O. Thompson, 36, test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Sometime next year one of these men will be at the controls when the X-20 makes its first test flight at Edwards, home of the X-15 rocket plane.

For these flights, the X-20, like the X-15, will be carried aloft by a B-52 bomber.

Unlike the X-15, which has reached record speeds of more than 4,000 MPH and a height of 314,750 feet, the X-20 will set no records at Edwards. These flights will be tests of the X-20's ability to maneuver in the atmosphere. Records will come later at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the X-20 will be blasted into orbit at speeds of 17,000 MPH.

After one or more orbits, the X-20 is scheduled to land at Edwards, beginning its long descending glide somewhere over Hawaii.

The Air Force said the X-20's Titan III booster rocket, under development, will have a thrust of more than two and one-half million pounds. The X-15 rocket engine, by comparison, generates 57,000 pounds of thrust.

Language Honors For Redwood Grads

Two 1961 graduates of Redwood High School have been exempted from language courses in college because of highest scores.

Charles Cauldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Cauldwell, 210 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, a freshman at Occidental College, achieved the highest score of any freshman taking Latin placement exam at the college. His Redwood Latin instructor was Robert Keuhnl.

Gail Partman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Partman, 108 Pepper Avenue, Larkspur, scored well enough on her French entrance examination at University of California at Davis to be exempt from nine required hours of the language. Robert J. Mautner instructed her at Redwood.

Battery Stolen From Auto In San Rafael

When Richard Edwin Schottstaedt of 1 Harbor View Court, San Rafael, got up Tuesday to go to work, his car wouldn't start.

The battery had been stolen sometime during the night, he complained to sheriff's deputies.

Downtown Mill Valley Due Trees

Downtown Mill Valley will take on a new look soon with Victorian Box trees lining the commercial streets.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks announced at last night's council meeting that the city and the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, which suggested the tree planting program, will split the cost.

The decision to go ahead with the program was made at a council work session last Saturday, he said.

The cost will be just under $4,000. About 60 trees will be planted. They will be placed in redwood boxes set flush with the sidewalk. The trees will not be so large that they will block the view of stores and shops, he said.

Two Marin Youths Join Navy For Four Years

Neil Patrick Cunningham of Fairfax and Stephen Dixon Price of San Rafael enlisted in the Navy for four years at the Navy Recruiting Office in San Rafael and are now at the Navy Training Center in San Diego.

Cunningham is the son of Mrs. Irene F. Cunningham of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, and John J. Cunningham of 175 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael. Price is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Z. Jacobsen of 46 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael.

'Largest' Airplane Passes Test

MOJAVE (UPI) — The "pregnant guppy," a commercial transport billed as the world's largest airplane, successfully completed its first flight yesterday.

"We're completely happy with it and hope the government sees fit to use it," said Jack Conroy, a former Air Force pilot who was at the controls for the flight from Van Nuys to Mojave airport.

Conroy said the 90,000-pound transport could be used to move components of present space vehicles from the manufacturer to launch facilities at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The aim of the converting team that built nearly a complete new fuselage over an existing Boeing Stratocruiser was to produce an aircraft capable of carrying huge missile parts as a substitute for land or sea travel.

Present plans include preliminary work already under way at Seal Beach by North American aviation space scientists for the advanced Saturn and eventual movement by barge to the launch site.

Man Escapes Injury In Crash

Alvin N. Hurley, 25, of 2065 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, escaped injury yesterday when his sports car skidded off the Miracle Mile and landed in a 10-foot-deep culvert.

San Rafael police said the car skidded 138 feet on the pavement and 102 feet of the roadway in the dividing strip, before hitting a wooden barricade and plunging into the open culvert at Fourth Street and Sentinel Court.

Hurley was cited for driving in the divider section.

AN ALL-CALIFORNIA DEDICATION

Loyalty Oaths Required For Polio Workers

MARTINEZ (AP) — The 1,600 volunteer workers in Contra Costa County's polio immunization drive Sunday will be required to sign loyalty oaths, officials said last night.

The figure includes some 12-year-old Boy Scouts who will act as orderlies.

Dr. Glen W. Kent, assistant county health officer, explained that the oaths were required under law because the polio drive is considered a Civil Defense exercise in the county.

Ernest Besig of the American Civil Liberties Union commented, "I imagine there are many mothers in Contra Costa County who have been thinking their sons have been acting subversively since they were 7 years old."

Kent said some doctors requested to be assigned to other counties taking part in the drive rather than sign the oaths.

Savings, Loan Industry Studies Told

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The 72nd annual convention of the California Savings and Loan League ended yesterday on a notice that a detailed study was being made to promote the sixteen billion - dollar industry in the state.

Preston N. Silbaugh, California Savings and Loan Commissioner, told delegates the inquiry into how "free and effective competition" can best be promoted comprised two studies.

One study will concentrate on application requirements and new association operating expenses. It is being conducted by Dr. Fred Balderson of University of California.

The other, by Dr. Edward Shaw of Stanford University, concerns the industry's performance in the state with special reference to mergers and consolidations.

Silbaugh said California now has a moratorium on savings and loan association mergers, pending completion of the two studies. Some industry leaders have forecast a future tendency toward mergers and consolidations to meet rising competition from commercial banks for mortgage loans.

One of the problems facing the industry, Silbaugh said, "is the continued proliferation of unaesthetic, sub-standard and shoddy new (house) construction.

"The prospects for the decade ahead would seem to be for various types of multiple housing. But are we doing the necessary market research to allow us to make that determination with certainty?" Silbaugh said.

During a panel discussion, Robert T. Souter, president of Lynwood's World Savings Assn., predicted that within 10 years the state's present 256 associations will be reduced to 20 major firms through mergers and consolidations.

John F. Martin, president of Great Western Savings and Loan Assn. in Los Angeles, was elected president of the league, succeeding F. Marion Donahoe of San Francisco.

Named vice president was Fred C. Stalder of San Diego, president of Central Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Army Civilian Worker Honored Fifth Time

Cornelia Clearihue of 20 Vine Avenue, San Anselmo, has been cited as an "outstanding employee" of the Army at Fort Mason for the fifth time in seven years.

Miss Clearihue, who has also received the meritorious civilian service award, is administrative secretary to the commanding general of the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command Headquarters.

Missile Industry Strike Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major missile-space producers have bowed to President John F. Kennedy's request and accepted compulsory union membership proposed by a special presidential board for settlement of their contract disputes with two unions.

The agreements ended the threat of a strike Saturday against North American Aviation and General Dynamics Convair Division.

Kennedy announced the North American agreement with the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO, last night. The Convair agreement with the AFL-CIO Machinists Union had been announced earlier at San Diego.

Boeing Aircraft, another large missile-space producer, has a similar dispute with the machinists. The union has pledged it won't strike Boeing for a 60-day period while a new White House board frames settlement recommendations. But a strike at Lockheed is possible this weekend if there is no agreement before then.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

SAN PABLO (AP)—One candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction claims the other doesn't hold a teaching credential and can't qualify for one in California.

Dr. Ralph Richardson made the accusation last night in a face-to-face debate with Max Rafferty before 300 persons at Helms Junior High School.

Rafferty, superintendent of schools at La Canada, said he could qualify for a teaching credential, and added:

"I seek the credential of public confidence, and there is no higher."

Richardson, UCLA faculty member and former president of the Los Angeles Board of Education, contended that his opponent wants to indoctrinate school children in an emotional and unfactual manner when teaeching about communism and democracy.

Richardson said he favors an objective and unemotional approach, and declared patriotism should not depend just on past history, but should take into account current investigation.

Rafferty replied: "The great stories of our heroes and the generations who fought to preserve our flag should be taught as often as needed . . . We should teach the little ones on their mother's knee and later on their teacher's knee to love their country."

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Richard M. Nixon, fresh from a tour of Los Angeles' Civic Center, took his campaign for California's governorship to the lower San Joaquin Valley today.

During a series of rapid-fire talks with Los Angeles city and county officials in Civic Center yesterday, Nixon delivered these opinions:

1. He favors some modification of California's formula for splitting gasoline tax revenues 55-45 per cent between the South and North.

2. He agreed with Mayor Samuel Yorty that the state should help cities develop airports that serve large geographical areas, not just the cities in which they are located.

3. He advocates the death penalty for big-time dope peddlers.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today charged that his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, had advocated "a Communist technique" — indoctrination — to educate public school students on communism.

Brown made his charges in remarks before the Montebello Breakfast Club and at the Los Angeles Press Club.

In yesterday's campaign proceedings, Brown addressed the opening session of the California State Bar convention in Beverly Hills and Nixon made a tour of the Los Angeles civic center, visiting city and county officials and shaking hands with several hundred civil service employes.

Other campaign developments:

Brown blasted Nixon for what the governor called a "poor record" on social welfare legislation while Nixon was a congressman, a senator and vice-president.

Harold J. (Butch) Powers, former Republican lieutenant governor, was appointed vice chairman of the campaign of Judge Thomas-Coakley for the attorney-generalship in opposition to incumbent Democrat Stanely Mosk.

PROVISIONAL PLAN FOR TIBURON DEVELOPMENT

It all depends on some future studies, but here in outline form is the area of Tiburon tidelands provisionally thought of for development of motels, restaurants and apartments. The area enclosed in dotted lines is property which Tiburon Tidelands Co. has leased with an option to purchase from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Robert Moore of Belvedere owns 51 per cent of the stock in the company and Milton Tonini of San Francisco the remainder. Development depends on results of subsoil studies and future plan of the nearby Corinthian Yacht Club. Part of the area is within the city limits of Belvedere. Paradise Drive, included in the lease, could be relocated farther from the waterfront, according to Moore. The ferry slip is not included in the lease. (Aero Photographers)

School Theft Suspect Is Freed

Winifred B. Shippy, 47, of Washington, suspected of the Coleman School burglary in San Rafael two weeks ago, was freed of the charge yesterday after a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.

Neither fingerprints nor eyewitnesses could put Shippy at the scene of the crime, and Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled that evidence was not sufficient to hold Shippy for trial in superior court.

A burglary charge is still pending against a second man accused of the crime: James B. O'Conner, 34, of Daly City.

On the night of Sept. 2, two private patrolmen noticed the Coleman School door open and saw two men run from the vicinity. Someone had entered the school and carted out a television set, three phonographs and three typewriters but had abandoned them outside the school. An out of state car was parked at the school entrance.

Police caught O'Conner near 728 Belle Avenue and later picked up Shippy at Tamalpais and Mission Avenues. Both denied any knowledge of the burglary and any connection with the car parked near the school.

The car's registered owner is overseas, and police have not been able to question him.

JFK Denounces Foreign Aid Fund Cut, Asks Restoration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy says a House committee's recommendation that nearly 1.4 billion dollars be sliced from this year's foreign aid funds is an irresponsible action that "poses a threat to free world security."

He asked that the slashed funds be restored.

House leaders, detecting sentiment for additional trimming of the $5,956,852,000 economic and military aid measure, may forego a salvage operation at this time — for strategic purposes. Kennedy originally asked 7.3 billion dollars.

The cut criticized last night by the president in a statement is the handiwork of the House Appropriations Committee. The stiff opposition a move to restore the money would face was summed up by Rep. Otto E. Passman's declaration that "Not one cent will be put back if I have anything to do with it."

The Louisiana Democrat, a persistent advocate of keeping foreign aid speding down, was chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that drafted the bill. He will be floor manager for the measure in House debate, beginning today.

In his statement the president declared: "It makes no sense at all to make speeches against the spread of communism, to deplore instability in Latin America and Asia, to call for an increase in American prestige and an initiative in Eastern Europe—and then vote to cut back the Alliance for Progress, to hamper the Peace Corps, to repudiate our long-term commitments of last year and to undermine the efforts of those who are seeking to stave off chaos and communism in the most vital areas of the world. . . ."

Kennedy concluded: "I cannot believe that those in both parties who have consistently voted in the course of three administrations to fulfill the nation's obligations of leadership will permit this irresponsible action to go uncorrected."

College Of Marin's Newspaper Lambastes 'Deplorable' Parking

Despite frequent mentions of "improved parking" at the College of Marin before last June's successful passage of a 35-cent tax boost, the situation presently is "deplorable," "congested," "crowded" and "ridiculous," according to students interviewed by the college newspaper Tower Times.

Editorially the Times advises everybody to become reconciled "to parking facilities that are nearly non-existent" and "probably (to) grow worse before it gets better."

John Gillin, advisor to the Executive Council, is quoted as declaring that no changes in the parking situation may be expected before next semester. Meanwhile, notes the paper, an over-crowded campus this semester is resulting in "traffic snarl-ups, dented fenders and shattered nerves."

About a year ago a report from the architectural firm of Falk and Booth, hired as consultants on campus expansion, indicated that conversation with trustees had eliminated possibility of enough expansion at the present Kentfield campus to handle an estimated 4,500 students within a decade so abandonment of the whole present set-up was posed against an alternative of two schools, one in Kentfield and the other elsewhere in the district.

But expansion to 2,500 students was thought possible through purchase of acreage across College Avenue to include 17.5 acres for parking, as against 5-2 acres for classroom space.

"It sounds like we are having a campus built on a parking lot," commented Trustee Rupert E. Kempf as trustees indicated they favored a charge for student parkers.

Current conditions as reflected by the school paper certainly don't suggest there is any present parking lot whatever.

Though at the beginning of the semester a policy of "preferred parking" and automobile registration were initiated, with assignment to desirable parking areas for student body card holders.

But the Tower Times says that "preferred parking is a farce. Choice parking spots go to those who get there first—and there are no exceptions."

Student drivers who registered so that cars improperly parked could be tagged by campus police but they complain they've seen neither police nor tickets.

Publicity matter last spring before the successful effort for more tax money mentioned improved parking as among the goodies to be dished out if the money were forthcoming. But the Tower Times now advises:

"Either encourage car pools among classmates, ride a bicycle, or indulge in that obsolete American pastime—walking."

New San Rafael Park Lot Planned

Plans to build a new 40-space parking lot on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael were announced today by San Rafael developer Harry Albert.

The 12,000-square-foot lot will be located at 824 Fifth Avenue, east of Nye Street. An old house on the lot will be demolished, Albert said.

Parking spaces probably will be rented by hour, week or month, Albert said.

Blood Bank Drive Told At College

College of Marin's Inter-Club Council will sponsor a campus-wide blood bank drive for the benefit of students, faculty and staff personnel, it was announced today.

The drive, for the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, requires that four pints be contributed from the campus every two months. Arrangements for donations and withdrawals are to be made through the college nurse or with student body Vice President Ronald Cox.

Cox and fellow students James Matley, Rosalie Harper and Robert Stockwell have volunteered the first two-month quota.

Interest In Teen, Senior Center Told

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night agreed to advise the Mill Valley Youth Activities Committee it is interested in the committee's proposed joint teen and senior community center. Directors took no other action on this.

The board heard that there is considerable work to be done yet on the Strawberry Swim Club's pool, primarily in the mechanical equipment. Notice of completion on the contract for the club building, built by Bridges and Abbott of Novato, is expected to be filed within 10 days, according to Mrs. Patricia M. Gowen, secretary.

The board authorized purchase of a fertilizer spreader, at a cost of about $160, for use on Hammond Field.

The powerful, elongated bodies of polar bears have been equally at home on ice or in open sea for 10 million years.

'MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL'—Mirror catches reflection of Don Rose, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, as he pins an inoffensive campaign button on Mrs. Harold Watkin, his Marin campaign secretary: a tiny artificial rosebud. (Independent-Journal photo)

Background On Kennedy's Trade Powers

(EDITOR'S NOTE — What development overshadowed all others in contributing to congressional approval of the historic trade bill? What impact will the measure have? Joe Hall, veteran AP newsman who covered the bill's progress through the Senate, analyzes the "bold new instrument.")

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years ago Sen. Harry F. Byrd, after steering an embattled trade bill through the Senate at the request of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, told a newsman: "I don't believe it will be possible to get legislation like this through ever again."

Yesterday the veteran Virginia Democrat watched the Senate roll up a 78-8 vote for the trade bill submitted by President John F. Kennedy with such sweeping powers that it dwarfed the 1958 measure. The House had passed the bill earlier.

What happened in four years to make this possible?

Senators who worked long weeks on the legislation agree that one development overshadowed all others.

This was the phenomenal growth and success of the six-nation European Common Market.

The 1957 Treaty of Rome, which laid the foundation for this six-nation free-trading area, had been signed when the Eisenhower bill was passed. But its significance was not clear at that time.

By 1961 the startling results of the Common Market were fully apparent.

France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg had made great strides in revising their import duties into a common external tariff. They maintained an annual rate of growth of 5 per cent in the 1958-61 period compared to 3.6 per cent of the United States. The standard of living of their peoples rose steadily.

In the light of this development, the president shaped his trade proposals to meet directly the challenge and the opportunity of the new trading area.

It was not planned that this country seek membership in the European Economic Community (EEC) or Common Market. But an effective trading partnership was made the key goal of the program.

It was pointed out that the EEC—counting Great Britain as a member, and the administration always has assumed she will join—will account for 90 per cent of the non-Communist world's trade in industrial goods.

Some enthusiasts have envisioned the EEC as such a vast market for American consumer goods that it could give as much lift to the U.S. economy as did the development of a mass auto market in the 1920s. It also is looked to as a big consumer of U.S. farm products.

To meet this opportunity, Kennedy put into his bill and has won from both the House and Senate an authority never before sought by a chief executive.

Under his new authority, the president can wipe out tariffs on all products for which the United States and the Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade.

This is in addition to general authority for a 50 per cent cut in all present U.S. tariffs, compared to 20 per cent won by Eisenhower.

The Senate, to insure that this authority is effective, wrote into its version of the legislation a provision permitting Kennedy to count Britain as a member of the EEC even if she does not join. This same discretionary power would apply to the other six members of the European Free Trade Association.

State Department officials say they expect negotiations with the Common Market under this new legislation to begin next year.

They voice high confidence in the outcome, declaring that the U.S. fared well in trade talks last spring that used up the 20 per cent reduction authority of the 1958 act.

As a result of these negotiations, the EEC tariff on industrial items has been bargained down to about 5.7 per cent as compared with 7.1 per cent for American duties, department officials said.

Senators gave somewhat more attention to the challenge of the EEC and the fears it has aroused in some quarters in their consideration of the bill.

The Finance Committee, noting restrictions already imposed by the Common Market on American farm products such as poultry, gave the president potent new retaliatory powers. He could raise tariffs sharply or impose quotas to counter unjustified and unreasonable measures taken against the United States.

House and Senate conferees still must work out the final version of the legislation. But this is not expected to be hard since the major new powers sought are in both versions.

Candidate Don Rose Calls Jordan Man No One Ever Sees At Capitol

Don Rose, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, told Marinites yesterday that the Republican who now occupies that office is "the man nobody sees" in Sacramento.

Rose addressed a luncheon of business, professional and labor leaders at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Harold Watkin, his Marin campaign secretary. He spent much of the day calling at newspaper offices and radio station KTIM.

In two years as executive secretary to Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson, said Rose, he never saw Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in the capitol.

"Anyone in the capitol sees the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, etc., almost daily—but never the secretary of state," he said.

Rose called this evidence of "arrogance by the man who has held the office for 20 years."

He criticized Jordan also for what he called "the worst breakdown in history" in tabulation of votes in the June primary, pointing out that five weeks after the election, there remained uncertainty as to who would be the two final candidates for state superintendent of public instruction.

As a result of his earlier criticism on that score, said Rose, the incumbent secretary of state wrote to county clerks warning them that "a young upstart wants to tell you how to run your elections."

The conduct of elections, on a statewide basis, is the responsibility of the secretary of state, declared Rose.

He came out flatly against a return to cross-filing, which he said Jordan is advocating.

The Democratic candidate handed out something different in campaign buttons: tiny artificial rosebuds "so you will remember the name."

Larkspur Master Plan Meeting Planned Oct. 17

The Larkspur City Council last night set up an Oct. 17 meeting with the planning commission to discuss possibilities of revising the city's master plan, in effect since 1957.

Mayor James R. Lienkaemper, discussing the report of the five-year study committee, proposed sitting down with the commission and "thrashing out the possibilities for a home-grown master plan." He said he was not against making money available for the work, some of which could be done by an outside consultant.

The council will hold a study session on Oct. 10 to work out in more detail what it will recommend to the planning commission.

The report of the five-year study committee on City Manager Ronald E. Piper's capital outlay program brought the suggestion from councilmen that ways be found to bring more revenue into the city to finance proposed projects.

Lienkaemper suggested that more revenue could be obtained if the area bounded by Bon Air Road, Corte Madera Creek, Magnolia Avenue and Larkspur Plaza were rezoned from residential to an industrial park district.

Piper pointed out that rezoning of the area might be better considered while the revised master plan was being drawn up. He said $5,000 was contained in this year's budget for a new master plan.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Denied the claim of Jean and Rutherford Y. Millar for $247 for medical expenses incurred when Mrs. Millar slipped in a wet gutter at 26 Corte Fedora.

2. Approved the request for an easement exchange with Leroy C. Condon at 325 Baltimore Avenue.

3. Directed that a letter be sent to the Larkspur School District stating that construction of additional sidewalk on Magnolia Avenue near Bon Air Road is unfeasible.

New Hub City Street Lights Due By Oct. 1

Installation of 29 mercury-vapor street lights on San Anselmo Avenue, between Bridge Street and Ross Avenue, by San Anselmo city crews is expected to be completed by Oct. 1, according to City Administrator Douglas Flautt.

Replacement of the old street lights installed in 1923 was authorized by the city council last spring. Purchase of the new lights cost $4,848.20.

Larkspur Council Votes To Raise Joint Recreation Fund By $1,500

The Larkspur City Council last night voted to increase its contribution to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation program by $1,500 and thus insured recreation supervision at Greenbrae School.

The increase over $4,250 already budgeted brings the total to $5,750 which matches Corte Madera's contribution to the program. The Larkspur School District has budgeted $1,750.

Larkspur councilmen last night assured Victor Donatti, vice president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn., that they were interested in a recreation program at the Greenbrae School.

Councilman Daniel Allen said, "Greenbrae is an essential part of the total program." He suggested that the Kentfield School District, which includes the Greenbrae School, contribute money to the recreation program.

The Greenbrae recreation program, with the approval of Kentfield School District trustees for use of the school facilities, will include creative dramatics on Mondays from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., bowling Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:30 at the Greenbrae Lanes and sports at the school playground Saturdays from 10 to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Redwood Paper Editors Named

Student editors of the Redwood Bark, newspaper at the Larkspur high school, were announced today.

Toni Banducci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Banducci, 345 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, will be editor-in-chief. Associate editor is Jill Lerner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lerner, 225 Tulane Drive, Larkspur. John Contos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Contos, 108 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, is sports editor.

All three are seniors.

The staff was picked by Mrs. Carol J. Neumeier, journalism teacher, after the first issue of the paper appeared last Friday. Miss Banducci and Contos were acting editors for the first edition.

Scenes From Shakespeare Due Homestead

Both tears and foolery will be the order of the day at Homestead Valley's Stolte Grove on the next two Sundays when the Homestead Players present favorite scenes from a number of Shakespears's plays.

Food booths will open at 1 p.m. for those who wish to eat picnic style. The show begins at 2 p.m., according to Barbara Aleshire, publicity chairman.

Free transportation will be provided from Brown's Hall at 390 Miller Avenue between 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. and after the performance, since parking space is not available. Those under 18 years of age will pay student prices. Tickets are available at the Redwood Book Store or through Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, 760 Ridgewood Avenue, Mill Valley.

Miss Lerner will advise the magazine of local teen news, interest, trends, personalities, and special events that may warrant national mention.

Novato Residents Get Look At Freeway Maps

Residents of Novato yesterday got another look at the various freeway routes as maps were shown by the State Division of Highways at the community building.

As in previous map showings, six alternate routes were compared. Residents paid the most attention to the "J" route, which State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack recommended on Aug. 22.

This route goes east of the present highway which now passes through the business district of Novato. It takes off from the present route south of Novato Creek. It crosses the railroad on an overpass at Lamont Avenue and recrosses the railroad just north of Atherton Avenue. It rejoins the present highway in the vicinity of the Tomahawk Lodge.

This route is two-tenths of a mile shorter than the exisiting route. It would cost an estimated $8,980,000. Engineers in the past have favored the "E" or present route through town. This would cost $7,930,000 if dirt filled; $9,410,000 for a viaduct and $8,670,000 as a depressed route.

Costs given for other proposed routes were: "A" $10,490,000; "B", $10,290,000; "C", $13,090,000 and "G," $10,020,000. The "K" route which goes further east than any other route and was favored by the city council, was not shown.

The State Division of Highways has scheduled a public hearing on these freeway routes, starting at 10 a.m. next Thursday in the Novato community building.

Diseases Listed In Marin County

Gonorrhea and streptococcus infections led the list of communicable diseases reported last week to the Marin County Health Department.

Ten cases of gonorrhea included three in San Rafael, two in Marin City, two in unincorporated areas and one each in Sausalito, Mill Valley and Corte Madera. Ten strep infections included five in unincorporated areas, two each in Corte Madera and San Anselmo and one in San Rafael.

Two cases of infectious hepatitis and one case of tuberculosis were reported in unincorporated areas. Sausalito reported a case of syphilis; Novato, a case of viral meningitis, and Larkspur, a case of Shigella.

Cleaning, Laundry Center To Open

A new coin-operated dry cleaning and laundry center will be opened Saturday at 5482 Highway 101, Novato, south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The establishment known as Philco-Bendix Sunshine Center will be owned and operated by William F. Breeze of 92 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, and Louis Scott of Albany. Both men have owned coin-operated laundries in the past.

Scott said the center will have eight dry cleaning machines, 16 washers, eight dryers as well as a coin-operated pressing machine, "adjustoform" device and a 25-pound rug washing machine.

Women's hair drying equipment will be added later, he said.

Novato High Future Teachers Unit Elects

Rick Whitney has been elected president of the Chalkdusters, Novato High School's chapter of the Future Teachers of America.

Tom Reilly was named first vice president, and Ted Bloyd second vice president. Barbara Skinner was elected secretary, and Wendy Hardcastle, treasurer.

Fair Employment 'Policing' Need Told

By CHAPIN A. DAY

A "beautiful policy" of fair employment practice is not enough in an industry unless there is "someone responsible for policing it." This responsibility may even include going out to recruit minority workers for jobs in industry if they don't come through normal channels.

C. L. Dellums of Oakland, a member of the state Fair Employment Practices Commission, reported this yesterday, but added that "private employers by and large have accepted the law and are attempting to apply."

He said he had "documentation of more than 100 organizations which are now employing members of minority races for the first time as a result of the commission's activities." Even this number, however, is only an indication of success of the program because the "indirect results" merely because of the facts of the law may well be greater than those directly visible.

Dellums was speaking as the leader of one of four FEPC workshops held yesterday in the Mark Hopkins Hotel, San Francisco, as part of the third anniversary conference of the FEPC. More than 350 persons, including representatives of Tamalpais Union High School District, Marin City, and other Marin localities, participated in the luncheon and afternoon workshops.

John G. Feild, executive director of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities, was the principal luncheon speaker. Feild said three classes of problems face fair employment—the attitude of management, workers' environment which includes education, and the element of time. But "a truly massive effort could mark the decade of the '60s as one of the great breakthrough in modern race relations," he declared.

John F. Henning, director of the state Department of Industrial Relations, brought a message from the governor in which Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed strengthening of FEPC, increasing education and training opportunitties for the minorities, and strengthening of state law against housing discrimination.

John Anson Ford, FEPC chairman, praised legislators and individuals working to obtain FEPC and the commission staff. Mentioned specifically was Fred Gunsky of Mill Valley, FEPC educational officer, praised for the recently issued pamphlet "Success Story" illustrating job opportunities for minority youths.

The four-workshop session concerned the law and its application, the private employer, public employers and educational responsibilities.

Discussed were 1,800 complaints filed in the three years of the commission's existence; ways workers can get proper education, be trained, find jobs; the role of the schools and public organizations, and complaints or suggestions about operation of the commission.

One East Bay woman suggested minority students be allowed to visit minority-run businesses to see how they can help themselves. "Who's more financially secure than a Negro undertaker?" she asked.

The conference wound up with a final session in which the activity of the four workshops was reported.

Sims To Speak On Delinquency

"What every parent should know about juvenile delinquency" will be the subject of a talk by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. at an open house given by Mill Valley American Legion Post 284 at 8 p.m. Monday in Legion Hall.

W. P. Duhamel, Marin County veterans' service officer, will speak on "What every veteran and wife should know."

Post Commander Francis W. Mosher Jr. said the program is for Southern Marin veterans. It is being arranged by Porter M. Griffith of Sausalito, second vice commander.

Eucalyptus Tree Study Is Asked

Mill Valley Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks asked the city engineer and city manager last night to inspect four or five tall eucalyptus trees on Montford Avenue Ethel Avenue with the possibility of having them removed.

He said the trees, at least 80 feet tall, pose a threat to property backing on Montford and to traffic. He said a branch recently fell in the back yard of Lt. Col. Mark Cory, 7 Robertson Terrace. It was a big branch, about eight inches in diameter at its base, he said.

"I know it's a subject of high sensitivity," he said. "But the trees are a hazard. I think they should be removed."

Mill Valley Slates Lots Size Hearing

Resident of Mill Valley will have a chance to state their views Oct. 17 on the minimum square footage that should be required on lots for apartment developments.

Mill Valley city councilmen stated their views last night and they were far from complete agreement. The zoning ordinance as it stands now calls for at least 3,000 square feet per apartment unit in level areas and 1,500 square feet in hillside areas.

The council set the hearing on a proposed amendment that would require 2,500 square feet throughout the city.

Councilman Michael Wornum asked how the council had arrived at this figure.

He said he regretted being absent at the last council meeting when his fellow councilmen voted against allocating money to the planning commission for a study of the problem.

"This is like pinning the tail on the donkey," he said. "Needs vary according to location."

He argued that a blanket ordinance would not fill the bill and protested against any changes that would force Mill Valley to spread out. One of the charms of this city, he said, is its dense, central area.

Mayor Joseph F. Sheeks countered that the dense center of the city contributed to the traffic problem which often becomes acute.

Councilman William M. Secor said he would rather see a 3,000 square foot minimum per unit. Wornum said he would like to see some facts before he made up his mind.

However, councilmen finally agreed that they would hold the hearing on the basis of a 2,500-square-foot minimum.

The Mill Valley Council Also:

1. Adopted a resolution stating the council's opposition to Proposition 23, the state senate reapportionment measure on the November ballot which would base senate representation on population rather than the present base of territory.

2. Held over until Oct. 17 a report on the condition of "B" or secondary streets in the city on which council hopes to avoid a maintenance responsibility. City Engineer Stanley Bala, asked to make a survey of the streets, said he needs more time to complete his report.

3. Authorized spending $1,500 for planting in the center strip of Miller Avenue in the Camino Alto area.

4. Learned from City Atty. Leland Jordan that a uniform county dog ordinance is being prepared and will get to city managers in about two weeks for study.

5. Asked City Manager A. E. Almcrants to find out if residents of the Alvarado Avenue, Manor Drive area would be willing to put in curbs and gutters and necessary drainage in a proposed street improvement project. Thirteen members of the Manor Drive Improvement Club asked the city to consider acceptance of the street for maintenance if residents improve it.

6. Pair warrants totaling $93,118.18.

7. Adjourned until Oct. 3.

Death Rate Steady

NEW YORK (UPI)—The death rate among America's nearly 100 million ordinary life insurance policyholders remained relatively unchanged last year at about six per 1,000, continuing the level held for the past decade, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Miller Avenue Parking Space Solution Seen

Mill Valley City Manager A. E. Almcrants told city councilmen last night that the Miller Avenue parking problem will be solved through the efforts of the police department and the city engineer.

Several complaints over scarce parking space, including one from the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, have been voiced. Almcrants said white strips for diagonal parking will be painted on the north side of the street and wide driveway accesses to some businesses will be reduced in order to add parking space.

City Engineer Stanley Bala said the white strips for parking must be considered only a temporary solution. Pavement in many areas must be widened and curbs and gutters constructed.

Councilmen asked Bala to prepare a design for curbs and sidewalks to assure a uniform development. Where there is sidewalk now, it often varies in both alignment and height from one lot to the next, Bala said.

Drunken Driver Gets $276 Fine

Leo Cosmo Lee, 45, of 100 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley, must pay $276 fine and remain on one year probation for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 in Sausalito last July 31.

Pink Houses Are Still Bother To Councilmen

Mill Valley city councilmen last night wondered what to do about two pink houses that sit on concrete blocks at the entrance to the city near the intersection of East Blithdale Avenue and Camino Alto.

"They must have come from someplace," Councilman Michael Wornum said with a wrinkled brow. "Couldn't we just have them moved back?"

City Atty. Leland Jordan shook his head.

The houses were moved to the location to be converted into professional offices. Planning commission approval for the move was revoked and a $1,000 bond posted for the project has been foreclosed.

"But that doesn't get rid of the houses," Jordan said.

David Paul of Mill Valley, owner of the buildings, told the council last month, that several people have lost money in the project already. Councilmen last night wondered how they can have them moved without any loss of taxpayers' money. There was no ready answer.

Failure Of Brakes Causes Accident

Brake failure yesterday caused a Fairfax driver in West Marin to steer into an embankment on purpose, which resulted in injuries to his Woodacre passenger.

Harold A. Keelen Jr. of 47 San Gabriel Drive told the California Highway Patrol that he had been using his brakes vigorously on Point Reyes Peninsula roads and they suddenly "faded" as he was northbound on Balboa Avenue near Inverness Park.

Keelen steered into the bank in order to stop. The car tumbled backward onto its top in the road, then bounced onto its wheels and ran forward to come to rest against a big oak.

His passenger Clifford Slattery suffered a head cut for which he was treated by a Point Reyes Station physician.

Greenbrae Recreation Plan Is Withdrawn

Niels Schultz Jr., bowing to the wishes of Greenbrae residents, announced today that there will be no private recreation club on his property in Los Cerros-Manor Road area. "I said I would be guided by the residents' sentiments," Schultz said after seeing results of a poll in which 90 per cent of Greenbrae's 925 families opposed plans by East Bay investors to build a swimming pool and tennis club on the property.

Schultz said the investors may consider another site, "but I don't know that they are very serious about it."

Schultz stated his decision by letter yesterday to the Greenbrae Property Owners' Assn., which conducted the poll last month.

William G. Fleckles, association president, announced Aug. 22 that the proposed club was opposed by 95 per cent of those voting close to the eight and one-half acre site, 93 per cent throughout the community and 92 per cent of the association membership.

The city of Euerka in Hum- 1850, is believed to be the oldest place in the United States bearing that name.

Marin Visitors Bureau Facing Grim Problem With Mrs. Dearth

The Marin Visitors Bureau is deadly serious.

If there is any doubt, all you have to do is look at the set of Mrs. Esther Dearth's chin when she talks about it. She has been pushing the bureau along with a solid conviction that what we do to interest visitors and tourists—and get more of them—is as important to Marin County progress as more building, new industry and lower taxes, which will then follow in natural sequence as the night the day.

Maggi Gnau, the bureau's managing and working director, is just about as grim, and imbued with the same sense of urgency.

"We should get to work on visitors when they buy their first tank of gas and drink their first glass of water in Marin," she told the Marin County Real Estate Board meeting at Dominic's last Tuesday morning. "And we need to educate everyone in giving this service so they can answer questions about the county.

"I doubt if even you smart real estate people fully realize what we have here."

MISS GNAU SAID she experimented by pretending to be an out of town visitor at service stations and restaurants. Accurate information was pitifully lacking in response to her inquiries.

She said much of the bureau's time is spent in answering telephone and mail inquiries. "And we have to satisfy all of them because you never know where the seeds you've planted will grow," she commented.

The tourist business is one of the fastest growing industries in the country, she said. "All people talk about is where they are going on their next vacation and where they are going to retire.

"EVENTUALLY we intend to go into direct advertising, but first we have to determine how the money can be spent most effectively. In spite of the fact that the county has increased our budget allowance we still need additional finances. Right now, in planning to spend what we have we almost have to play it by ear. Some brochures are made up but still more are needed."

The bureau's program is somewhat complicated by seeking to attract visitors and at the same time giving them additional facilities when they get here.

Among various projects are the promotion of pleasure boating as a primary industry in Marin, compiling information on the points of interest, preserving historical sites and having adequate markers. More accommodations for groups and conventions, more places to feed them.

"WE NEED encouragement for what we are trying to do from the business people who will eventually benefit by it, and we need volunteer help—but most of all, we need money," she concluded.

All of which is by way of promoting the bureau's current campaign for membership. The odds are high that you will be approached — as a business firm, organization, contributing sponsor or individual. Memberships are available in these several categories.

The toughest problem, it seems, is getting enough interest aroused here at home in stimulating interest elsewhere.

Rae F. Watts, San Francisco Port Authority director and resident of 377 Highland Avenue, San Rafael, has been elected president of the Pacific Coast Assn. of Port Authorities.

San Rafael High Votes Tomorrow

San Rafael High School freshmen will elect class officers tomorrow, with one girl and two boys in the race for class president.

Seeking the presidency are Nancy Grimes, Jon Owen, and Rocky Shone.

Candidates for vice president are Dave Deal and Robert McLennan. Unopposed for secretary is Tish Gallivan.

Three candidates seek the post of commissioner of social affairs: Jackie Hartman, Lynne McFarlane and Angie Posey. Four are out for yell leader: Shirley Baker, Marilyn Corona, Jeff Padgett and Dolly Ringo.

Seven freshmen members of the student congress are to be elected from among nine candidates: Erik Anderson, Fred Buchler, Margie Costello, Sharon Dixon, Cindy Hunt, Bernine Leamish, Christine Owen, Connie Wagner and Sandy Wechsler.

Pan Players Offer Season Ticket For Next Eight Shows

Pan Players of Sausalito will offer its next eight shows for a season ticket price beginning with the production of "Tea and Sympathy" which opens tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Gate Theater. The play runs five weekends, Friday and Saturday nights.

Ticket holders, according to David Kerr, may pick either night on the weekend to attend.

Kerr also announced tryouts Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the theater.

Kerr is casting Phillip King's new farce "Fool's Paradise," schheduled to have its West Coast premiere Oct. 26. Jeanne Abel will cast the first play of Pan Players Children's Theater, "Hansel and Gretel," set to open Nov. 10 at 2:30 p.m.

Columbia U. Aide

A Columbia University representative, Thomas S. Colahan, will visit Redwood High School at 11:30 a.m. Monday to talk to boys about requirements and course offerings in the men's undergraduate liberal arts college and school of engineering.

'Littlest Cowboy' Contest Announced

Marin boys and girls from 3 to 9 years old may enter the "Littlest Cowboy" contest sponsored by the 18th Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo in the San Francisco Cow Palace.

The contest will be held Oct. 20 at the United Artists Theater in San Francisco, and the exposition will be held Oct. 26 through Nov. 4 Deadline for contest entries is Oct. 6. Prizes will be given for the best dressed, smallest, tallest, fattest and most freckled cowboy or cowgirl.

Summary Of ICC Tunnel Report

Carriers serving Marin County would not gain and the public would lose if Northwestern Pacific Railroad were allowed to abandon San Rafael service as petitioned to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This seems the nub of a 5,000-word recommendation against abandonment filed with the commission in Washington, D.C., by examiner F. Roy Linn as result of hearings stretching through most of the first half of this year.

Toward the end of his lengthy summary of facts plus his own analysis, Linn wrote:

The beneficiary of the abandonment apparently would be applicant's stockholder and connecting carrier, Southern Pacific Co., who would realize as its principal benefit the liquidation or diminution of carrier competition.

"It further appears that the increase in gross revenues likely to accrue to Southern Pacific Co. as result of the proposed abandonment would not exceed the sum of the anticipated decrease in revenues by NWP and the estimated loss in revenues by Santa Fe, the effects being that the carriers serving the area would not as a group realize any net gain and the shipping public would be left with fewer facilities for rail transportation and materially less efficient and less frequent service."

Based on this, which in turn is buttressed by lengthy sifting of statements and testimony:

"The examiner finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity are not shown to permit abandonment . . . and that the application should be denied."

The application was to abandon the burned and collapsed Puerto Suello tunnel and 2.46 miles of track northward from San Rafael as result of a tunnel fire on July 20, 1961.

Linn said the line "is built in a pass through a series of hills (therefore) relocation is not feasible and if service is to be resumed, restoration of the tunnel will be necessary."

Studies on various methods of restoration, including a railroad estimated cost of $851,665, were found by Linn to boil down to relatively small discrepancies as between railroad and experts retained by the City of San Rafael.

ICC's verdict against permitting abandonment of freight service to Sausalito was recalled by Linn in dealing with the complex problem of calculating rail revenues. He found that the system followed by opponents of abandonment was backed by the Sausalito decision.

With reference to the railroad claim of adequate motor carrier service to Marin County Linn found "there is no competent evidence, however, that any of such carriers with exception of Pacific Motor Trucking Co., a subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co., in fact has available facilities . . . for any of the rail traffic in issue."

Since the tunnel fire stopped rail service, he wrote, shippers "have experienced reduction from daily to twice-weekly service with accompanying fluctuations in transit time, bunching of deliveries, and other inconveniences."

Concerning the railroad claim that the San Rafael-Tiburon area "has little, if any, future industrial potential," Linn found that traffic during the first five months of last year "suggests a possibility of improved conditions along NWP lines, and in conjunction with the studies by protestants tends to support the conclusion that need for transportation service, including rail service, is not undergoing an immediate and catastrophic decline.

"It also should be kept in mind that the effects of the proposed abandonment will not be confined to the main line points of San Rafael to Tiburon, inclusive."

Restoration of the tunnel will involve relining the entire bore, Linn concluded on a basis of extensive testimony about probable conditions not actually inspected. However, he did not exclude the possibility that replacement of burned sections would suffice.

Concerning the railroad's submission that the state highway division must spend many additional thousands of dollars in widening Highway 101 if the tunnel isn't abandoned, Linn cited a court case justifying introduction of such testimony but knocked it down because of the state's slowness in acting:

"There is no indication," he said, "that highway authorities have ordered or approved any specific changes in the highway system in the area and such changes as ultimately may be made admittedly are five to 10 years away.

"The adoption herein of any definite cost figures in respect to possible future highway construction accordingly is not warranted."

Drawing toward his final conclusions, Linn said:

"NWP apparently is able, financially and otherwise, to restore the tunnel, and upon basis of its own revenues and expense figures will realize net revenues from continued operation through the tunnel that will justify reconstruction of the tunnel and the resumption of service through it . . .

"Accomplishment of the (abandonment) proposal would leave south of the tunnel site on uneconomic 'island' system with limited, roundabout and unsatisfactory access by water only, which most assuredly would be expected to deteriorate further, both physically and in financial results, until it becomes itself a burden upon interstate commerce and a legitimate candidate for abandonment."

Gwen Stone Art At College Gallery

Forty oil paintings and monoprints by Gwen Stone went on exhibit at the College of Marin Art Gallery in Kentfield last night, as the College Art Department inaugurated a new policy of monthly shows by well-known Marin artists.

Miss Stone, a Larkspur resident, has been an award winner in various shows, including the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Her most recent award was a third place ribbon out of 350 entries in the fifth annual Delta Art Show at Antioch, Contra Costa County, last weekend.

The exhibit will run through Oct. 19, according to Edwin A. Cadogan, director of the College of Marin art department.

Gallery hours are: Monday, 3 to 5 p.m.; Tuesday, noon to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, 3 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.; Thursday, noon to 5 p.m., and Friday, 3 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

San Rafael Key Club Officers Installed

Flu Fells Marin Prep Gridders; Drake Hardest Hit

The flu bug has already reared up its ugly head on the gridirons of Marin high schools as coaches reported many chargers missed a few days of practice this week because of the virus.

Biggest hit were Drake and Terra Linda high schools. About 12 gridders from Drake were out for a short while this week because of the bug and eight missed drills from Terra Linda.

Tam only had four players out but one of them was Warren Domino who missed practice Tuesday. He will still start for the Indians in their next game Saturday, but his strength may not be up to par. Domino's speed in the Tam backfield is one of the team's high points.

Novato Hornets had three athletes out with the flu during the week, but none was missing from drills at Redwood. But, said head coach Bob Troppmann, "I'm knocking on wood."

San Rafael wasn't hit either, reported coach Bob Muster.

Coach Doug Damaschino at Marin Catholic High School said the flu had not hit his gridders but, worse yet, starting tackle Joe Hebel, a senior, will be out for at least a week with a case of pneumonia.

The Terra Linda gridders are getting ready for a contest with Sonoma High which will be played Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Terra Linda High. The T. L. Trojans have been working on their passing game and defense during this week. Head coach Pete Limm said quarterback Dick Schultze has been coming along good with the passing arm.

The Drake Pirates have been working quite a bit this week on defense and different ways to stop wide runs. And they have good reason to be concerned with the wide stuff. Their foes for Saturday will be the gridders from Edison High of Stockton. This team carries six backs who run the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds flat. Whew!

The Marin Catholic Wildcats are making ready for their game with the Cloverdale gridders tomorrow night, 8 o'clock, at Kentfield. According to coach Damaschino, Cloverdale has a "good scrappy club." The Wildcats held a scrimmage yesterday and were to hold light workouts today.

Coach Troppmann at Redwood High concentrated on the Giants' passing during the week's drills in preparation for Saturday's 8 p.m. game with Montgomery High at Santa Rosa. Game captains for the second Giant game, chosen by the team members, will be quarterback Jim Troppmann and linebacking star Steve Minutoli.

The Novato Hornets, after their 26-0 loss last week, centered their work this week around the offense. The Hornets will host Ukiah Saturday at 2 p.m.

The Tam gridders, picked for big things this year, know they have their work cut out for them Saturday when they take on Castlemont of Oakland in Kentfield at 2 p.m. Castlemont's line averages 200 pounds and there are two 9.9 backfield aces on the squad. Head coach Pete Belden has been stressing offensive workouts this week, especially in the passing department. He knows he'll need a few touchdowns to win this game.

The San Rafael Bulldogs concentrated on getting a big charge from their linemen during this week, as they worked hard on the seven-man sleds. San Rafael will host St. Mary's High School tomorrow at 8 p.m. The gridders also worked to polish up the running game for tomorrow's contest.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Marin Track Club Has A Monopoly; Title Fight On TV In Richmond

Through the years baseball fans have been heard to cry, "Break up the Yankees." They referred, of course, to the New York baseball club that has dominated the major leagues with ridiculous ease. It's not fair, the fans complain, for one team to have all the best players; break 'em up and distribute them among the other teams, they reasoned.

Now we're confronted with a similar athletic monopoly right here in the county—the Marin Athletic Club. Fans of long distance foot races want to "break up" Coach Jim Imperiale's M.A.C. because it has won so many titles in recent years that a warehouse is needed just to store the trophies.

Just last Sunday, for example, the M.A.C. won the Dipsea Race team title for the fourth straight year. Since the club has been in operation for only four years, that's a pretty fair monopoly, wouldn't you say?

Even though their best runner, Darryl Beardall, wasn't feeling up to snuff and finished far down the list, the Marin runners still easily won the championship.

The club's first five men and the order in which they finished were Stu Sparling, third; Bill Ranny, fourth; Wes Hildreth, fifth; Bill Ferlatte, seventh, and Jay Pengra, thirteenth.

No other team was close in the scoring. That's why they're hollering, "Break up the Marin A.C."

IF YOU'RE planning to take in a theater-TV showing of the Patterson-Liston brawl next Tuesday, Richmond Auditorium is the closest location for Marin fans.

Promoter Matt Zidich says the auditorium holds 3,756 customers and the Richmond box office will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday and Monday and all day Tuesday. Prices are $5.50, $6.50, $7.50 and $8.70.

CAPTAIN CLYDE HICKEY of Mill Valley, who directs the Schenley Sportsmen's Club, passes along this tid-bit: "Fred Tyler of Port Hueneme found a two-foot long diamond back rattlesnake in the stomach of a 16-inch bull bass he caught. I thought I would pass this one along because Bay Area striper fishermen might want to gather up a bucket of rattlesnakes and try them out on the striped bass. If they workout alright, the fishermen could raise their own bait."

Thanks, Captain, but no thanks.

COACH PETE LIMM is calling guard Stan Pareto the "thinking man's lineman" at Terra Linda High School after last Saturday's come-from-behind 12-7 victory over Fort Bragg.

With only a few minutes to go and T.L. trailing 6-7, Pareto told Limm: "I've spotted a weakness; I think we can move well up the middle." That's just where the T.L. offense was directed and the Trojans marched 48 yards in eight plays for the winning touchdown.

JAY LATHROP, best prep miler in Marin history, has enrolled as a freshman at U. of Cal. The San Rafael High grad was timed in the low 4:20s last track season.

FOR A second stringer, Novato's Jack Sparrow was a whiz in U. of Pacific's big opening win over Brigham Young last Saturday night. Lanky Jack completed 8 of 11 passes for 120 yards and two touchdowns. But that was only as a substitute; just wait until he warms up.

ANOTHER FORMER Marin prep, Kent Francisco from San Rafael, was chosen this week by sports writers as the West Coast "sophomore lineman most likely to succeed." Kent is a tackle for UCLA.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Drysdale Becomes 25-Game Winner As L.A. Wins, 4-0

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Don Drysdale applying the stop and Maury Wills the go, the Los Angeles Dodgers are back on the track in their stretch drive for the National League's winner circle.

Drysdale put the stopper on the Dodgers' three-game losing string yesterday with a five-hit pitching gem as the front-runners knocked off Milwaukee's streaking Braves 4-0.

Wills triggered the attack by opening the game with a single, stealing second, moving to third on a bunt hit and scoring the only run Drysdale needed on a double-play grounder.

The Dodger whippet has 94 steals, with one game left to match or better Ty Cobb's 154 game record of 96. His chance to better the 47-year-old mark will come tomorrow night at St. Louis against the Cardinals.

The Dodgers maintained their 3-game lead over the San Francisco Giants, who powered their way out of a six-game losing slump on homers by Willie Mays and Tom Haller and beat the Cards, 7-4. The loss was the eighth in a row for St. Louis.

Bob Friend pitched a six-hitter and Donn Clendenon homered as Pittsburgh trimmed Cincinnati by 1-0, dropping the third-place Reds 5½ games off the pace. Philadelphia downed Chicago 4-3 in a doubleheader opener shortened to six innings by rain . The second Phillies-Cub game was postponed, as was the twi-night doubleheader scheduled at New York between the Mets and Houston.

In the American League, the New York Yankees stayed four games in front by overcoming Washington 8-5, runnerup Minnesota swamped Detroit 12-5,, Los Angeles bombed Baltimore, 9-4, Chicago edged Boston 3-2 in 10 innings, and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 10-9.

Drysdale (25-7) did not allow a man past second base in throttling the Braves, winners of five straight and two in a row against Los Angeles. The hard-throwing right-hander posted his 19th complete game and struck out nine, boosting his league-leading total to 218.

Frank Howard rapped reliever Jack Curtis for a 450-foot homer in the ninth, the massive outfielder's 30th.

Bob Friend of the Pirates became an 18-game winner with his six-hit shutout of Cincinnati. Clendenon settled matters in the seventh with his homer.

By winning their abbreviated match with the Cubs, the Phillies made it five straight victories, 14 in their last 17 games and moved up to the .500 mark for the first time since May.

Gilbert Named To Manage Giants' Tacoma Farm Club

TACOMA, Wash., (UPI) — Andy Gilbert, manager of the Springfield, Mass., entry in the Eastern League for the past six seasons, will pilot Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League next year.

Rosy Ryan, general manager of the Tacoma Club, announced yesterday that Gilbert had been named to replace Red Davis.

Gilbert was with the Boston Red Sox from 1939 to 1941. Ryan said that Gilbert had been instrumental in developing such baseball talent as Juan Marichal, Tom Haller, Bob Farley, Gerry Thomas and Chuck Hiller for the San Francisco Giants. Tacoma is the Giants' number one farm team.

Bud Foster Named TV Sports Editor

Bud Foster, one of the Bay Area's most familiar sports "voices" and one of the most lauded, has been named sports editor of Channel 7. The appointment is effective Oct. 15.

The announcement was made today by ABC Vice President and General Manager of KGO-TV, David M. Sacks.

S.F. Sends Sanford To Mound Tonight

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants called on 22-game winner Jack Sanford today as they fought to hold on to their slim chance for the National League flag.

The Giants found their batting eyes again last night as they scored a comeback 7-4 win over the St. Louis Cards behind lefty Billy O'Dell.

Los Angeles also won so the Giants are still 3½ games in back of the Dodgers. San Francisco at least managed to cement its grip on second place since Cincinnati lost to Pittsburgh, 1-0, to fall two games back of the Giants.

Willie Mays and Tom Haller were the heroes of last night's win over the Cards. Mays' whacked a three-run homer off loser Larry Jackson to highlight a five-run third inning.

Mays' homer was number 45 for the year and fattened his run batted in total to 129, his high in 11 years as a Giant. Mays is current major league leader in homers.

Haller swatted roundtrippers in the second and third inings to drive in three more runs.

O'Dell looked as though he might be in for an early shower when the Cards bombed four hits and four runs off him in the first frame. Ken Boyer bombed a two-run homer and Del Maxvill whacked a bases-loaded single to account for the Redbird runs.

Manager Al Dark stayed with O'Dell and his decision was a wise one. O'Dell gave up only six more hits the rest of the contest to fatten his record to 18-13. O'Dell fanned six and walked two.

The Giants, who snapped a six-game loss streak, compiled 11 hits, the high for the current disastrous road swing.

Other Giants who especially helped their average included Harvey Kuenn and Chuck Hiller with two hits apiece. Boyer had three hits for the Cards and Bill White two.

Sanford, who has lost seven, will battle the Cards' Ernie Broglio (11-8) tonight. The Giants then move into Houston for a three-game set starting tomorrow.

Seals Hold First Ice Hockey Drill

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals looked good in their first hockey scrimmage, according to coach Bud Poile.

For yesterday's workout, Poile started a front line of Duke Edmonston and Danny Belisle at the wings and Ed Panagbko at center. They worked out so well together that speculation immediately arose that this could be the Seals front line this winter.

Tars Open Tomorrow; Outlook Is Bright

College of Marin Tars, with hopes of navigating their '62 football ship through another successful season, will open their grid schedule tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Menlo against Menlo College.

Despite seven early practice injuries, head coach Dick Read seems optimistic about the Tar season outcome, and has good reason to, after a look at his starting offensive lineup.

His backfield is made up of three returning lettermen, Ron Cole, Jim Lonsford and Jim Lucas, and a newcomer quarterback in Curtis Embry who played frosh ball last season at Utah State.

Read knows he will have a rough foe in the season opener, but says, "We will give a good account for ourselves." And the Tars will probably do just that.

Defensive halfback Ruben Moten with a sprained ankle, fullback Scott Moriarty with a knee injury and tackle Frank Gallardo with a damaged nose are among the injuries, but Read feels Moriarty and Gallardo may get into the Menlo battle.

Other injuries to the Tar squad were tackle Elmer Collett with a broken thumb, halfback Dan Collins with a shoulder injury, Bill Kane with a hurt knee, and Ray Edwards, also with a bruised knee.

The Tar gridders had their roughest practice during the first two weeks of practice which started Sept. 3. Drills have tapered off during this week as the footballers have been concentrating on polishing up their offense and defense.

The Tar football team also spent some time reviewing the films of last season's game with Menlo, which the Tars lost, 12-0. Menlo uses a wide open Pro T offense, with split end and wide flankerbacks.

The College of Marin starting lineup tomorrow will be:

The balance of the Tar roster includes Tom Baker (5-8, 170); Mike Crean (5-10, 160); Dan Collins (5-10, 180); Ray Edwards (6-0, 188); Dave Shore (5-11, 170); Dave Simmonds (5-9½, 140); Bob Zumwalt (5-6, 170); Scott Moriarty (6-1, 204); Dennis White (5-10, 215); Bill Callister (5-10, 185); Tony Cusimano (6-1, 184); Lyle Baucom (6-5, 248); Don Ippolito (6-0, 250); Warren Nickel (6-1, 205); Kelly Scott (6-0, 206); Ken Wolcott (5-10, 190); Curt Davis (5-8, 174); Glade Grenke (5-11, 190); John Omli (5-11, 185); Bob Souza (5-7, 170); Dwight Stewart (5-10, 180); and John Storrs (6-2, 212).

Boat Owners: Here's A Sure Cure For Those Uninvited Weekenders

They have been dropping in on the boat owner every weekend. They are as much a part of summer as sunburn and mosquitoes. They are ravenous. And hungry. Also terribly thirsty.

They are that great multitude of uninvited weekenders who drop by to say hello. And to take a look at your "wonderful boat." They come as far away as Lower Zambezi, and tell you a friend of a friend said to look you up.

There's still time to chop up that welcome mat on your dock, scatter tacks around the head and put ipecac in the beer. A smallpox sign on your craft's windshield is a tiny bit obvious—but you can't get too defensive.

If you hear dogs barking, kids screaming and a horn tooting, find the aspirin and swallow two. This gang will help you market. They love to. But before you can put hamburger, beans, cheap beer and "rat trap" cheese into your basket, they will have it loaded. Such dainties. Filet mignon, champagne, lobster, and jars from romantic far-away places. And you with $4.83 until payday. If you're ambidextrous and quick you can slip some of it back on the shelves. But, when you get to the checking stand, you are ALONE. They're reading magazines.

They're very particular. Food must be hot — and on time. Drinks, cold—and all the time. This crowd is spry enough to untidy your boat, yet, when the galley is a horror of dirty dishes, they all sink into a deep coma.

Never forget to yank your ship-to-shore phone wires out by the roots or you'll be sorry. And the telephone company will be able to declare an extra dividend.

When they leave, never bother to count your silverware, or towels. Just count the kids. They've probably left you one of theirs.

One boat owner we know licked this racket. He put a huge sign on his boat which read:

RATES
BREAKFAST ..Stew, $2.50
LUNCH .....Stew, $3.50
DINNER .....Stew $4.50

So far the City Fathers, Board of Equalization and County Planners haven't spotted his sign.

"LOOK FOR the Blue Ribbon Hull with the Two-Year Guarantee." This is Dorsett's new 1963 slogan. Actually, they do have a blue ribboned waterline. According to Harold Taylor and George Manz of Channel Boat Sales, Inc., "Two new hull designs will be presented. Our 16 and 17-foot runabouts, hardtops and cruisers will make the scene at Channel in two to three weeks. The boat buyer will find them new in every way. Soft ride, new appointments, wonderful performance. From 16 feet up, models will also be available with inboard-outdrive. Choice of motors includes the Volvo, Mercruiser, and the Eaton in 100 h.p. and the 120 h.p. V8.

THE CRUISING CLUB members of Sausalito held their annual pot luck dinner Wednesday evening. Arriving by boat, car and "hoof" the affair was termed a dandy. Commodore Dick Hayes, of San Francisco, has charge of the active group of boaters who own boats sized from dinghies to yachts, and their club house fronts the bay, next to Sausalito Boat Yard.

ONCE UPON a time Chris Craft went a little "hog wild." . . . For one year it built a sleekly beautiful craft, along the lines of the unlimited-class Gold-Cup racing hydros. It rooster-tailed away on three down-draft carbs and 131 "horses." Yet, showing everything but a profit for the company, it priced itself right off the market. That's the way it happened back in 1955.

BOB KNUDSEN, Chris Craft Sales, has one, in marvelous condition. "It's truly a collector's item, and today they're very hard to find," he told us. Anyone wanting to see a zippy orphan, is welcome to take a look.

QUESTION: Isn't an outboard motor supposed to flip up when it hits something? My 50 h.p. didn't. . . . I almost flipped, and lost part of the lower unit.

Disillusioned, Stinson Beach

ANSWER: If you have a split second choice, hit a log or sandbar head on. Never at an angle. Your mounted motor has the ability to swing up when the lower unit strikes an obstacle. Then it usually swings down and continues operation. But, it can't tip correctly when it hits at an angle. And on the subject of motor tilting: Be sure it won't tilt and wham your back-seat passenger on the back of his head. Test-tilt for clearance.

COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Missouri Favored By 10 Over Bears

By UP INTERNATIONAL

BERKELEY — University of California tackle Lauren Bock, out of action for four days with a charley horse, worked out with the Bear varsity today and was expected to start against Missouri Saturday.

The Bears held their final heavy contact scrimmage prior to the Missouri game, yesterday. The teams will meet at Berkeley. Missouri is a 10-point favorite.

STANFORD LINEUP

Coach Jack Curtice and his Stanford Indians left today for New Orleans and the season opener against Tulane tomorrow night.

Curtice picked his starters yesterday, including ends Steve Pursell and Frank Patitucci, tackles Chuck Buehler and Bob Nichols, guards Marv Harris and Frank Dubofsky, center C. B. Simons, quarterback Steve Thurlow, halfbacks J. D. Lodato and Gordon Craig, and fullback Ed Cummings.

CRIPPLED DUCKS

EUGENE, Ore. — The crippled Oregon Ducks left by plane today for Austin, Tex., and Saturday night's season inaugural with the rugged Longhorns of Texas.

The Ducks will work out tonight and tomorrow at Austin. The Texas game will be the first varsity experience for quarterback Bob Berry, who took over when veteran Doug Post was declared out for the season after suffering a knee injury in practice.

BEAVERS PASS

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Oregon State's Beavers drilled on their passing game yesterday in a light practice prior to Saturday night's opener against Iowa State at Portland.

Coach Tommy Prothro said halfback Leroy Whittle was in shape and would be ready for the Iowa State game. Prothro said starting quarterback Terry Baker and reserves Rich Brooks and Gordon Queen looked sharp in yesterday's drill.

SPARTAN CHANGES

SAN JOSE — Coach Bob Titchenal said his San Jose State football team would look a little different Saturday against Washington State than it did in losing to Utah State last week.

TIGERS DRILL

STOCKTON — University of Pacific's Tigers hoping to win their second in a row when they play New Mexico State at Las Cruces Saturday night, worked out yesterday against their opponents' formations.

The Tigers opened the season last week with a 26-7 win over Brigham Young.

'Kids' Take Over U.S. Amateur

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) —The "kids" have taken over the 62nd U. S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Going into today's fifth and sixth rounds after two rounds yesterday cut the field to 16, lighthearted Bill Joe Patton, Morganton, N. C., lumber broker, was the "old man" of the field at 40.

Bob Allen of West Hartford, Conn., 38-year-old sales engineer for a steel company, and 31-year-old Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N. C. automobile dealer, are the only other survivors over 25. Eight of the others are 24 or less and three still are in their teens. Nine are collegians.

So devasting has been the sweep of the young and hungry set that there's not a former champion around and only three men of the nine on the list being considered for the four-man U. S. team going to Japan next month for the world championship team matches. Patton, Smith and Arkansan Dick Sikes, 22-year-old winner of the last two Public Links titles make up the trio.

WARD ELIMINATED

Such notables as former champions Dick Chapman, Harvie Ward and Deane Beman and Dr. Edgar Updegraff and Marion Methvin, semi-finalist last year, went out during the third and fourth rounds yesterday.

Beman was vanquished by Homero Blancas, 24, of the University of Houston, in a 24-hole marathon in the fourth round after each had breezed to victory in the morning.

Blancas opened the fifth round today against the "baby" of the field, 18-year-old Dave Marad, Massachusetts schoolboy champion from Milton, who is going to sharpen his game this winter while serving as a bellboy on the staff of a nearby resort hotel.

ONE-UP MARGINS

Patton went up against John McKey Jr., 19, of Orlando, Fla., and Duke University, who won a pair of 1-up matches from Don Albert, a semi-finalist nine years ago, and Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion.

The other four spots in the upper half of the draw all were filled by collegians. Labron Harris Jr., 20, of Oklahoma State, son of the professional golfer, met 22-year-old Sikes. The championship of Athens was at stake, among other things, when Bob Littler, 19, of Ohio University and Athens, Ohio, played Jim Gabrielson, 20, of the University of Georgia and Athens, Ga.

Ringey Gets New Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Ringey, who has a good chance of being named American League manager of 1962, has just been named manager of 1963 and 1964 by the Los Angeles Angels.

Ringey, who will probably finish third with a team that was supposedly destined for oblivion said his new two- year contract "is the fattest I've ever had."

Ringey was believed to be making about $33,000 under his original contract. The new one may put him in the $40,000 bracket, or even higher.

Sports Car Club To Present 'Ye Half Vast Trials'

The Universal Sports Car Club will present the second annual "Ye Half Vast Trials" on Oct. 14, three miles north of San Rafael and one mile west of Highway 101 on the Lucas Valley Road.

The event is an autocross type, simulating driving conditions of the early 1900s, on unpaved ground. The course will not include mud, water or rocks.

Proceeds of the event will go to the Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. Some 31 trophies will go to the winners of various classes and divisions.

The course is on 200 acres of rolling hills, according to event officials. Persons interested in entering should write to: Rallye Master, 1145 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Halas Honored By Sonoma Group

SONOMA (UPI) — George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, was made an honorary member of the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The chamber conferred membership on Halas after he credited the "marvelous curative waters" of nearby Boyes Springs for the Bears' opening upset 30-14 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

Hair-Raising Price

NEW YORK (UPI) — The women's wig fad has sent up the price of human hair. One Chicago wig maker says he pays as much as $10 an ounce for top quality hair, or $4 more than a year ago. Hair imports last year totaled $280,000 but have already topped that figure this year.

COUNTRY CLUB

Morris, Viv Gray In Keg Spotlight

Keith Morris ripped off the high series and high game for the men and Vivian Gray led all the women at San Rafael's County Club Bowl competition during the past week, Manager Zeno Gelatti reported yesterday.

Morris, rolling in the 900 Classic League, blasted a 656 series that included a whopping 276 solo to walk off with top honors. In the same league some other top efforts were a 615 by Bud Kimmell, 602 by Frank Therriault, 236 by Laurie Migliore and 235 by Lynn McDaniels.

Mrs. Gray, meanwhile, was firing a beautiful 632 three-gamer in the Sleepers League with high lines of 233 and 212.

Other impressive performances during the week were Tom Masi's 267 line in the Thursday Men's Handicap; Gelatti's consistent 211-209-200—620 in the Friday Lake Tahoe League; Ken Moser's 266, Frank Keaton's 248 and Fred Braunschweiger's 237 in the Mixed Lutheran League and Ed Posusney's 238 in the Elks circuit.

In the Sunday sweepstages tourney John Mallon, Joe Kenny and Larry Asay were one-two-three while in the "Bowl for Strikes" competition Fletcher Bates rolled six straight to collect $50 prize.

Openings are still available in adult leagues as well as the junior and bantam programs on Saturday mornings, Gelatti reported.

High scores at Country Club during the past week:

Club Plans Buck Hunt This Week; Annual Run Of Stripers Under Way

STEVENS

A special outing notice for a deer hunt submitted by the always active Southern Pacific Rod and Gun Club came in the mail, advising that a camp will be made on Shady Creek in Nevada County, four miles south of North San Juan, near French Corral. All members are to bring food, sleeping bag, rifle, ammunition, canteen and deer tag.

Of particular interest is a P.S. reading: "Please sight in rifles before hunt—fire at least five shots to make sure it's shooting where it's looking!"

Another item of interest is the following: "In accordance with usual practice, the hunter who kills a deer will take half, the other half being divided among the other hunters."

JUDGING by the report from the Department of Fish and Game the boys should have fairly good luck. Of Nevada County, the department says: "Nevada—Most private and public lands within the national forest are accessible and unposted. Roads are in good condition and numerous four-wheel drive roads exist. Deer are scattered and hunting success will be best above the 4,500-foot elevation. Bucks are in good condition. Fawn survival and buck carryover were good except on the east side where they were low."

THE SEASON on bear also opens on Saturday. Don't forget a bear tag (costing $1) is necessary and, also bear in mind, when hunting bears during the open season on deer, only one dog per hunter is allowed.

TO ANSWER a request — It is legal to use a shotgun for the taking of both deer and bear PROVIDED said shotgun is capable of holding only three shells, firing single slugs. So the lack of a highpowered rifle need not deter you from hunting deer or bear.

If using a shotgun firing single slugs, you should sight the weapon in as you should with the rifle.

OF COURSE, if you heed the advice of the fish and game scouts and wait until the last two weeks of the late deer season to down your buck, and intend to supply the family with fish food this weekend, how about trying bait fishing on light tackle in the San Pablo Bay?

No question but what the annual run of fresh stripers is now under way. Use bullheads or sardines or anchovies, if the winds behave, and your chances are very very good of making the grade with some nice fish.

Bear in mind that the ONLY condition which can slow down or halt the fast fishing now and for the next few weeks is wind in copious quantities.

So, I feel safe in signing off with my usual, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Bermuda Palms Baseballers Win

Litchfield's Bermuda Palms downed the Ben Franklin Press 7-6 Sunday during San Francisco C. League baseball action for boys 15 and under.

The Palms spotted the pressmen four runs in the first two innings and came back with a run in the second and four more in the third inning on their way to the victory. John Laufer, Dan Bell and Mark Maas each collected two of the winner's hits.

Winning pitcher was Ken Fowler for the Bermuda Palms nine.

S.F. Giants Sign Harvard Athlete

BINGHAM, Mass. (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants had a Harvard man under contract today.

Crimson captain Dave Morse yesterday signed with San Francisco and will report to the club's 1963 training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz.

Morse, a shortstop, batted .446 this summer for Sagamore to lead the upper Cape Cod Amateur Baseball League.

NOVATAN TO CAPTAIN OSC

George Gnoss (above) 6-1, 200-pound senior guard from Novato, will captain the Oregon State Beavers this season. He and teammate Dick DeBisschop of San Anselmo expect to see considerable action in opener tomorrow against Iowa State. DeBisschop, 6-0, 192-pounds, is a senior center on the Oregon State team.

49er Pass Defense NFL's Best

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers were clobbered by the Chicago Bears in last Sunday's first NFL contest, but you would never know it looking at league statistics.

The Prospectors lead in six departments, mainly because they held the Bears' Billy Wade to 13 yards on 13 passes while collapsing before Chicago's running attack.

The statistics also presented a warning for the 49ers, who meet Detroit at the Motor City Sunday.

The Lions' Milt Plum leads all passers after hitting 21 of 30 passes for 251 yards and three touchdowns.

The 49er-Lion game will therefore pit the league's best pass defense against the top passer.

RAIDER FORMULA

OAKLAND (UPI) — Oakland Raiders defensive coach Red Conkright today gave the formula for beating Dallas next Sunday.

"To beat Dallas, you have to contain Abner Haynes," he said.

He said the best way to do this was to keep him from going around end. "If you keep Haynes inside and force him to cut back, then our pursuit has a chance to nail him before he gets up a head of steam."

Dallas meets the Raiders here Sunday. It will mark the debut of ex-Dallas quarterback Cotton Davidson at the controls of the Oakland offense.

Aussie Net Ace To Compete In Berkeley

BERKELEY (AP) — The Berkeley Tennis Club said today Australia's Roy Emerson, ranked No. 2 among the world's tennis singles stars, will compete in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships opening here Monday.

THIS WEEKEND

Marinites Enter Reno Grand Prix

Marin County residents will play an active part in the second annual Reno Grand Prix this weekend at Stead Air Force Base, 12 miles north of Reno.

Duane Rice, 30-year-old auto salesman off 8 Oak Way, Ross will make his debut in Bud Oden's modified Triumph racing car. The College of Marin graduate has been racing since 1954, but this will be his first ride in the main event.

Open-wheeled formula junior cars will be the mounts of two Corte Madera men, Harry Martin Jr., 940 Meadowsweet, and Bill Dunne, 21 Pixley. Martin, who took second overall at the Oakland Grand Prix in July, races a Lotus 22, while Dunne pilots an older Lotus 18.

JUNIOR CONTESTS

Stro Jones, 275 Van Winkle Drive, San Anselmo, and his neighbor, Mike Worlund of 113 Van Winkle Drive, also will compete in the formula junior contests at Reno. Jones, former president of the Racing Drivers Club, will drive a Lotus 20, while Worlund competes in his BMC junior.

Two Marin women—Mrs. Odette Bigler, 830 La Playa Way, San Rafael, and Prudence Baxter, 3 Princess Lane, Sausalito, are slated to drive in the weekend races.

San Rafael contractor Charles Kuhn has entered his Porsche at Reno. Kuhn, of 510 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, took third in class at Cotati in August.

Frank Morrill will pit Kjell Qvale's XK-E against the Corvettes in the races for big production cars. The San Anselmo driver took second overall at Cotati earlier this year. He resides at 281 Oak Crest Road.

The local drivers will compete with some 200 other competitors, including Billy Krause of Long Beach in a Birdcage Maserati, Woolworth heir Lance Reventlow in his new Scarab, Don Hulette of Van Nuys in a Porsche RS-61 and Max Balchowsky in his "Old Yellar III."

The Reno Grand Prix is sponsored by the Reno Lions Club and underwritten by Harrah's-Reno for charity. The 14-race program will be conducted by the San Francisco Region, Sports Car Club of America, beginning at 9 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

Education Program Approved In Novato

The 1962-63 adult education program at Novato High School was approved Tuesday night by trustees of Novato Unified School District.

This year's program will offer a choice of classes similar to last year's, according to Robert McKeay, principal.

One course to be offered for the first time is "understanding securities investing," which will be taught by James Kethereid of Petaluma. It will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Other courses include clothing, woodshop, crafts, typing, citizenship preparation, bookkeeping, English for the foreign born, and business machines.

McKeay said that if enough people indicate a desire for any subject, it will be considered for a course.

Additional information can be had by phoning Novato High School, McKeay stated.

Sausalito Library Unit Backs Foundation Night

Friends of the Sausalito Library announced today they are assisting the Sausalito Foundation Inc. in presentation of the third annual Foundation Night to be held early in November. Proceeds are to go toward a new library.

At their meeting Monday Mrs. Marianne Schwartz was appointed treasurer to succeed Mrs. Edith Kodmur. It was announced that persons interested in joining the organization may communicate with Mrs. Lloyd S. Linton Sr. of 27 Edwards Avenue.

Wall Street, New York, was one of the first publicly lighted streets in the nation.

Marin State Assembly Candidates To Speak

Marin County candidates for State Assembly will speak at the Redwood High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Sept. 25 under sponsorship of the Redwood Political Club, a campus student group.

Incumbent Republican William Bagley and his Democratic opponent, Robert Carrow, will discuss capital punishment and the teaching of communism in the schools.

Larkspur School Chief Screening Set

The screening committee for a new superintendent of Larkspur School District will spend all day Saturday interviewing a dozen candidates, it was announced today.

The 12 have been selected from 50 applicants, some living as far away as Pennsylvania, said chairman Richard L. Foster of Greenbrae.

The interviews will be conducted at the Hilton Inn at San Francisco International Airport. Some candidates will fly in that day, said Foster.

From the 12 candidates, the committee will select three to five to recommend to Larkspur School District trustees, Foster said.

Opening At HAFB

Applications may be obtained from postoffices for civil service positions of supervising airplane pilot in the air reserve technician program at Hamilton Air Force Base. The pay is $10,635 per year.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Paradise Cove Couple Sailing To Europe For Extended Tour

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hite of Paradise Cove sailed for Europe on the SS Rotterdam. After an extensive tour of the continent they will board the SS United States for the return cruise on the Atlantic. Several bon voyage parties were given in honor of the Hites.

FIVE COUPLES returned Monday from a delightful and unusual trip. In the party were the Ralston Hodgsons, Rowland Chapmans, H. Wallace Hickmans, Donald Perrys, of Marin and the Francis Donohues of Chico. They stayed at Laughing Waters, a resort on the Mackenzie River about 50 miles from Eugene, Ore. The Perrys flew north and the others traveled in two cars. The thrilling part of the vacation, which began Sept. 7, was shooting the rapids in boats with guides. That was when the best fishing was done.

THE JOSEPH JOHNSONS of Tiburon recently entertained her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver of New York City who were their houseguests for several weeks. The Johnsons gave a cocktail party and dinner in honor of the Weavers. The visitors also went to Lake Tahoe during their stay in California.

NANCY RITTER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ritter of Greenbrae, and Pam Gordon of Los Altos, both French majors at Stanford University and roommates, will study at the Sorbonne in Paris for their junior year. The girls will live with a family near the Sorbonne. Nancy and Pam will sail from New York on the S.S. France Sept. 28 and will visit a friend of Pam at Le Havre before going on to Paris. Nancy is a graduate of Katharine Branson School.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD G. SELLERS of San Rafael have returned from a cruise to Alaska on the S.S. Yukon Star. They went to Seattle first to see the World Fair for two days, then to Vancouver, B.C. where they boarded the ship. The cruise included stops at Ketchikan, Port Chilkoot, Haines, Skagway and Juneau. They saw the Mendenhall Glacier. At Skagway they took a trip by train to Lake Bennett where evidence of the gold rush remains. Enroute home Mr. and Mrs. Sellers went to Victoria, B.C.

A NUMBER of Marin people will attend the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Foris of Mill Valley are giving tonight in honor of Janos Ferencsik, following the final curtain of the opera Carmen. He is making his American debut as conductor of the opera. The maestro is general music director of the Budapest Opera. Mr. and Mrs. Foris are Hungarians and he studied under the direction of Ferencsik in Budapest. He is the accomplished cellist of the Marin Symphony.

Among the guests will be Sona Cervena, who is making her American debut in the role of Carmen, and Michael Lengdon, another singer in the opera. Present from Marin county will be Dr. and Mrs. William Pemberton, Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Meacham, Harold Schutte, Robert Schultz, Wayne Speckmann, Tibor Fecskes, D. B. Fyfe, George F. Weisbach, Edgar Framm, George Gelardi, George Goheen, Sam Herst, Tibor Szilas, William Parker, and Mrs. Jean Mattos Maguire.

MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN MILLER of Belvedere entertained many houseguests during the summer. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson of Santa Barbara and their daughters, Linda and Lauren, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sugich and their sons, Mike, Pete and David, who also live in the channel city. Donald Casey of Milwaukee, Wis., and Miss Mary McDonough and Miss Heather Amans, both of Los Angeles.

MRS. DOROTHY EBERWEIN has returned to her home in Loch Lomond after attending the Home Organ Festival held at Hoberg's in Lake County for a week.

MR. AND MRS. JACK HITE

Tutorial Robots Head To School

STANFORD (UPI) — By 1971, every major school, college and university will have at least one closed-circuit television system, primarily for demonstration, laboratory, and observation.

The prediction is based on a study by the Institute for Communications Research of Stanford University.

The report estimated that in elementary and secondary schools about a third of the students' class time will be spent in front of television sets.

At the college level, the percentage is expected to be 50 per cent.

The large television-taught classes will be balanced by small discussion groups where questions can be answered, arguments put forth and knowledge sharpened.

On Hand For Fall

Gloves are truly touched with individualized and unique accents. Fur cuffs, draped effects, rows of buttons and fabrics printed to look like fur or snakeskin are incoming novelties.

Talk On Church Art Set In Mill Valley

Walter Schmidt, San Francisco artist, will be the guest speaker at the fall luncheon meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen at the Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley, on Wednesday.

Born in Europe, Schmidt studied at the Folkwang School, a branch of Bauhaus, and also at the Leipzig State Academy.

The Schmidts cmae to North America in 1951 and lived in Canada for 10 years before coming with their three children to San Francisco. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt are active in the Artists' Cooperative in San Francisco.

Schmidt's pictures represent a new and original approach to church art. Using shapes of pure color which create a feeling of light he has composed collages, both abstract and semi-abstract. They are similar to stained glass windows, an art in which he is also interested. Symbols play a part in his personal interpretation of Biblical scenes and parables.

Schmidt will explain what he wants to communicate through his pictures and how he has conveyed this meaning.

No reservations are required. Members and friends are invited to attend both the morning meeting and luncheon that will follow in Hammond Hall of the church.

Upsilon Gamma To Fete Pledges

A rush party for 10 new pledges of Novato to Upsilon Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harris, 481 Blackstone Dr. in San Rafael at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

Club Plans Meet For New Section

Members of the San Rafael Improvement Club are invited to attend the first meeting of the American Home section of the club Monday, at 9:30 a.m. at the clubhouse.

This organization meeting is designed to let those interested in such a section indicate their choices for program emphasis, possible workshops, and exchanges of ideas so the group can be tailored to suit.

Mrs. Cletus J. Fitzharris is chairman of the group with Mrs. Louis L. Walsh as co-chairman.

Temperance Is Taught Youngsters By Example, Not Phoney Experiments

Temperance is important. But we aren't teaching it successfully. Recently I visited some high schools to find out why. What I saw bothered me. Did you know some high school temperance teachers still perform phony experiments in front of the class? Experiments identical to the ones we laughed at long ago. Their testbooks have improved, but only a little.

Temperance teachers, throw your books and paraphernalia out the window! Then subscribe to the daily papers. Have your pupils list the accidents reported in them. Have them interview the officers who investigate the crashes. Get them to find out which ones were caused by drinking. Have them find out how many deaths occur each year in your city, county and state because of drunk driving. And how many injuries, and how much property damage. Have them go to see the chief of police and the sheriff, to ask how much other crime comes from alcohol. Then they'll begin to get the picture.

Bring real experts into class to talk. Leading members of Alcoholics Anonymous, for example. A police judge, a deputy district attorney, a cop on a night beat in a slum. That will round out the teen-agers' education effectively.

I've seen a few high school civics classes study temperance this way. The kids didn't laugh at their lessons. They learned some important lessons fast.

(A) I'm glad for your improvement. Every indication I've seen elsewhere points to a continued increase in drinking by American teenagers.

Sleep Is Greatest Beauty Treatment You Can Recive

Whether you realize it or not, about one-third of your life is spent undergoing the best beauty treatment obtainable. It doesn't cost you a cent, yet its effects are better than the most expensive salon can offer.

Your best beauty treatment is a good night's sleep. While you are sleeping, your body relaxes and your cells rebuild. If you have slept well, you awake feeling rejuvenated and you look it. If you haven't slept well, you feel tense and snappish, and your looks reflect this feeling.

Here are a few tips to help you to restful, relaxing sleep:

Unwind before bedtime. Well before the time you usually retire, begin to taper off on your daily activities. Don't maintain the frantic rush of chores right up until bedtime. Complete your hair set, facials, ironing and other jobs at least a half-hour before you plan to retire. Use that time to relax your nerves and body in preparation for the time you turn off the lights and close your eyes.

A WARM BATH is the ideal way to relax before bedtime. As your body soaks up the warmth and your muscles relax, let your troubles slip out of your mind.

Be sure you sleep on a pillow. The main purpose of a pillow is not to provide a soft resting place for your head, but a prop to help keep your head in the same position relative to your body and shoulders as when you're awake.

You need a firm mattress to give your muscles the support they need while they gain the benefits of nightly relaxation.

FRESH AIR while you are sleeping is the best preparation for a sparkling awakening. Make sure you have enough bedclothes to keep you warm during the night, but open your windows to let in fresh air.

If you've preceded your bedtime with a period of relaxation for your body and mind, you shouldn't have much trouble dropping off to sleep. Even if you're still slightly wakeful after the lights are out, you can help welcome sleep by consciously relaxing your muscles, starting at the toes and working up.

How much sleep you need is up to you. You'll know when you've had enough sleep by the manner in which you awaken. If your sleep has been restful and long enough to meet your body's needs, you'll wake up feeling refreshed.

PLANNING A June wedding are Susan Nancy Darnell of San Anselmo and Cadet Everett William Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark.

Susan Nancy Darnell Engaged

The engagement of Susan Nancy Darnell to Cadet Everett William Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Darnell of San Anselmo.

Susan was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is a student at the College of Marin.

The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark., was graduated from Fayetteville High School and attended the University of Arkansas. He will be graduated from the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs in June. Everett is the brother of Mrs. Donald Stewart of Scotland.

The couple is planning a June wedding.

LIKE PEOPLE

Our Pets Are Multiplying, Too

FAIR LAWN, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Jane Williamson doesn't think the population explosion hereabouts is just a two-footed problem.

The slender, attractive veterinarian works a 12- to 13-hour day 6 days a week, treating a burgeoning number of dogs, cats and other pets.

"So many people are coming out of the city. They've never had an animal before, so they get one," she says.

"The animals are subject to about the same diseases as humans. They get asthma, heart trouble, leukemia . . . and like their owners, dogs and cats don't seem to be getting enough exercise."

"I do think that cantagious diseases need more careful watching from all this crowding. If one dog gets sick, all the other dogs on his block are apt to follow suit."

The veterinarian would therefore be happier if people were better informed about vaccines that are available to guard the health of their pets.

"People rush in for shots when their pets get sick, but inoculation must be given to a well animal, not a sick one, you know."

She lifts the chin of a Persian cat with a hugely swollen cheek. Deftly she pries open its jaws and peers into its mouth. The cat surprisingly makes no to-do.

"This one has an abcessed tooth. I'll have to pull it."

Dr. Williamson remembers the man who was especially concerned about his dog's eyes.

"He said, 'She watches television by the hour and we're worried. She likes cartoons, anmal things and especially sports. When it's football or tennis or any kind of ball is thrown, she'll run up and down the way she will for our bring-the-ball game outside. We often leave the television on for her when we go out.'"

Dr. Williamson's verdict: television didn't hurt the cocker's eyes and she should be allowed to watch as much as she wanted.

"Animals can best be compared to little children in their behavior. Like children they often need a firm hand, a confident direction," she adds.

Among the saddest cases are those where an owner has died and "we know the animal would not be happy with a son or daughter or a new family and I am asked to put him to sleep."

One especially that gripped her was the case of a magnificent, healthy German shepherd.

Over the years the big dog had been tormented by a little neighbor dog of the yip-yap variety. One day the yipper moved in too close. The Shepherd took one bite, and that was it for Mr. Tease.

The Shepherd's owner mournfully brought his pet in to be destroyed.

"The man kept saying, 'it wasn't his fault, it wasn't his fault.'"

Dr. Williamson belongs to three veterinary associations in the New York metropolitan area. She goes to their meetings because "they're helpful for keeping up with the latest in my profession." Usually she's the only woman attending.

Does Dr. Williamson have a pet of her own?

Oh yes, "Abbe, age 8 months, part Poodle and part Terrier.

"A man brought her with others of a litter to be put to sleep. She was 10 days old and her eyes were closed. I brought her up on a bottle."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Easier To Play Well On Paper Than At The Bridge Table

It's easier to play well on a piece of paper than at the bridge table. For example, you'll see the danger in today's hand and you'll spot the right play.

Good for you. But would you see them if you held the South hand at the bridge table?

South saw nothing dangerous in the hearts. He'd have been worried if he held something obviously weak, such as K-x, but who worries about Q-10-8-3?

SOUTH WON

So South won the first club and started the diamonds with the queen and then a low diamond to dummy. He continued with a third and fourth diamond, giving a trick to East.

Since West had discarded a low spade and a low club, East had no trouble finding the shift to the five of hearts.

South put in the ten, and West won with the jack. West returned a low heart to the ace, and back came another heart.

SOME DANGER

That's when South first realized that he was in trouble. By this time, of course, it was too late for him to do anything. The defenders took a diamond and four hearts, defeating the contract.

If you're going to protect yourself against mishaps of his kind, your first step is to see that the danger is directional. You are safe if West starts the hearts, but not if East does.

Try the safe line of play. Win the first club with dummy's ace and lead the ten of diamonds from dummy for a finesse. It happens to win, so you collect five diamonds and a total of ten tricks in a hurry.

JUST IMAGINE

But imagine that West is able to win the first diamond. He returns a low heart to the ace. A heart comes through you, and West beats anything you play. What next? How can the defenders get more than three heart tricks?

In short, you can afford to give up a diamond trick to West, but not to East.

Add Q-10-8-x to your little list of combinations that are safe only if led to by the opponent at your left.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Sept. 20, the 263rd day of 1962 with 102 to follow in 1962.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1960, the United Nations admitted 13 African countries in the opening of a turbulent General Assembly session attended by several Communist leaders, including Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuba's Fidel Castro.

A thought for the day: Swedish statesman Axel Oxenstiern said: "Behold, my son, with how little wisdom the world is governed."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Supervisors Deserve Praise For Start To Redistricting

It is indeed heartening to find the Marin Board of Supervisors taking a definite interest in redistricting the county's supervisorial districts.

On Tuesday, Supervisors William Fusselman and Peter Behr (not noted for thinking alike on many things) united to push through a resolution ordering the county counsel to instruct them on procedures necessary to bring about redistricting.

The resolution, passed by a 4 to 0 vote —with George Ludy absent, showed an improved interest on the part of Supervisors Walter Castro and William Gnoss in the subject.

Actually, it appears quite normal that Fusselman and Behr would lead the move for redistricting if anyone on the board is to lead it. Behr has been outspoken on the need for it; Fusselman, as he himself pointed out, "won't be here" when the redistricting could become effective because he has indicated he won't run for re-election.

Fusselman, then, finds himself in a position to do a fine service to the county as a whole. He has become the logical man, one who knows all about the problems and inequities of the present districting (he alone represents more than twice as many residents as Gnoss and Ludy combined), and one who has nothing to lose because of the outcome.

It could be a fine project of county-wide importance with which Fusselman could round out his many, many years of service on the board.

But because the supervisors have evidenced this initial interest in the project is no reason for the county's citizens and organizations to relax and forget about it.

If Fusselman or any of the other supervisors are going to spearhead the drive for redistricting, they will need citizen support. And if they start to falter, citizen insistence that the job be done.

There is much difference between asking for a legal road map toward redistricting and reaching the destination.

We cheer Behr and Fusselman and the other supervisors for asking for the right route; we urge the citizens to get together and start paving the way.

Memo To A Friendly Skunk

Sir:

Please desist! Either your aim is poor or you have recently suffered great provocation outside our bedroom window.

We have known each other's families for 16 years off and on and we know you are a steady, family fellow. We also know that your clan were prior settlers on our Marin land.

During our long acquaintance, we have often met and exchanged greetings in the gardens. And we have always respected each other's privacy.

But your conduct in recent weeks has been alarming. Please keep us out of your private quarrels. Use a little more restraint. You are straining our friendship.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

500 Workers Go Out To Collect Democrat Dollars This Weekend

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Nearly 500 Marin County workers, most of them women, will participate Saturday and Sunday in the annual Dollars For Democrats drive. As planned, there is one or more workers for every one of the approximately 325 precincts in the county. Last year, more than $5,000 were contributed by slightly more than 4,000 individuals.

Organization of this massive activity is being done by the chairman, Mrs. Robert Westberg of Mill Valley. These are some of her area chairmen:

Mrs. George Renworth and Don Slichter, Ross Valley; Mrs. John Collier, Muir Beach; Duane Beeson, Tiburon-Belvedere; Mrs. Carl Schaefer, Strawberry; Mrs. Hurford Sharon, Bolinas and Stinson Beach; Mrs. John Stone, Terra Linda; Frank Kleineman, San Rafael; Frank Phillips, Marin City.

Frank King, Fairfax; Misses Mary and Helen Henry, Corte Madera; Mrs. Joseph Guthrie, Ross; Mrs. Lawrence Keilman, Greenbrae; Mrs. Ben Solomon, Kentfield; Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Sausalito; Mrs. Preble Stolz, Mill Valley; Mrs. John McRee, Outer Mill Valley; Frank Solomon, Marinwood; Bob Mertle, Santa Venetia.

George deTuncq, Novato; Mrs. William Straus, Marshall and Pt. Reyes; Mrs. Walter Coppock, Woodacre and Lagunitas.

NIXON HEADQUARTERS are opening all over the place. Newest one is in Novato which opened Monday, but the most interesting is the one in Belvedere due to open the 29th.

Mrs. Merritt Ruddick of Tiburon is in charge of running it, but her husband will be her principal assistant.

Interesting point here is that she's a Republican and he's a Democrat. He's just been appointed both Marin County and Northern California chairman of the Democrats for Nixon organization.

TOMORROW IS, of course, a big day for the Democrats—cocktails at the Flax's home in Ross, then dinner with Governor Brown at the Meadow Club, followed by dancing.

But Republicans would have a harder time doing everything there is to do: Luncheon with Mayor and Mrs. George Christopher at Dominics; tea with Mrs. Don Clausen at Mrs. Marjorie Chaille's home in San Anselmo; a visit to the old sailing ship Balclutha at Fisherman's Wharf to honor (and benefit) Tom Coakley, and dinner with Don Clausen at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

(Footnote: Brown for governor; Christopher for lieutenant governor; Clausen for Congress; Coakley for attorney general, if you've forgotten.)

AS A RESULT of politics, the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation will hold a victory cocktail party and dinner Oct. 4 at Sabella's. They hope Congress will have adjourned so that Senators Thomas Kuchel and Clair Engle and Rep. Clem Miller, all of whom put in bills to establish the national seashore, will be on hand to celebrate.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Governor To Act On Ballot Failing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

You will recall that following our inability to cast an absentee ballot at the last primary election, due to inadequate information on the sample ballot sent to us, and upon learning the same thing happened to service men at Hamilton Field, we sent a telegram to Governor Brown calling his attention to the situation. You printed this telegram in your columns.

We believe you will be pleased to know that the governor replied as follows:

"Thank you for your telegram regarding a need for more notification and information about absentee ballots.

"Our inquiry of the Secretary of State about this indicates a need for more information to the voter, and we will keep this proposal on hand for consideration during the 1963 legislative session.

"Again, my thanks for your concern."

EDMUND G. BROWN
Governor

Our deep thanks to you, and the governor, for excellent public service.

Try The New Dial O System

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Having noted a recent concern in your letters column regarding digit-dialing, and having received (as most readers doubtless also did) the telephone company's new educaional piece on "DIAL 1," I have a brief and easily-remembered suggestion.

Instead of remembering to "dial 1," remembering the "area code" and then remembering the additional seven digits required to henceforth reach a friend or business associate, my suggestion requires only recollecting one digit.

With apologies to the telephone company for copying their title, I call it the Dial O system, and I heartily recommend it to all users.

In the Dial O system, one merely inserts the right forefinger in the dial space marked "O," moves it clockwise until it stops, and then releases same. In a moment, a friendly voice comes onto the line—a person far better trained to move through the digital morass of modern-day telephoning than I—and this person, more times than not, is able to direct the proper automatons to move in the proper fashion, to complete my call.

I heartily recommend to all that Dial O be adopted as your system. In addition to its simplicity and error-free operation, if adopted as common practice by sufficient people, it should rather quickly indicate to the telephone company how some of us feel about their multi-digit steamroller.

Why Notice To Property Owners

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have mailed the following letter:

Niels Schulz Jr.,
Commissioner
County Planning Commission
San Rafael

I am enclosing a "Notice of Hearing" concerning spot rezoning in Kentfield from single family residence to multiple dwelling; also the Independent-Journal's report of the hearing, in its September 17th issue.

If I have correctly read the news article, more than 30 residents appeared in order to protest against the rezoning, while only one party, the owner of the property, was in favor. Nevertheless the rezoning was granted.

What puzzles me is this: Why spend the public money to send out notices to interested property holders if their views are to be completely ignored? Certainly you cannot say that they were not ignored, considering the 30 to 1 majority.

Or is it possibly the fact that the law calls for such notice and the commission complies with the formality but has already made its own decision in advance?

I am sending a copy of this letter to the editor of the Independent-Journal in hopes that it may be published and further call to the attention of the reading public what I personally consider high-handed methods of the commission.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

When Washburn Attends College Board Meetings Things Happen

Trustee George G. Washburn, who has missed numerous meetings, got to the Marin Junior College District board meeting last week. Some results:

"I don't want to sound like a miser," he said of the pay to be given Istvan Nadas for a College of Marin piano recital, "but I think $300 is a lot of money." College president Stephen E. Epler thought it a bargain.

Washburn wondered whether Nadas was nationally known. "Internationally known," he was told. Clerk Kent O. Seymour's motion to approve the recital was passed.

TRUSTEES LATER voted 4-1 to send several board and administration members to the California Junior College Assn. Conference at Fresno Oct. 30-31 after Washburn said, "I never saw any trustee get anything out of this."

Trustee Robert E. Oliver, a steel firm executive noted for the jaundiced look he gives any suspected extra expense, countered, "It's good to talk with other administrators" (from outside Marin). Trustee Robert E. Rogers said, "I benefited greatly" from the conference he attended.

"I'm afraid to go for fear I'll get brainwashed," said Washburn.

Washburn then surprised the board by moving to authorize attendance at a different college conference in San Diego Dec. 3. "Hooray!" exclaimed the normally sedate Oliver.

THERE WAS quite an exchange between Washburn and board president Elizabeth M. Deedy over his complaint that he didn't want a $75,000 commission to be paid to some real estate firm when the college buys a second campus site in North Marin.

Mrs. Deedy said, "Realtors make up a sizable portion of the business community. I don't think we should alienate them."

"I'd alienate anybody for $75,000," retorted Washburn. In her soft Southern drawl Mrs. Deedy said, "Oh, George, I'm sure you're too conscientious to mean that."

Washburn shook his head. Real estate man Gene McDaniel said, "The commission wouldn't be that large."

Washburn wondered whether jobless persons to be retrained in business clerical skills would be "middle aged, in their 30s." Persons above age 40 in the room suddenly felt terribly old. When Robert Wilkens, the teacher for the special class, was being discussed, Washburn wondered whether "we'll have trouble getting rid of Wilkins" after the course is completed. "No," he was assured.

WASHBURN MADE his big campaign of the evening pressing for a course to teach bluntly in simple words that communism is slavery and hence evil and Americanism is freedom.

Dean Ellsworth R. Briggs recited a 120-word description of a three-hour adult course covering communism as included in several among a dozen hot world issues. One board member said, "Wow!" and all trustees laughed as though they suddenly had quit holding their breath.

Leonard Blomquist, acting head of Liberal Arts, thought existing day courses adequately expounded differences between the two systems.

Mild appearing librarian Charles Mastin thought present courses satisfactory and believed submitting conclusions to students would tend to make them rebel and reject the conclusions.

ON THIS SUBJECT the United Press International reported from Los Angeles Saturday the State Board of Education unanimously approved a policy statement urging a method sounding like the current College of Marin system.

The statement called "for a scholarly and objective approach to the study of communism . . . rather than indoctrination."

Only Way To Keep Cuba From Being Partisan Issue Is Tell Truth

WASHINGTON — In pouring a massive volume of Soviet arms, including military men and missiles, into Cuba, Nikita Khrushchev is embarking on a policy of brinkmanship, the end result of which cannot possibly be foreseen.

One thing is clear. The planting of Soviet power in Cuba is creating a depth of uneasiness and anxiety among the American people which can hardly be overstated.

Quite properly, President Kennedy has addressed himself to this uncertain and frustrated state of public opinion. At his latest press conference, he appealed to the Americans to "keep both their nerve and their head."

KENNEDY IS hopeful that this new stage in the Cuban crisis will not become a lacerating partisan issue in the coming elections. I know of only one way it can be prevented. That is for the President to convince the American people that they will get an absolutely straight and frank account of the gravity of what is happening and that the administration will take measures equal to the danger.

It is my present conviction —which I put down for whatever it is worth—that the administration is not yet forthrightly stating to the country the gravity of the challenge we now face, nor embracing an adequate course of action to counter and to liquidate that challenge.

AT THE OUTSET of his statement, designed to put the Cuban situation "in perspective," the President pointed out that "it is Mr. Castro" who is in trouble.

Castro's troubles don't ease our troubles one iota, now that Castro's Cuba has become Khrushchev's Cuba.

Spokesmen for the administration continue to suggest that the Monroe Doctrine will be applicable and will surely be invoked if Soviet arms in Cuba become big enough to be "offensive" and are turned against other American nations.

The truth is that the Monroe Doctrine has already been breached by the takeover of Cuba by a foreign power. On this point the influential Washington Post goes to the heart of the matter in saying:

"The ships and arms that Khrushchev has sent to Cuba are as menacing as the fleet that Emperor Alexander gave to Spain to help her subdue her former American colonies in 1818. This country resisted Russia then, it must resist its penetration of the Western hemisphere today."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY rightly counsels against provocative talk and rash action. But the only thing which will counter both is adequate action by the administration to resist and in the end liquidate Soviet penetration of the Western hemisphere.

Thoughtful people will agree, I think, that unilateral military intervention is not the beginning of such a course—but the last resort if other steps fail.

Mr. K threatens war if we do anything to lift the Khrushchev-Castro dictatorship from the backs of the Cuban people. I think the American people are not going to scare easily.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

The Tobacco-Lung Cancer Feud Is Just About To Go Up In Smoke

Van Dellen

The tobacco-lung cancer feud is about to go up in smoke. The evidence against cigarette smoking is mounting. Millions of men will need all the will power they can muster to stop the habit, unless the industry can find different tobaccos or more efficient filters to reduce the nicotine, phenol, and tar content.

Cigarette smoke affects the cells lining the bronchi. Some of these cells have hair-like cilia that protrude into the passageways and move in a whiplash manner to propel mucus toward the mouth. This is the way the lungs expel small particles of dust and other debris. Tobacco smoke inhibts the action of cilia and, in time, the cells containing the hairlike projections disappear.

ONE OF THE CIGARETTE filters now on the market removes the phenols that are responsible for this adverse effect upon the cilia and it decreases some of the other ill effects of smoke. It does not solve the problem but is mentioned as an example of what the tobacco industry is trying to do.

The most incriminating evidence against cigarettes comes from the work of Dr. Oscar Auerbach and colleagues. They made microscopic studies of the lining membranes of hundreds of persons who died of causes other than lung cancer. In one study, the membranes of 72 men who had smoked until the end were compared with those of 72 ex-smokers and 72 who never smoked. All were matched as to age, occupation, and residence.

ATYPICAL OR abnormal nuclei were seen in the lining cells of the bronchi in 93.2 per cent of the sections removed from the lungs of smokers. This condition was present in 6.0 per cent of ex-cigarette smokers and 1.2 per cent of nonsmokers. These atypical nuclei resembled those seen in cancer cells and probably represent precancerous lesions.

Other studies have demonstrated that these cellular changes (along with loss of cilia) are observed less frequently in women, especially nonsmokers, but are just as common in country as in city dwellers. In addition, older smokers have more changes than the neophyte.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SEX HORMONES

J. M. writes: You mentioned a hormone product that is stripped of its sex stimulating factor. Is there a hormone to stimulate sex, and if so, what is it?

REPLY

Yes. Testerone, for example, may stimulate sex in men and thyroid extract or liotryronine may do the same for individuals with low metabolism. But there is a difference between stimulating sex and stimulating secondary sex characteristics, which we referred to; the hormones mentioned are those stripped of their ability to masculinize women and feminize men.

PACIFIERS ARE IN

Mrs. K. writes: My 5 month old son goes to sleep peacefully when he has a pacifier in his mouth. I have heard that this gadget is frowned upon and wonder why.

REPLY

History has a way of repeating itself. Pacifiers are popular again.

PELLAGRA

L. L. H. writes: Does a person with pellagra have to take niacin the rest of his life?

REPLY

No. Niacin is a specific remedy but once the condition is brought under control, a well balanced diet will prevent a recurrence.

BRAS AND CANCER

I. D. writes: Could wearing a tight bra lead to cancer?

REPLY

The cause of this type of cancer is not known but it is doubtful that the bra plays a role.

Steel Unions Ready To Discuss Contracts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has been airing its woes but without taking time off from its drive to sell more steel.

Steel leaders have been telling Congress — and also the stockholders—about the woes.

Most publicized are lower earnings, sometimes lower than current dividend rates, and in other cases low enough to trigger dividend cuts. Looming large is increasing competition from foreign steel mills. Hurting for several years has been the growing inroad of other materials into steel's old markets. And all of these have been compounded by an inventory glut in the hands of steel's customers, now slowly disappearing.

But over the horizon is still another problem — the steel unions are beginning to talk about reopening their contracts next year to seek a wage increase.

The woes of the industry are real enough. But there are signs that the steelmen are doing something about it. For several years the drive was to increase ingot production. Now the emphasis is on technology to produce steel more cheaply and on marketing — creating new uses, recapturing old customers.

Inroads of aluminum, copper, glass and other materials in the vehicular industry are being combatted by new high-strength alloy steels. They boast both light weight and strength.

The American Iron and Steel Institute strives to encourage more imaginative use of steel. A steel products design competition currently is being cosponsored by the National Design Center in New York.

The container industry took about 10 per cent of total steel shipments in 1961. A Youngstown Sheet and Tube executive predicts this year some eight million tons of steel, or about 11 per cent of the total, should be sold to this industry.

Competition here has grown in recent years from paper, glass, aluminum, copper, plastics. But the steelmen have come up with a thinner tin plate to compete.

The drive to win new markets or recapture old ones is on in earnest. But even the steel salesmen admit that the near future prospects depend upon a still unresolved uncertainty: Will business in general next year be up or down — especially in the heavy industry, transportation, appliance and construction fields? Getting a bigger share of the market is fine, but there has to be a healthy market.

5 NEW SERIES!

ALFRED HITCHCOCK HOUR Brace yourself for suspense with an ending you'll never guess—or forget!

Felons Would Make $44 Million

Wages totaling $44,142,435 would be earned by inmates of San Quentin Prison if the average sentence period were spent at paid labor, according to a compilation in the current San Quentin News.

The prison paper isn't trying to make a case for turning everybody loose. Its calculations were just to pass an idle hour, apparently, but they're based on the following:

With 3,587 inmates a total of 28,696 man-hours go to waste daily. This works out, says the paper, at 8,608,000 hours annually or on a national wage average, $14,376,696 per 10-month working period or $44,142,435 for an average three year sentence.

From this, the calculation runs, the government might take $2,873,339 annually in income tax, adding "almost enough to maintain Caroline's pony."

The News quotes another calculation by an inmate with time hanging heavy on his hands, to the effect that during the current year there will be 31,536,000 ticks of the clock.

How Dry They Were

BAGDAD (UPI)—In this little, appropriately-named desert town, probably the longest dry spell in the United States lasted from October, 1912, to November, 1914 — a total of 767 days.

The first true light on cosmic rays came in 1910 when the Austrian physicist, Victor F. Hess, took his instruments to 17,000 feet in a balloon and found that cosmic-ray activity intensified at higher altitudes.

ADULT CLASSES SET AT JEWISH CENTER

Adult evening classes in dancing, bridge and metalworking will begin the first week in October at the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Begun last night was a painting and drawing class. Classes in creative dance for all ages will start Oct. 1 from 8 to 10 p.m., continuing for 17 sessions on Monday nights. Ballroom dancing will be taught for 10 Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock, starting Oct. 3.

Eight sessions in beginning bridge will be taught Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m. starting Oct. 1. A junior bridge tournament will be held each Tuesday starting at 8 p.m.

In a new series of classes for adults, artists of Marin will instruct in their own studios on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon, with the first of eight sessions set for Oct. 23 with metalsmith Victor Reis.

Beginning drawing and painting will be taught at the center from 8 to 10 p.m. each Tuesday for eight sessions, first of which was held last night.

Registrations are accepted at the Jewish Community Center.

College's Concert, Lecture Series Set

Features of the fall concert and lecture series at College of Marin following tomorrow night's recital by pianist Istvan Nadas were announced today.

All events will be at 8:30 p.m. in Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus.

These other events are scheduled: Dr. Urban Whitaker, San Francisco State College professor, will talk on "Red China: Recognized or Ignored," Oct. 11; Berkeley Chamber Singers, Nov. 6; William Winter of Belvedere, subject not yet selected, Dec. 6. An event in January will complete the series.

Bus Stop Relocations Backed By Mill Valleyans

Mill Valley Commuters Club directors Tuesday night endorsed a proposal of Police Chief Dan Terzich to relocate five bus stops on Miller Avenue.

Proposed new locations are South Miller and Montford avenues in front of Faber's Restaurant; Reed Street and South Miller Avenue (across Reed Street from present location); Tamalpais High School at 558 Miller Avenue; in front of Safeway Store, 100 feet west of present location, and in front of the Harry's Union Service, 455 Miller Avenue, instead of before the American Legion Hall.

The new stops are intended to increase safety and public convenience, said club president James A. Bollier.

The club will hold an open meeting Oct. 16 at 8:15 p.m. in the city hall to discuss Greyhound Lines schedules, routes and seating capacity.

The board also said it is interested in legislative appropriation to enable a feasibility study of Supervisor Peter Behr's plan for another bay crossing from San Rafael to Point Richmond, Treasure Island and the Embarcadero in San Francisco.

Opposition was voiced against Golden Gate Bridge traffic arches, board members stating they prefer the lane marker system. The board also endorsed recommendations of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs that the bridge board go to established outside agencies for assistance in planning.

A grizzly bear in Yellowstone Park, running ahead of an automobile, was clocked at a speed of 30 miles per hour.

American Dairy Meet

Armin Truttman of Olema, California, president of the American Dairy Assn., will represent state dairy farmers at the fall business meeting of the association in Seattle Sept. 24-26. In addition to being a member of the seven-man executive committee of the national dairy group, Truttman is a member of the subcommittee on advertising and merchandising.

COPTER — This is the Hughes 269-A helicopter (right) that will fly over Corte Madera Center Saturday at 11 a.m. to drop the balls filled with prize certificates in celebration of the Center's fourth anniversary. Hundreds of balls, each stuffed with a certificate, will be dropped. Participating in the trial run are Mrs. Gene Smith of San Rafael, and the pilot, Commodore Helicopter's Bob Hallbeck.

Ping Pong Balls Mark 4th Anniversary

Friday and Saturday are the dates of the Fourth Anniversary Sale at the Corte Madera Center, and Saturday at 11 a.m. is the time of the traditional Ping Pong Ball Drop.

At that hour a helicopter will pass over the parking lot and drop hundreds of gift certificates stuffed into plastic practice golf balls.

There will be a certificate for a 19-inch portable television set in one of the balls, and one for a Polaroid Camera in another.

Someone will catch a ball with a certificate for a Bulova Sea-King 17-jewel watch.

Also there will be certificates for a hair dryer and vanity set with hood and mirror, a blender with two-speed control and replacable blades, or a portable mixer.

Further prizes include an automatic can and bottle opener and a steam iron.

Other balls will contain certificates good for a dollar in merchandise. These certificates must be used before September 29, and are not redeemable for cash.

Shoe Store Owner Has Experience

Harry Kramar of Kramar's Shoes in the Corte Madera Center has spent 22 years in shoe retailing. He has always carried the best of the name brands, and has continued this at Corte Madera Center.

Kramar attended Stockton schools, and is a graduate of Stockton High School and College of the Pacific, where he was a basketball player. He enjoys golfing, and has earned a low handicap.

His wife, Betty, assists in their shoe store and their daughter Marjorie attends Redwood High School where she is a sophomore.

Kramar is a member of the Corte Madera Lions Club. He was active in organizing the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council of which he is now president.

Winners Of Bicycles Told

Here are the holders of the winning tickets in the Corte Madera Center back-to-school bicycle give-away.

Kevin Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Kirby of 201 Wallace Hall in Mill Valley, is especially thrilled as he was hoping to receive a two-wheel bicycle at Christmas, and now he won't have to wait. Kevin will be 6 in December and attends Alto School.

The other winner is Robert Lethbridge, Jr., who is in second grade at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lethbridge of 218 Monte Vista in Larkspur.

STYLED FOR AUTUMN

Stepping out of the Jay Vee Store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, Hazel Ballou of San Anselmo prepares for brisk Fall breezes by turning up the fox collar of this plush-lined all-weather coat, one of several styles in the Jay Vee coat department.

New Kirby's Manager

The new manager of Kirby's Shoe Store in the Corte Madera Center has a long record of experience in the shoe retailing business.

Ernest Sandgren is a native of Canada and attended schools there. He was associated with the shoe department of Robert Simpson's in Montreal.

He was with Reeves Shoe Stores for several years, and later manager of the shoe concession in the Federal Department Store in Eureka.

After one year with Kirby's Shoes in San Francisco, Sandgren was promoted to manager of the Corte Madera store, and has now moved to San Rafael.

Sandgren states that he will continue Kirby's policy of quality and service, with a large selection of styles for the entire family.

Penney Man Runs Five Departments

J. C. Penney Co. has promoted Bob Stave, formerly of their San Francisco store, to Department Manager for five department in their Corte Madera Center store.

Bob, his wife, Carol, and their 19-month-old son, John, live in Greenbrae.

Stave was transferred to Penney's downtown San Francisco store in 1959 as department head for the curtain and drapery department, and received his transfer to Corte Madera Center this month.

His responsibilities now include women's ready-to-wear and furnishing, home furnishings, yardage and girls' apparel.

HAIR STYLIST NOW IS OWNER OF STORE

Duke Barker of Mam'Selle Stylists was co-owner for over a year, and last month became full owner of the shop. Before coming to Mam'Selle in August of 1961, Barker was a hair stylist in Los Angeles.

Mam'Selle Stylists offer a complete line of hair care and styling. They will cut, color, shampoo and set, in traditional or hi-fashion styles.

Barker is now specializing in customized work on wigs. He carries a line of wigs which are 75 per cent human hair and 25 per cent synthetic. They come in several colors and can also be colored to order.

U.S. Troop Involvement Seen In Cuban Buildup

House Group Passes Havana Resolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Congress in testimony made public today that U. S. surveillance of the Communist build-up in Cuba could lead to incidents involving the use of American military forces.

Rusk also said without elaboration that there were indications that the disclosure by the Soviet news agency Tass that Russia was supplying Fidel Castro with arms has "caused considerable concern among the Russian people themselves."

The secretary said in this connection he was hopeful that President John F. Kennedy's strong news conference statement on conditions under which this country would intervene in the Caribbean might cause Moscow to go slow on aid to Cuba.

FIGHT RESOLUTION

Rusk made the statements to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees Monday during their consideration of the fight-if-we-must resolution on Cuba.

The two committees subsequently approved a sweeping declaration of support for Kennedy in any action he might take to curb Castro, including the possible use of troops. The full Senate formally took up the resolution shortly after noon under an agreement limiting debate to three hours.

ENDORSEMENT

The House foreign affairs committee added its unanimous endorsement of the resolution earlier today and action by the full House also was a possibility before nightfall.

In many respects, Rusk's testimony was a refinement of Kennedy's news conference statements on Cuba. But his language on possible incidents involving U.S. forces was unusually blunt.

ILLICIT ARMS

Among other things, the secretary said the United States has made clear that U.S. armed forces would intercept any illicit arms Castro might attempt to move into other Latin American nations. The same, he said, applied to Cuban aggression against its neighbors.

He also said the chief executive would "of course" move immediately with necessary force if there was an attack on the big U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo.

WOULD INFORM

Rusk assured senators Kennedy would continue to keep them informed on Cuban developments. He said the consequences of any "major use" of U.S. forces in the situation would be so serious that Congress should be kept fully informed.

In his testimony, Rusk noted that U.S. ships and planes have been instructed to defend themselves if fired upon in international waters. He testified that the United States is conducting a "close surveillance" of the Carribean and intends to enforce the right to continue it.

That, he said ,"could lead to certain incidents which would involve the use of the armed forces of the United States."

TERRA LINDANS TOLD:

'Beat Subdividers To Park Sites'

Parks in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael will be possible only if the city can beat subdividers to the few remaining park sites.

This is what San Rafael Parks and Recreation commissioners told 19 Terra Linda homeowners last night at a public hearing on potential park sites in their area.

"Our big problem is to get the land before another house is built on it," said Chairman Carl J. Brown. "The area is rapidly being populated with houses—and children."

Homeowners made it clear to the commission that they want parks. They can't use the new community center and swimming pool built by the Terra Linda Recreation District in the nearby unincorporated section.

They said "weary mothers" want a place where they can let their "pre-school toddlers run and play."

Commissioners said they will recommend to the city council the purchase of three sites: One between the Terra Linda High School and Devon Drive; another at the rear of Terra Linda Unit 15 east of Trellis Drive and a third southwest of the Terra Linda High School.

"The proposal should be on the council agenda in a month or two," said Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota. "You and your neighbors should plan to be there."

All of the proposed sites, about three to four acres each, are on land owned by the Freitas estate. "The council told us to go ahead and find out how much the cost would be," said Brown.

Rodota said the key question is how money can be obtained for purchase. One possibility, he said, would be formation of an assessment district in the area.

"The philosophy of the council," said Commissioner Arthur W. Fiedler Jr., "seems to be to give you fire protection first and maybe parks later."

The 12-cent park and recreation tax paid by San Rafael property owners is just enough to maintain existing city parks, Rodota said.

Called "sub-neighborhood parks," which means the proposed parks would not include swimming pools, tennis courts or Little League fields, Rodota

Compromise Farm Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a cliffhanger vote of 202-197, the House passed today a compromise farm bill that included some of the provisions the Kennedy administration wanted.

The compromise bill, worked out by a Senate-House conference, still must be approved by the Senate. That approval is virtually certain.

Before passing the compromise measure, the House defeated by a vote of 165 to 104 a Republican attempt to send it back to conference. That vote closely followed party lines.

GOP MOVE

The defeated Republican motion would have instructed the Senate-House conferees to return a bill that amounted to a straight extension of present one-year emergency wheat and feed grain programs.

Republicans argued bitterly against the compromise, while Democrats contended it was the last chance for a farm program in the coming year.

The bill contains a provision that in 1964 the Secretary of Agriculture can set price supports for some crops at a level designed to prevent further increase of government-owned surplus stocks.

CORN PRICE

Republicans argued that this would mean low price supports, at 50 per cent of parity or 80 cents a bushel for corn, which they said was a ruinous level for farmers.

On the vote, 200 Democrats and two Republicans voted for the bill, while 37 Democrats and 160 Republicans voted against.

One controversial section in the bill provides for direct payment to farmer in grain from government surplus stores as part of their price supports. This is aimed at reducing government stocks and saving movements into and out of storage.

Library Board Discusses Hiring Procedure In Secret

Sausalito library trustees last night held an executive session to discuss qualifications and procedures for hiring a new head librarian.

The board, according to Mrs. George C. Cummings, president, stated its pleasure over city council action Tuesday, approving a higher pay for the librarian. The council voted to approve a scale of $540-$643. Former salary was $475 per month as paid to Mrs. Josephine Ripley of San Rafael, who resigned last month.

The board agreed that the new librarian must be capable of helping to plan the proposed new library. Several applications for the position have been received and deadline for applicants is Oct. 26. The actual hiring is to be handled by City Manager Charles A. Brown, Mrs. Cummings said.

Dr. Fred M. Tetzlaff, trustee, was greeted by the board at his first meeting since his appointment.

U.S.-Cuban Tension In U.N. Flares

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Tension between Cuba and the United States flared into the open in the General Assembly today with a Cuban charge that Washington is preparing large-scale aggression against Fidel Castro's island.

Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui took the assembly rostrum to level the charge as soon as Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson had completed a major U.S. policy speech in the general debate. (See story, page 2).

Stevenson had touched only briefly on the Cuban situation. Speaking of what he listed as threats "in a dark and precarious world," he said:

"The government of Cuba, with moral and material support from outside, carries on a campaign of subversion and vituperation against its neighbors in the Western Hemisphere."

Garcia-Inchaustegui immediately demanded the right of reply.

"The leader of the North American delegation has accused my government of a campaign of slander and vituperation," he said. "This is spoken before this august assembly by a man who, from

VIRUS KEEPS SOME HOME FROM SCHOOLS

Colds, stomach aches and slight fevers were causing slightly above normal absenteeism in some Marin County schools today.

County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht said the virus was common after school opens and students begin circulating, spreading the virus to those students with less resistance.

The virus, she said, "is nothing like influenza" and is causing only colds and stomach illness.

Marin United Fund Drive Is Launched

Marin's United Fund Drive began today as some 3,500 volunteer workers began to solicit funds throughout the county.

The United Fund Drive in Marin is part of the eighth annual United Bay Area Crusade, which has a goal of 11.2 million dollars for 260 voluntary welfare agencies in five counties.

Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps is chairman of the drive in Marin. Campaigns for donations from many business firms, professions and military personnel have already been conducted.

Marin County town chairmen met today in Kent Woodlands to plan campaigns.

Injured Railroad Man Loses Toe

Lawrence E. English, 47, of Sonoma, who was run over by a Southern Pacific railway car near Ignacio yesterday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Southern Pacific Hospital, San Francisco, today after the amputation of a left toe.

A company spokesman said doctors do not anticipate amputating English's leg. English, works for the railroad, had been uncoupling two freight cars when an engine backed into one of the cars, according to Deputy Sheriff William R. Bradford. The impact knocked English down and the car ran over his foot, Bradford reported.

EIGHT INJURED IN FOUR-CAR PILE-UP

Eight persons, six of them Marin County residents, suffered minor injuries in a four-car pile-up in both northbound and southbound lanes of Highway 101 south of Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael yesterday afternoon.

California Highway Patrol investigators found that a lane-changing southbound sedan nudged a station wagon across the divider and headon into a northbound sedan. The third car spun and was hit by a fourth car, which was northbound.

A Novato mother with two of her own children and two neighbor children made up most of the injury list while a San Rafael driver was also hurt.

Mrs. Marilyn Dolores Bishop of 6 Fleetwood Court, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for injuries to her arm. Her daughters Laura 10 (bruised forehead), and Julia, 6 (minor bruises), as well as Pamela Chaon, 10, of 10 Fleetwood Court, Novato (back sprain) and Linda, 9 (cut on right knee) also were treated.

William E. Jones of 105 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, was treated for cuts and bruises on face and body.

Guido J. Salomone was treated for cuts around right eye and Robert P. Kaser for bruises of eye and right knee.

Kaser told the patrol he was southbound in the left lane when a station wagon ahead in the right lane, driven by John A. Charlesworth, crossed suddenly against the side of his sedan and forced it across the divider.

Kaser's car hit the northbound Jones car, which spun into the path of Mrs. Bishop's station wagon. The station wagon hit the Jones sedan. Salomone, riding with Kaser, was thrown out of the car.

Charlesworth explained to the patrol that he failed to see Kaser's car as he swung out to pass another vehicle.

An Ignacio man suffered a minor facial injury in a four-vehicle rear end collision on Highway 101 yesterday morning.

Wirtz Gets Labor Post Senate Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today President Kennedy's nomination of W. Willard Wirtz as secretary of labor.

Wirtz is moving up from the post of undersecretary to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who resigned to accept an appointment as a member of the Supreme Court.

Goldberg's nomination to the highest court is pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Three Former Estes Pals Sentenced

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Federal Judge R. E. Thomason today sentenced three former associates of Billie Sol Estes to long prison terms and said they were guilty of "one of the most premeditated, fantastic and ruthless frauds ever to come before any court in the southwest."

Thomason handed down 10-year prison terms to Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock and Harold E. Orr of Amarillo and gave a six-year term to Ruel Alexander of Amarillo.

All three were officials of Superior Manufacturing Co., which supplied Estes with anhydrous amonia fertilizer tanks.

Superior Manufacturing Co. was fined $5,000 by Thomason.

On a defense motion, the sentences were deferred to begin Jan. 7, 1963, so that the three convicted associates may appear as witnesses in criminal and civil cases and to give testimony to the federal government.

Golf Club Sets Worth $700 Stolen

Three sets of golf clubs, worth more than $700, vanished from a parked car while the owner was fishing at Kent Lake yesterday.

Edwin Owen Atwood, a salesman who lives at 2501 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, told sheriff's deputies he left his 1960 convertible parked by the lake and went fishing. The golf sets were inside the car trunk.

Theft Of Money Reported At Home

Thirty dollars was taken from a chest of drawers at the home of Edward Barry Pearson in Mill Valley between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. yesterday, it was reported to police last night.

Pearson told officers that someone forced the front door at his home at 171 Ethel Avenue.

Three ICBM Bases Ready In California

MARYSVILLE (AP) — Three Titan I intercontinental ballistic missile bases in Northern California became operational today, the Air Force announced.

Each base contains three missiles in underground silos capable of being launched in about 30 minutes, with a range of about 6,300 miles.

The liquid-fuel missiles are capable of carrying nuclear warheads. The Air Force would not confirm or deny that they are already armed.

The bases are located in the Sacramento Valley, one about five miles northeast of Chico, near the municipal airport; one north of the Sutter Buttes, about 20 miles northwest of Marysville, and the other about one and one half miles east of Lincoln.

A squadron of 300 men will man all three sites. They will live at Beale Air Force Base near Marysville, but will be on an alert schedule with all three bases manned at all times.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Algeria's First Vote: Single Slate

ALGIERS (UPI)—Citizens of Algeria voted for a single slate of candidates today in the first national elections since their country became independent from France.

The polls opened for 10 hours to accommodate 6,459,736 registered voters, most of whom had suffered through years of fighting, bloodshed and chaos for this day.

The "candidates" are unopposed. Despite the certainty of the outcome, hundreds of Algerians in tiny Sahara settlements began voting Tuesday and yesterday when mobile polling stations reached their lonely outposts.

They could vote for the candidates selected by the political bureau or abstain.

Italians Debate Use Of Latin

ROME (AP) — Even the Romans are having trouble with Latin.

Debate raged yesterday in the Senate over whether to continue Latin as compulsory in the middle grades.

The school system branches into two parts in the middle grades. One leads to higher education and includes Latin. The other prepares for technical labor with no further education after eighth grade. It omits Latin.

Italian Communists want Latin dropped.

Argentine Ultimatum

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Troops from the countryside converged on this capital today under orders from President Jose Maria Guido to crush an uprising by army rebels.

Guido received Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, a rebel leader, last night. Ongania had come to explain the rebel position. Instead he was handed an ultimatum to end the uprising at once.

Defying the ultimatum, Ongania returned to the rebel stronghold of Campo de Mayo in a Buenos Aires suburb, vowing to fight to the last to enforce the rebel demand that Argentina return to democratic rule.

Guido ordered a joint operation against the rebels, but the air force commander, Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina, said his force would not take part.

No decision was announced by the navy.

Former Envoy Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John Leighton Stuart, 82, United States post-war ambassador to China, died yesterday after a long illness.

The Presbyterian minister was named ambassador to China in 1946. After the Communists took over the mainland, he served as ambassador to Nationalist China until 1952.

Soblen's Body Held

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's body remained in the hands of the coroner today with no indication when it will be released for burial.

An inquest into the Sept. 11 death of the fugitive spy has been adjourned until Oct. 4.

Red Troops Withdraw

NEW DELHI (AP)—About 200 Chinese Communist troops who crossed into northeast India last week have withdrawn into Tibet after an Indian show of force, informed sources there reported.

Spy Is Deported

NEW YORK (AP)—Curt Leopold Ponder, convicted of espionage while serving as an interpreter at the Nuernberg war crime trials, was deported yesterday to his native Austria.

Ponder, 39, was released from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after serving more than nine years for conspiring to turn over defense information to the Soviet Union.

Takes Over In Yemen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Crown Prince Saif al Islam Mohammad al-Badr, a modern-minded liberal, took over the ancient throne of Yemen today following the reported death of his despotic father, one of the world's last feudal monarchs.

A broadcast from Yemen's remote capital of San'a said Badr, 35, was proclaimed successor to Imam Ahmed Bin Yehya, 71, perennial target of assassins.

The Iman was said to have died from natural causes hastened by old wounds.

Rail Service Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Acting Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz scheduled further conferences with labor and management today in an effort to end the costly Chicago and North Western Railway strike. Wirtz said he was still confident of an early settlement.

Both the railroad and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers have agreed to arbitration as requested by the president. But the two parties must decide on specific questions to be submitted to a three-member arbitration board.

Forest products make up 33.5 per cent of Sweden's exports.

Adlai Says U.N. Faces Impotence Unless Soviet Bloc Shares Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States demanded today that the General Assembly act immediately to require the Soviet bloc and all other members pay their share of U.N. costs.

In a major policy speech for the 108-nation assembly, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson declared "We doom our organization to impotence" unless steps are taken to put it on a sound financial footing.

"We cannot expect the United Nations to survive from day to day by passing a cup like a beggar in the street," he said.

The chief U.S. delegate urged that the United Nations give its main attention now to making itself stronger, more efficient and financially sound so it can meet the task of preserving world peace.

There are ominous threats, he said, in Berlin, Cuba, Viet Nam, Red China, Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

"And most ominous of all, the suicidal arms race continues unabated," he said. "These situations raise serious dangers to the peace of the world."

Stevenson avoided direct attacks on the Soviet Union. He appealed to assembly members to "replace strident politics with quiet but determined diplomacy."

GOP Sees Smashing Victory For Rocky In New York Race

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Confident Republicans marched into the state election campaign today under the banner of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to seek a "smashing victory" that would enhance his presidential prospects..

Amid some shouts of "Rocky for president," the governor was nominated by acclamation for a second four-year term last night at a quiet and orderly state convention that came alive only in the closing session.

The Republican ticket boasts four incumbents, all experienced campaigners, including U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

To challenge them, the Democrats earlier this week hammered out a slate headed by two political newcomers, former federal prosecutor Robert M. Morgenthau, the gubernatorial nominee, and prisoner-exchange lawyer James B. Donovan who will oppose Javits.

The Democrats, who face an uphill fight in the 48 days before the election, received a boost last night when the Liberal Party, which exists only in this state and is centered in New York City, endorsed Morgenthau and his running mates.

The endorsement was expected and traditional.

Another hopeful note for the underdog Democrats was sounded by David H. Jacquith, gubernatorial nominee of the state's fledgling Conservative Party, who said the splinter group had obtained enough petition signatures to assure it of a place on the ballot.

The Conservative Party was created to fight what its adherents consider to be the too-liberal views of Rockefeller and Javits.

Two Foreign Students Learn American Ways In Marin

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Ellen Steiermann of Uruguay and Odd Barlindhaug of Norway come from far corners of the world, but their reactions to student life at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo are surprisingly similar.

Odd, 18, and Ellen, 17, are senior scholarship students at the high school under the American Field Service program.

Both attend the equivalent of our junior colleges in their countries. Both view with some astonishment the hordes of students here who drive their own cars.

"The parking lot in front of the high school is the most fantastic thing I've ever seen," said Odd. "In Norway if you have a car, you're considered rich. In my school one or two students have cars. We have a parking lot for 300 or 400 bicycles instead."

"In my city students go by bus," said Miss Steiermann. "I had expected everybody to be in a hurry here, but it's not that way at all. It may be true in the big cities; here it's a little town."

Miss Steiermann, who lives on the south coast of Uruguay in the capital, Montevideo, said she often did not return home from schools there until 9 p.m. because of after-hours language classes.

Her parents are German settlers who immigrated to South America because of the war. Her father runs a patisserie, or pastry shop. Ellen, who speaks fluent Spanish, English, German and French, hopes to enter the diplomatic service after completing college.

Odd said his biggest adjustment after arriving in California was "learning to go to bed so early. The sun stays up in Norway until 11:30 on summer nights. It comes up again around 2:30 a.m. We usually go to bed around midnight, when it's still twilight."

His home in Norway is in Trondheim, a city which, with suburbs, includes some 82,000 inhabitants. His father is an accountant. For recreation, Barlindhaug skis and sails his boat on the fiord by Trondheim. "Norwegians are practically born with skis on their feet," he said. He hopes to become a ship's designer.

Both students concur on the fact that the $14 monthly allowance paid them by the American Field Service is not adequate.—"Especially for boys," added Odd. Asked how he managed, Odd grinned and said: "The girls are taking me out. They all want to show me places in Marin County."

"In Uruguay," Ellen said, "girls my age go out with older men, 23 or 24. Very few marry before their 20s."

Miss Steiermann is living with Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Yaffee at 2 South View Avenue in San Anselmo. She attends school with Susan Yaffee, also a senior. A second daughter, Judy, attends Univevrsity of California at Berkeley.

Barlindhaug lives with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jensen, 4 Meadow Way, Fairfax. The Jensen children include Curtis, a senior at the high school; Lyle, who lives in Oregon; Mrs. Eleanor Harvey of Fairfax, and Arnold, 7, who attends Deer Park School.

Ellen and Odd agree on one more area of life in the United States: both feel school here would be easier for them than school at home except for their difficulties with English.

"I attend the American High School in Montevideo," said Ellen. "It's a private school that was started by Americans. It puts a heavy stress on English and requires that we take 15 subjects each semester. We have different subjects on different days, and we can't choose any of them. I think the girls of 17 in Uruguay are older than here in the way they think and talk."

"I had to take English for six years," added Steiermann, "but the language is still difficult in school. My English teacher just passed out a sheet of vocabulary and defined the new words with more words I don't know."

Finally, both agree on why they came.

"I wanted to come to know, to see something new," said Ellen.

"For most Norwegians, it's a dream to come to California or Florida and a warmer climate," said Odd. "I'm curious to see other ways. Eevrything is supposed to be rich and bigger here. Now I can see for myself."

Reinvestment In U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The aerospace industry reinvests a higher proportion of its earnings—about 57 per cent in 1961—than any major manufacturing industry, Aerospace Industries Assn. of America reports.

Former City Policeman Arrested At Tavern

Retired San Francisco police officer John Thomas O'Haire, 44, was jailed this morning on suspicion of creating a disturbance at a Novato bar and resisting arrest.

Deputy Sheriff William R. Bradford, who arrested O'Haire at the Tomahawk Lodge bar in Novato shortly after midnight, said O'Haire was carrying a revolver under his coat when arrested.

Bradford, on routine patrol about 12:40 a.m., noticed O'Haire drive up to the Tomahawk bar and enter. According to the officer, O'Haire walked up to a bar stool and pulled a customer, Anthony Martino, 36, of 658 Hancock Street, Novato, off the bar stool. Martino spun around and pushed O'Haire back.

Deputy Bradford said O'Haire started reaching inside his coat where he carried a snub-nosed revolver in an inside holster.

The officer disarmed O'Haire, dumped the bullets on the floor, and marched him to the patrol car. Bradford said O'Haire put up a fight and had to be handcuffed and put into the patrol car.

O'Haire was booked on suspicion of assault, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and drunkenness. Freed on $751 bail, he is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon. O'Haire gave his address at 658 Hancock Street, Novato.

de la Mesa was the man hurt. The California Highway Patrol said he also was responsible.

When a line of cars southbound halted a mile south of the Hamilton Air Force Base gate Porto rammed into the rear of one driven by William R. Brown Jr. of Vallejo, which in turn banged another car driven by Paula Teresa Moche of Sonoma into a fourth driven by Andrean Colar of Vallejo.

Porto, the only person hurt, went to San Rafael General Hospital with a cut lip.

A Sausalito sailor on a motorcycle plowed through a wooden fence at Bridgeway and Locust Street at 12:21 a.m. today and went to Marin General Hospital for treatment of cuts on his arm plus other scratches and bruises.

He was AO/3 Ludlow Daniels, 18, of 5 Josephine Avenue, Sausalito, serving on the Yorktown. Daniels was transferred to Letterman Army Hospital.

Dorinda Dustman, 17, of 50 Shields Lane, Novato, drove into a utility pole at Wilson and Vineyard Roads, Novato, this morning. She was treated at Novato General Hospital for a cut knee while her companion Dianne Peterson, 18, of 20 Fleetwood Court, received treatment for a cut knee. Miss Dustman said she was blinded by morning sun. Both are College of Marin students.

Novato Moose Lodge Meeting Tomorrow

An organizational public meeting for a Novato lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Nave Lanes on Highway 101, announced Dr. Donald W. Lannan.

Jack Torrenga, state membership director for the Moose, will show films of "Mooseheart," a home and school for the orphaned children of Moose members, and "Moosehaven," a home for aged Moose members in Florida. He will also talk on the social and civic activities of local Moose lodges.

Strawberry Meat Broker Found Dead

A 51-year-old meat broker apparently shot himself in the chest, then jammed the revolver in a planter box just outside the window of his home in Strawberry before he died yesterday afternoon.

Forrest N. Randolph of 305 East Strawberry Drive was dead by the time Marin Ambulance attendants rushed him to Marin General Hospital.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton and inspectors of the sheriff's office reported this morning that all indications point to suicide, although the missing gun posed a puzzler at first.

The .32-caliber revolver was later found buried barrel first up to the butt in the planter box of the window of Randolph's room.

The coroner and sheriff's investigators said Randolph had apparently tried to hide the gun before he collapsed on the floor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Randolph told investigators she was reading her mail upstairs when she heard a loud pop, followed by a thudding sound downstairs. She ran downstairs to the room which her husband used as an office to run his meat brokerage business. She found her husband on the floor, trying to get up.

Coroner Keaton said the bullet pierced the victim's left lung, missing the heart.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

PARKS

said the parks would include these features:

A "tiny tot" play area, another play area for elementary school children, asphalt courts for "simple games," a turf area for games, a shade area for picnics and a nature area with hiking trails.

Harvey H. Sachs of 17 Serra Way noted the proposed sites are in eastern part of Terra Linda, and he asked the commission to consider the chances of putting a park in the west end. "The people in the west will raise a great hue and cry if they think they are forgotten," Sachs said. "They have to drive by the recreation district's pool every day, and it's a sore point."

The Cuban said the United States was "violating our air space, infiltrating our country and sending mercenaries against our coasts."

"The aggression of his government has destroyed the houses of our workers, damaged our industry and killed thousands of our citizens, with bombs . . .

"You say you defend the charter of the United Nations. You tell your aggressive generals that in our country, more than six million Cubans will defend with something more than the sweet words of the charter.

"We reject your statement as a means of covering up a new large scale aggression which your country is preparing against our country."

OBITUARIES

Ann Ashley Services Pending

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Ann Todd Ashley, 41, of Sleepy Hollow, whose body was found inside her station wagon at Tocaloma yesterday morning. She was manager-instructor and part owner of Meadow Club Stables in Fairfax.

She leaves four children. A daughter, Nina Van Winkle Morehead, 19, lives in San Francisco. Lorraine Todd Morehead, 17, and Todd Morehead, 15, attend Drake High School, and William Whiteley Ashley Jr., 5 is in kindergarten. The three younger children lived with their mother at 211 Deer Hollow Road, Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Ashley was divorced about two years ago from Dr. William Ashley of San Francisco.

Deputy Coroner William Bradley said Mrs. Ashley was apparently despondent over ill health and finances.

She left her home Tuesday night about 8:30. Yesterday morning, a water company official found her slumped on the front seat of her station wagon, parked about 50 yards off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tocaloma.

Besides her children, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Phyllis Todd Ellis of Gate Harbor, Wash.; Mrs. Barbara Todd Townsend of Virginia, and Mrs. Margaret Todd Boots of New Jersey. Her bother, Mrs. Van Winkle Timpson Todd, lives in New Jersey.

Funeral services are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

JENNIE GREEN

Mrs. Jennie Grace Green, 6 Calle del Pinos, Stinson Beach, a 36-year resident of Marin County, died at her home yesterday. She was 72.

A native of Nebraska, Mrs. Green was the wife of Lt. Col. Clarence J. Green, USAR.

She is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sarah Janet McCammon of Stinson Beach, Mrs. Patricia Grace Herbert of Lakeland, Fla., and Mary Jacqueline Sennello of Sebastopol.

Services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Memorial services will be conducted at 7 p.m., Oct. 7, in the Stinson Beach Community Church. She was a ruling elder of the church.

Memorial contributions to the church's Sunday school fund are preferred.

WILFRID J. GIRARD

Funeral services for Wilfrid J. Girard, originator of Girard's French dressing, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in Oakland.

Girard, 88, died in the home of his son, McCone W. Girard, in Oakland Wednesday following a long illness. A native of Massachusetts, Girard came to California in 1896 and in 1908 opened John's Grill in San Francisco where he later originated the French dressing, which until recently was manufactured in San Rafael.

He leaves a second son, G. Kenneth Girard of San Francisco and five grandchildren.

The funeral cortege will leave from Albert Engel and Co., 3630 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, and procede to St. Theresa's Church, where at 10 a.m. a Mass of Requiem will be offered. A Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the funeral home. Entombment will be in the Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum in Hayward. Spiritual Bouquets are preferred by the family.

DOROTHY CHESNUT

Mrs. Dorothy Jane Chesnut, a life-long resident of Marin County, died at an Oakland hospital yesterday after a brief illness. She was 41.

Mrs. Chesnut, who lived with her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Cerelli, at 14 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, was a member of Marinita Parlor No. 198 of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Vivian Egisti of San Anselmo.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Interment will be at Italian Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

ANTHONY DEVOTO

Private funeral services were held today for San Francisco attorney Anthony Stephen Devoto at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Devoto, 77, died yesterday at a San Rafael rest home after a long illness. Survivors include a son, Donald Devoto of Corte Madera.

Devoto practiced law in his native San Francisco from 1910 until his retirement in 1960.

Other survivors are his wife, Dorothy, of San Francisco; another son, Justin, of Los Altos, and five grandchildren. Memorial contributions to the Holy Innocents Church of Corte Madera are preferred.

Will Dad always run the team?

Yes—if he calls the right play now by establishing a Family Trust at Crocker-Anglo. It can mean a steady, planned income for Dad, today, and for his beneficiaries tomorrow. Steady income, too, during the time his estate is in probate. And Dad is the judge as to how much say Crocker-Anglo will have as the family trustee.

With Crocker-Anglo on the team, each trust benefits from the broad experience of our Trust Investment Committee, composed of senior officers. They meet weekly to review portfolios, and weigh investments in terms of economic trends, as well as the personal goals of each family. Suppose, for example, a member of the family should be stricken by a prolonged illness. Or Junior should decide he wants to go to college. With a Crocker-Anglo Family Trust, terms can be flexible and special funds can be released in such cases.

Isn't it time you took it a little easier and let Crocker-Anglo's specialists provide your family with sound financial management?

Let's go into a huddle soon and talk about it.

For more information, visit our Trust Department in San Rafael, or ask any branch manager to arrange a meeting with one of our trust officers. There will be no obligation on your part. As to the legal aspects, we recommend that you seek the advice of your attorney. We shall be happy to cooperate with him in working out the best program for you.

NEW SPACE GLIDER—This is the full-scale mock-up of the X-20 space craft designed to go into orbit and then glide back to earth. It was shown for the first time in Las Vegas yesterday. A Titan III missile will boost it into orbit. (AP Wirephoto)

Space Glider For Earth Orbit Unveiled

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The weirdest-looking space plane this side of science fiction was unveiled here yesterday by the Air Force.

It's the X-20 Dyna Soar, scheduled to be blasted into a 100-mile-high orbit around the earth by a Titan III booster sometime in 1965.

A model of the triangular shaped black space-glider, 35 feet long and 20 feet across, was shown publicly for the first time at the Air Force Assn. convention.

Technical men familiar with sketches and photographs of the X-20 were startled by the vicious ugliness of the full-scale mockup. With its upturned wingtips and long snout, the X-20 looks like its designer managed to cross a manta ray with a shark.

The Air Force also announced the names of the first six men who will fly the X-20. The pilots, all from Edwards Air Force Base are Maj. Henry C. Gordon, 37; Maj. James W. Wood, 38; Maj. Russell L. Rogers, 34; Capt. Albert H. Crews Jr., 33, and Capt. William J. Knight, 33, all of the Air Force, and Milton O. Thompson, 36, test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Sometime next year one of these men will be at the controls when the X-20 makes its first test flight at Edwards, home of the X-15 rocket plane.

For these flights, the X-20, like the X-15, will be carried aloft by a B-52 bomber.

Unlike the X-15, which has reached record speeds of more than 4,000 MPH and a height of 314,750 feet, the X-20 will set no records at Edwards. These flights will be tests of the X-20's ability to maneuver in the atmosphere. Records will come later at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the X-20 will be blasted into orbit at speeds of 17,000 MPH.

After one or more orbits, the X-20 is scheduled to land at Edwards, beginning its long descending glide somewhere over Hawaii.

The Air Force said the X-20's Titan III booster rocket, under development, will have a thrust of more than two and one-half million pounds. The X-15 rocket engine, by comparison, generates 57,000 pounds of thrust.

Language Honors For Redwood Grads

Two 1961 graduates of Redwood High School have been exempted from language courses in college because of highest scores.

Charles Cauldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Cauldwell, 210 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, a freshman at Occidental College, achieved the highest score of any freshman taking Latin placement exam at the college. His Redwood Latin instructor was Robert Keuhnl.

Gail Partman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Partman, 108 Pepper Avenue, Larkspur, scored well enough on her French entrance examination at University of California at Davis to be exempt from nine required hours of the language. Robert J. Mautner instructed her at Redwood.

Battery Stolen From Auto In San Rafael

When Richard Edwin Schottstaedt of 1 Harbor View Court, San Rafael, got up Tuesday to go to work, his car wouldn't start.

The battery had been stolen sometime during the night, he complained to sheriff's deputies.

Downtown Mill Valley Due Trees

Downtown Mill Valley will take on a new look soon with Victorian Box trees lining the commercial streets.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks announced at last night's council meeting that the city and the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, which suggested the tree planting program, will split the cost.

The decision to go ahead with the program was made at a council work session last Saturday, he said.

The cost will be just under $4,000. About 60 trees will be planted. They will be placed in redwood boxes set flush with the sidewalk. The trees will not be so large that they will block the view of stores and shops, he said.

Two Marin Youths Join Navy For Four Years

Neil Patrick Cunningham of Fairfax and Stephen Dixon Price of San Rafael enlisted in the Navy for four years at the Navy Recruiting Office in San Rafael and are now at the Navy Training Center in San Diego.

Cunningham is the son of Mrs. Irene F. Cunningham of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, and John J. Cunningham of 175 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael. Price is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Z. Jacobsen of 46 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael.

'Largest' Airplane Passes Test

MOJAVE (UPI) — The "pregnant guppy," a commercial transport billed as the world's largest airplane, successfully completed its first flight yesterday.

"We're completely happy with it and hope the government sees fit to use it," said Jack Conroy, a former Air Force pilot who was at the controls for the flight from Van Nuys to Mojave airport.

Conroy said the 90,000-pound transport could be used to move components of present space vehicles from the manufacturer to launch facilities at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The aim of the converting team that built nearly a complete new fuselage over an existing Boeing Stratocruiser was to produce an aircraft capable of carrying huge missile parts as a substitute for land or sea travel.

Present plans include preliminary work already under way at Seal Beach by North American aviation space scientists for the advanced Saturn and eventual movement by barge to the launch site.

Man Escapes Injury In Crash

Alvin N. Hurley, 25, of 2065 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, escaped injury yesterday when his sports car skidded off the Miracle Mile and landed in a 10-foot-deep culvert.

San Rafael police said the car skidded 138 feet on the pavement and 102 feet of the roadway in the dividing strip, before hitting a wooden barricade and plunging into the open culvert at Fourth Street and Sentinel Court.

Hurley was cited for driving in the divider section.

Loyalty Oaths Required For Polio Workers

MARTINEZ (AP) — The 1,600 volunteer workers in Contra Costa County's polio immunization drive Sunday will be required to sign loyalty oaths, officials said last night.

The figure includes some 12-year-old Boy Scouts who will act as orderlies.

Dr. Glen W. Kent, assistant county health officer, explained that the oaths were required under law because the polio drive is considered a Civil Defense exercise in the county.

Ernest Besig of the American Civil Liberties Union commented, "I imagine there are many mothers in Contra Costa County who have been thinking their sons have been acting subversively since they were 7 years old."

Kent said some doctors requested to be assigned to other counties taking part in the drive rather than sign the oaths.

Savings, Loan Industry Studies Told

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The 72nd annual convention of the California Savings and Loan League ended yesterday on a notice that a detailed study was being made to promote the sixteen billion-dollar industry in the state.

Preston N. Silbaugh, California Savings and Loan Commissioner, told delegates the inquiry into how "free and effective competition" can best be promoted comprised two studies.

One study will concentrate on application requirements and new association operating expenses. It is being conducted by Dr. Fred Balderson of University of California.

The other, by Dr. Edward Shaw of Stanford University, concerns the industry's performance in the state with special reference to mergers and consolidations.

Silbaugh said California now has a moratorium on savings and loan association mergers, pending completion of the two studies. Some industry leaders have forecast a future tendency toward mergers and consolidations to meet rising competition from commercial banks for mortgage loans.

One of the problems facing the industry, Silbaugh said, "is the continued proliferation of unaesthetic, sub-standard and shoddy new (house) construction.

"The prospects for the decade ahead would seem to be for various types of multiple housing. But are we doing the necessary market research to allow us to make that determination with certainty?" Silbaugh said.

During a panel discussion, Robert T. Souter, president of Lynwood's World Savings Assn., predicted that within 10 years the state's present 256 associations will be reduced to 20 major firms through mergers and consolidations.

John F. Martin, president of Great Western Savings and Loan Assn. in Los Angeles, was elected president of the league, succeeding F. Marion Donahoe of San Francisco.

Named vice president was Fred C. Stalder of San Diego, president of Central Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Army Civilian Worker Honored Fifth Time

Cornelia Clearihue of 20 Vine Avenue, San Anselmo, has been cited as an "outstanding employee" of the Army at Fort Mason for the fifth time in seven years.

Miss Clearihue, who has also received the meritorious civilian service award, is administrative secretary to the commanding general of the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command Headquarters.

Missile Industry Strike Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major missile-space producers have bowed to President John F. Kennedy's request and accepted compulsory union membership proposed by a special presidential board for settlement of their contract disputes with two unions.

The agreements ended the threat of a strike Saturday against North American Aviation and General Dynamics Convair Division.

Kennedy announced the North American agreement with the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO, last night. The Convair agreement with the AFL-CIO Machinists Union had been announced earlier at San Diego.

Boeing Aircraft, another large missile-space producer, has a similar dispute with the machinists. The union has pledged it won't strike Boeing for a 60-day period while a new White House board frames settlement recommendations. But a strike at Lockheed is possible this weekend if there is no agreement before then.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

SAN PABLO (AP)—One candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction claims the other doesn't hold a teaching credential and can't qualify for one in California.

Dr. Ralph Richardson made the accusation last night in a face-to-face debate with Max Rafferty before 300 persons at Helms Junior High School.

Rafferty, superintendent of schools at La Canada, said he could qualify for a teaching credential, and added:

"I seek the credential of public confidence, and there is no higher."

Richardson, UCLA faculty member and former president of the Los Angeles Board of Education, contended that his opponent wants to indoctrinate school children in an emotional and unfactual manner when teaeching about communism and democracy.

Richardson said he favors an objective and unemotional approach, and declared patriotism should not depend just on past history, but should take into account current investigation.

Rafferty replied: "The great stories of our heroes and the generations who fought to preserve our flag should be taught as often as needed . . . We should teach the little ones on their mother's knee and later on their teacher's knee to love their country."

Republican Richard M. Nixon, fresh from a tour of Los Angeles' Civic Center, took his campaign for California's governorship to the lower San Joaquin Valley today.

During a series of rapid-fire talks with Los Angeles city and county officials in Civic Center yesterday, Nixon delivered these opinions:

1. He favors some modification of California's formula for splitting gasoline tax revenues 55-45 per cent between the South and North.

2. He agreed with Mayor Samuel Yorty that the state should help cities develop airports that serve large geographical areas, not just the cities in which they are located.

3. He advocates the death penalty for big-time dope peddlers.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today charged that his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, had advocated "a Communist technique" — indoctrination — to educate public school students on communism.

Brown made his charges in remarks before the Montebello Breakfast Club and at the Los Angeles Press Club.

In yesterday's campaign proceedings, Brown addressed the opening session of the California State Bar convention in Beverly Hills and Nixon made a tour of the Los Angeles civic center, visiting city and county officials and shaking hands with several hundred civil service employes.

Other campaign developments:

Brown blasted Nixon for what the governor called a "poor record" on social welfare legislation while Nixon was a congressman, a senator and vice-president.

Harold J. (Butch) Powers, former Republican lieutenant governor, was appointed vice chairman of the campaign of Judge Thomas-Coakley for the attorney-generalship in opposition to incumbent Democrat Stanely Mosk.

PROVISIONAL PLAN FOR TIBURON DEVELOPMENT

It all depends on some future studies, but here in outline form is the area of Tiburon tidelands provisionally thought of for development of motels, restaurants and apartments. The area enclosed in dotted lines is property which Tiburon Tidelands Co. has leased with an option to purchase from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Robert Moore of Belvedere owns 51 per cent of the stock in the company and Milton Tonini of San Francisco the remainder. Development depends on results of subsoil studies and future plan of the nearby Corinthian Yacht Club. Part of the area is within the city limits of Belvedere. Paradise Drive, included in the lease, could be relocated farther from the waterfront, according to Moore. The ferry slip is not included in the lease. (Aero Photographers)

School Theft Suspect Is Freed

Winifred B. Shippy, 47, of Washington, suspected of the Coleman School burglary in San Rafael two weeks ago, was freed of the charge yesterday after a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.

Neither fingerprints nor eyewitnesses could put Shippy at the scene of the crime, and Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled that evidence was not sufficient to hold Shippy for trial in superior court.

A burglary charge is still pending against a second man accused of the crime: James B. O'Conner, 34, of Daly City.

On the night of Sept. 2, two private patrolmen noticed the Coleman School door open and saw two men run from the vicinity. Someone had entered the school and carted out a television set, three phonographs and three typewriters but had abandoned them outside the school. An out of state car was parked at the school entrance.

Police caught O'Conner near 728 Belle Avenue and later picked up Shippy at Tamalpais and Mission Avenues. Both denied any knowledge of the burglary and any connection with the car parked near the school.

The car's registered owner is overseas, and police have not been able to question him.

JFK Denounces Foreign Aid Fund Cut, Asks Restoration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy says a House committee's recommendation that nearly 1.4 billion dollars be sliced from this year's foreign aid funds is an irresponsible action that "poses a threat to free world security."

He asked that the slashed funds be restored.

House leaders, detecting sentiment for additional trimming of the $5,956,852,000 economic and military aid measure, may forego a salvage operation at this time — for strategic purposes. Kennedy originally asked 7.3 billion dollars.

The cut criticized last night by the president in a statement is the handiwork of the House Appropriations Committee. The stiff opposition a move to restore the money would face was summed up by Rep. Otto E. Passman's declaration that "Not one cent will be put back if I have anything to do with it."

The Louisiana Democrat, a persistent advocate of keeping foreign aid speding down, was chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that drafted the bill. He will be floor manager for the measure in House debate, beginning today.

In his statement the president declared: "It makes no sense at all to make speeches against the spread of communism, to deplore instability in Latin America and Asia, to call for an increase in American prestige and an initiative in Eastern Europe—and then vote to cut back the Alliance for Progress, to hamper the Peace Corps, to repudiate our long-term commitments of last year and to undermine the efforts of those who are seeking to stave off chaos and communism in the most vital areas of the world. . . ."

Kennedy concluded: "I cannot believe that those in both parties who have consistently voted in the course of three administrations to fulfill the nation's obligations of leadership will permit this irresponsible action to go uncorrected."

College Of Marin's Newspaper Lambastes 'Deplorable' Parking

Despite frequent mentions of "improved parking" at the College of Marin before last June's successful passage of a 35-cent tax boost, the situation presently is "deplorable," "congested," "crowded" and "ridiculous," according to students interviewed by the college newspaper Tower Times.

Editorially the Times advises everybody to become reconciled "to parking facilities that are nearly non-existent" and "probably (to) grow worse before it gets better."

John Gillin, advisor to the Executive Council, is quoted as declaring that no changes in the parking situation may be expected before next semester. Meanwhile, notes the paper, an over-crowded campus this semester is resulting in "traffic snarl-ups, dented fenders and shattered nerves."

About a year ago a report from the architectural firm of Falk and Booth, hired as consultants on campus expansion, indicated that conversation with trustees had eliminated possibility of enough expansion at the present Kentfield campus to handle an estimated 4,500 students within a decade so abandonment of the whole present set-up was posed against an alternative of two schools, one in Kentfield and the other elsewhere in the district.

But expansion to 2,500 students was thought possible through purchase of acreage across College Avenue to include 17.5 acres for parking, as against 5-2 acres for classroom space.

"It sounds like we are having a campus built on a parking lot," commented Trustee Rupert E. Kempf as trustees indicated they favored a charge for student parkers.

Current conditions as reflected by the school paper certainly don't suggest there is any present parking lot whatever.

Though at the beginning of the semester a policy of "preferred parking" and automobile registration were initiated, with assignment to desirable parking areas for student body card holders.

But the Tower Times says that "preferred parking is a farce. Choice parking spots go to those who get there first—and there are no exceptions."

Student drivers who registered so that cars improperly parked could be tagged by campus police but they complain they've seen neither police nor tickets.

Publicity matter last spring before the successful effort for more tax money mentioned improved parking as among the goodies to be dished out if the money were forthcoming. But the Tower Times now advises:

"Either encourage car pools among classmates, ride a bicycle, or indulge in that obsolete American pastime—walking."

New San Rafael Park Lot Planned

Plans to build a new 40-space parking lot on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael were announced today by San Rafael developer Harry Albert.

The 12,000-square-foot lot will be located at 824 Fifth Avenue, east of Nye Street. An old house on the lot will be demolished, Albert said.

Parking spaces probably will be rented by hour, week or month, Albert said.

Blood Bank Drive Told At College

College of Marin's Inter-Club Council will sponsor a campus-wide blood bank drive for the benefit of students, faculty and staff personnel, it was announced today.

The drive, for the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, requires that four pints be contributed from the campus every two months. Arrangements for donations and withdrawals are to be made through the college nurse or with student body Vice President Ronald Cox.

Cox and fellow students James Matley, Rosalie Harper and Robert Stockwell have volunteered the first two-month quota.

Interest In Teen, Senior Center Told

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night agreed to advise the Mill Valley Youth Activities Committee it is interested in the committee's proposed joint teen and senior community center. Directors took no other action on this.

The board heard that there is considerable work to be done yet on the Strawberry Swim Club's pool, primarily in the mechanical equipment. Notice of completion on the contract for the club building, built by Bridges and Abbott of Novato, is expected to be filed within 10 days, according to Mrs. Patricia M. Gowen, secretary.

The board authorized purchase of a fertilizer spreader, at a cost of about $160, for use on Hammond Field.

The powerful, elongated bodies of polar bears have been equally at home on ice or in open sea for 10 million years.

Candidate Don Rose Calls Jordan Man No One Ever Sees At Capitol

Don Rose, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, told Marinites yesterday that the Republican who now occupies that office is "the man nobody sees" in Sacramento.

Rose addressed a luncheon of business, professional and labor leaders at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Harold Watkin, his Marin campaign secretary. He spent much of the day calling at newspaper offices and radio station KTIM.

In two years as executive secretary to Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson, said Rose, he never saw Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in the capitol.

"Anyone in the capitol sees the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, etc., almost daily—but never the secretary of state," he said.

Rose called this evidence of "arrogance by the man who has held the office for 20 years."

He criticized Jordan also for what he called "the worst breakdown in history" in tabulation of votes in the June primary, pointing out that five weeks after the election, there remained uncertainty as to who would be the two final candidates for state superintendent of public instruction.

As a result of his earlier criticism on that score, said Rose, the incumbent secretary of state wrote to county clerks warning them that "a young upstart wants to tell you how to run your elections."

The conduct of elections, on a statewide basis, is the responsibility of the secretary of state, declared Rose.

He came out flatly against a return to cross-filing, which he said Jordan is advocating.

The Democratic candidate handed out something different in campaign buttons: tiny artificial rosebuds "so you will remember the name."

Children's Art Classes To Begin

Children's Art Workshop classes, sponsored by the Marin Society of Artists for more than 10 years, will begin Sept. 29 at the Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The classes are directed by Mrs. Miriam Rice, sculptor and instructor in clay techniques. Use of other media, including painting, block printing, drawing in charcoal, chalk and pencil, mobiles and mosaic are taught by Mrs. Joan Pera, painter and designer.

The first class for children five through eight years is scheduled from 9 to 10:30 a.m. The second, for children nine through 12 years, is from 10:30 a.m. until noon.

A fee is charged to cover cost of materials and instruction.

Background On Kennedy's Trade Powers

(EDITOR'S NOTE — What development overshadowed all others in contributing to congressional approval of the historic trade bill? What impact will the measure have? Joe Hall, veteran AP newsman who covered the bill's progress through the Senate, analyzes the "bold new instrument.")

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years ago Sen. Harry F. Byrd, after steering an embattled trade bill through the Senate at the request of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, told a newsman: "I don't believe it will be possible to get legislation like this through ever again."

Yesterday the veteran Virginia Democrat watched the Senate roll up a 78-8 vote for the trade bill submitted by President John F. Kennedy with such sweeping powers that it dwarfed the 1958 measure. The House had passed the bill earlier.

What happened in four years to make this possible?

Senators who worked long weeks on the legislation agree that one development overshadowed all others.

This was the phenomenal growth and success of the six-nation European Common Market.

The 1957 Treaty of Rome, which laid the foundation for this six-nation free-trading area, had been signed when the Eisenhower bill was passed. But its significance was not clear at that time.

By 1961 the startling results of the Common Market were fully apparent.

France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg had made great strides in revising their import duties into a common external tariff. They maintained an annual rate of growth of 5 per cent in the 1958-61 period compared to 3.6 per cent of the United States. The standard of living of their peoples rose steadily.

In the light of this development, the president shaped his trade proposals to meet directly the challenge and the opportunity of the new trading area.

It was not planned that this country seek membership in the European Economic Community (EEC) or Common Market. But an effective trading partnership was made the key goal of the program.

It was pointed out that the EEC—counting Great Britain as a member, and the administration always has assumed she will join—will account for 90 per cent of the non-Communist world's trade in industrial goods.

Some enthusiasts have envisioned the EEC as such a vast market for American consumer goods that it could give as much lift to the U.S. economy as did the development of a mass auto market in the 1920s. It also is looked to as a big consumer of U.S. farm products.

To meet this opportunity, Kennedy put into his bill and has won from both the House and Senate an authority never before sought by a chief executive.

Under his new authority, the president can wipe out tariffs on all products for which the United States and the Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade.

This is in addition to general authority for a 50 per cent cut in all present U.S. tariffs, compared to 20 per cent won by Eisenhower.

The Senate, to insure that this authority is effective, wrote into its version of the legislation a provision permitting Kennedy to count Britain as a member of the EEC even if she does not join. This same discretionary power would apply to the other six members of the European Free Trade Association.

State Department officials say they expect negotiations with the Common Market under this new legislation to begin next year.

They voice high confidence in the outcome, declaring that the U.S. fared well in trade talks last spring that used up the 20 per cent reduction authority of the 1958 act.

As a result of these negotiations, the EEC tariff on industrial items has been bargained down to about 5.7 per cent as compared with 7.1 per cent for American duties, department officials said.

Senators gave somewhat more attention to the challenge of the EEC and the fears it has aroused in some quarters in their consideration of the bill.

The Finance Committee, noting restrictions already imposed by the Common Market on American farm products such as poultry, gave the president potent new retaliatory powers. He could raise tariffs sharply or impose quotas to counter unjustified and unreasonable measures taken against the United States.

House and Senate conferees still must work out the final version of the legislation. But this is not expected to be hard since the major new powers sought are in both versions.

Redwood High Votes Sept. 2, 3

Election of officers for the 408-member freshman class at Redwood High School is slated for Oct. 2 and 3.

Votes will be cast during lunch periods on both days, according to Beverly J. Sadler, commissioner of elections.

A dance to introduce candidates is scheduled for 8 p.m. Sept. 28 in the school gym, Miss Sadler said.

Larkspur Master Plan Meeting Planned Oct. 17

The Larkspur City Council last night set up an Oct. 17 meeting with the planning commission to discuss possibilities of revising the city's master plan, in effect since 1957.

Mayor James R. Lienkaemper, discussing the report of the five-year study committee, proposed sitting down with the commission and "thrashing out the possibilities for a home-grown master plan." He said he was not against making money available for the work, some of which could be done by an outside consultant.

The council will hold a study session on Oct. 10 to work out in more detail what it will recommend to the planning commission.

The report of the five-year study committee on City Manager Ronald E. Piper's capital outlay program brought the suggestion from councilmen that ways be found to bring more revenue into the city to finance proposed projects.

Lienkaemper suggested that more revenue could be obtained if the area bounded by Bon Air Road, Corte Madera Creek, Magnolia Avenue and Larkspur Plaza were rezoned from residential to an industrial park district.

Piper pointed out that rezoning of the area might be better considered while the revised master plan was being drawn up. He said $5,000 was contained in this year's budget for a new master plan.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Denied the claim of Jean and Rutherford Y. Millar for $247 for medical expenses incurred when Mrs. Millar slipped in a wet gutter at 26 Corte Fedora.

2. Approved the request for an easement exchange with Leroy C. Condon at 325 Baltimore Avenue.

3. Directed that a letter be sent to the Larkspur School District stating that construction of additional sidewalk on Magnolia Avenue near Bon Air Road is unfeasible.

New Hub City Street Lights Due By Oct. 1

Installation of 29 mercury-vapor street lights on San Anselmo Avenue, between Bridge Street and Ross Avenue, by San Anselmo city crews is expected to be completed by Oct. 1, according to City Administrator Douglas Flautt.

Replacement of the old street lights installed in 1923 was authorized by the city council last spring. Purchase of the new lights cost $4,848.20.

Larkspur Council Votes To Raise Joint Recreation Fund By $1,500

The Larkspur City Council last night voted to increase its contribution to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation program by $1,500 and thus insured recreation supervision at Greenbrae School.

The increase over $4,250 already budgeted brings the total to $5,750 which matches Corte Madera's contribution to the program. The Larkspur School District has budgeted $1,750.

Larkspur councilmen last night assured Victor Donatti, vice president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn., that they were interested in a recreation program at the Greenbrae School.

Councilman Daniel Allen said, "Greenbrae is an essential part of the total program." He suggested that the Kentfield School District, which includes the Greenbrae School, contribute money to the recreation program.

The Greenbrae recreation program, with the approval of Kentfield School District trustees for use of the school facilities, will include creative dramatics on Mondays from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., bowling Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:30 at the Greenbrae Lanes and sports at the school playground Saturdays from 10 to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Redwood Paper Editors Named

Student editors of the Redwood Bark, newspaper at the Larkspur high school, were announced today.

Toni Banducci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Banducci, 345 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, will be editor-in-chief. Associate editor is Jill Lerner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lerner, 225 Tulane Drive, Larkspur. John Contos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Contos, 108 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, is sports editor.

All three are seniors.

The staff was picked by Mrs. Carol J. Neumeier, journalism teacher, after the first issue of the paper appeared last Friday. Miss Banducci and Contos were acting editors for the first edition.

Scenes From Shakespeare Due Homestead

Both tears and foolery will be the order of the day at Homestead Valley's Stolte Grove on the next two Sundays when the Homestead Players present favorite scenes from a number of Shakespears's plays.

Food booths will open at 1 p.m. for those who wish to eat picnic style. The show begins at 2 p.m., according to Barbara Aleshire, publicity chairman.

Free transportation will be provided from Brown's Hall at 390 Miller Avenue between 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. and after the performance, since parking space is not available. Those under 18 years of age will pay student prices. Tickets are available at the Redwood Book Store or through Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, 760 Ridgewood Avenue, Mill Valley.

Redwood High Editor Chosen For Magazine

Jill Lerner, associate editor of the Redwood Bark, has been chosen to represent Redwood High School on the Ingenue Magazine student press advisory board. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lerner, 225 Tulane Drive, Larkspur.

Miss Lerner will advise the magazine of local teen news, interest, trends, personalities, and special events that may warrant national mention.

Novato Residents Get Look At Freeway Maps

Residents of Novato yesterday got another look at the various freeway routes as maps were shown by the State Division of Highways at the community building.

As in previous map showings, six alternate routes were compared. Residents paid the most attention to the "J" route, which State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack recommended on Aug. 22.

This route goes east of the present highway which now passes through the business district of Novato. It takes off from the present route south of Novato Creek. It crosses the railroad on an overpass at Lamont Avenue and recrosses the railroad just north of Atherton Avenue. It rejoins the present highway in the vicinity of the Tomahawk Lodge.

This route is two-tenths of a mile shorter than the exisiting route. It would cost an estimated $8,980,000. Engineers in the past have favored the "E" or present route through town. This would cost $7,930,000 if dirt filled; $9,410,000 for a viaduct and $8,670,000 as a depressed route.

Costs given for other proposed routes were: "A" $10,490,000; "B", $10,290,000; "C", $13,090,000 and "G," $10,020,000. The "K" route which goes further east than any other route and was favored by the city council, was not shown.

The State Division of Highways has scheduled a public hearing on these freeway routes, starting at 10 a.m. next Thursday in the Novato community building.

Diseases Listed In Marin County

Gonorrhea and streptococcus infections led the list of communicable diseases reported last week to the Marin County Health Department.

Ten cases of gonorrhea included three in San Rafael, two in Marin City, two in unincorporated areas and one each in Sausalito, Mill Valley and Corte Madera. Ten strep infections included five in unincorporated areas, two each in Corte Madera and San Anselmo and one in San Rafael.

Two cases of infectious hepatitis and one case of tuberculosis were reported in unincorporated areas. Sausalito reported a case of syphilis; Novato, a case of viral meningitis, and Larkspur, a case of Shigella.

Cleaning, Laundry Center To Open

A new coin-operated dry cleaning and laundry center will be opened Saturday at 5482 Highway 101, Novato, south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The establishment known as Philco-Bendix Sunshine Center will be owned and operated by William F. Breeze of 92 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, and Louis Scott of Albany. Both men have owned coin-operated laundries in the past.

Scott said the center will have eight dry cleaning machines, 16 washers, eight dryers as well as a coin-operated pressing machine, "adjustoform" device and a 25-pound rug washing machine.

Women's hair drying equipment will be added later, he said.

Novato High Future Teachers Unit Elects

Rick Whitney has been elected president of the Chalkdusters, Novato High School's chapter of the Future Teachers of America.

Tom Reilly was named first vice president, and Ted Bloyd second vice president. Barbara Skinner was elected secretary, and Wendy Hardcastle, treasurer.

Fair Employment 'Policing' Need Told

By CHAPIN A. DAY

A "beautiful policy" of fair employment practice is not enough in an industry unless there is "someone responsible for policing it." This responsibility may even include going out to recruit minority workers for jobs in industry if they don't come through normal channels.

C. L. Dellums of Oakland, a member of the state Fair Employment Practices Commission, reported this yesterday, but added that "private employers by and large have accepted the law and are attempting to apply."

He said he had "documentation of more than 100 organizations which are now employing members of minority races for the first time as a result of the commission's activities." Even this number, however, is only an indication of success of the program because the "indirect results" merely because of the facts of the law may well be greater than those directly visible.

Dellums was speaking as the leader of one of four FEPC workshops held yesterday in the Mark Hopkins Hotel, San Francisco, as part of the third anniversary conference of the FEPC. More than 350 persons, including representatives of Tamalpais Union High School District, Marin City, and other Marin localities, participated in the luncheon and afternoon workshops.

John G. Feild, executive director of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities, was the principal luncheon speaker. Feild said three classes of problems face fair employment—the attitude of management, workers' environment which includes education, and the element of time. But "a truly massive effort could mark the decade of the '60s as one of the great breakthrough in modern race relations," he declared.

John F. Henning, director of the state Department of Industrial Relations, brought a message from the governor in which Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed strengthening of FEPC, increasing education and training opportunitties for the minorities, and strengthening of state law against housing discrimination.

John Anson Ford, FEPC chairman, praised legislators and individuals working to obtain FEPC and the commission staff. Mentioned specifically was Fred Gunsky of Mill Valley, FEPC educational officer, praised for the recently issued pamphlet "Success Story" illustrating job opportunities for minority youths.

The four-workshop session concerned the law and its application, the private employer, public employers and educational responsibilities.

Discussed were 1,800 complaints filed in the three years of the commission's existence; ways workers can get proper education, be trained, find jobs; the role of the schools and public organizations, and complaints or suggestions about operation of the commission.

One East Bay woman suggested minority students be allowed to visit minority-run businesses to see how they can help themselves. "Who's more financially secure than a Negro undertaker?" she asked.

The conference wound up with a final session in which the activity of the four workshops was reported.

Sims To Speak On Delinquency

"What every parent should know about juvenile delinquency" will be the subject of a talk by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. at an open house given by Mill Valley American Legion Post 284 at 8 p.m. Monday in Legion Hall.

W. P. Duhamel, Marin County veterans' service officer, will speak on "What every veteran and wife should know."

Post Commander Francis W. Mosher Jr. said the program is for Southern Marin veterans. It is being arranged by Porter M. Griffith of Sausalito, second vice commander.

Eucalyptus Tree Study Is Asked

Mill Valley Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks asked the city engineer and city manager last night to inspect four or five tall eucalyptus trees on Montford Avenue Ethel Avenue with the possibility of having them removed.

He said the trees, at least 80 feet tall, pose a threat to property backing on Montford and to traffic. He said a branch recently fell in the back yard of Lt. Col. Mark Cory, 7 Robertson Terrace. It was a big branch, about eight inches in diameter at its base, he said.

"I know it's a subject of high sensitivity," he said. "But the trees are a hazard. I think they should be removed."

Mill Valley Slates Lots Size Hearing

Resident of Mill Valley will have a chance to state their views Oct. 17 on the minimum square footage that should be required on lots for apartment developments.

Mill Valley city councilmen stated their views last night and they were far from complete agreement. The zoning ordinance as it stands now calls for at least 3,000 square feet per apartment unit in level areas and 1,500 square feet in hillside areas.

The council set the hearing on a proposed amendment that would require 2,500 square feet throughout the city.

Councilman Michael Wornum asked how the council had arrived at this figure.

He said he regretted being absent at the last council meeting when his fellow councilmen voted against allocating money to the planning commission for a study of the problem.

"This is like pinning the tail on the donkey," he said. "Needs vary according to location."

He argued that a blanket ordinance would not fill the bill and protested against any changes that would force Mill Valley to spread out. One of the charms of this city, he said, is its dense, central area.

Mayor Joseph F. Sheeks countered that the dense center of the city contributed to the traffic problem which often becomes acute.

Councilman William M. Secor said he would rather see a 3,000 square foot minimum per unit. Wornum said he would like to see some facts before he made up his mind.

However, councilmen finally agreed that they would hold the hearing on the basis of a 2,500-square-foot minimum.

The Mill Valley Council Also:

1. Adopted a resolution stating the council's opposition to Proposition 23, the state senate reapportionment measure on the November ballot which would base senate representation on population rather than the present base of territory.

2. Held over until Oct. 17 a report on the condition of "B" or secondary streets in the city on which council hopes to avoid a maintenance responsibility. City Engineer Stanley Bala, asked to make a survey of the streets, said he needs more time to complete his report.

3. Authorized spending $1,500 for planting in the center strip of Miller Avenue in the Camino Alto area.

4. Learned from City Atty. Leland Jordan that a uniform county dog ordinance is being prepared and will get to city managers in about two weeks for study.

5. Asked City Manager A. E. Almcrants to find out if residents of the Alvarado Avenue, Manor Drive area would be willing to put in curbs and gutters and necessary drainage in a proposed street improvement project. Thirteen members of the Manor Drive Improvement Club asked the city to consider acceptance of the street for maintenance if residents improve it.

6. Pair warrants totaling $93,118.18.

7. Adjourned until Oct. 3.

Death Rate Steady

NEW YORK (UPI)—The death rate among America's nearly 100 million ordinary life insurance policyholders remained relatively unchanged last year at about six per 1,000, continuing the level held for the past decade, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Miller Avenue Parking Space Solution Seen

Mill Valley City Manager A. E. Almcrants told city councilmen last night that the Miller Avenue parking problem will be solved through the efforts of the police department and the city engineer.

Several complaints over scarce parking space, including one from the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, have been voiced. Almcrants said white strips for diagonal parking will be painted on the north side of the street and wide driveway accesses to some businesses will be reduced in order to add parking space.

City Engineer Stanley Bala said the white strips for parking must be considered only a temporary solution. Pavement in many areas must be widened and curbs and gutters constructed.

Councilmen asked Bala to prepare a design for curbs and sidewalks to assure a uniform development. Where there is sidewalk now, it often varies in both alignment and height from one lot to the next, Bala said.

Drunken Driver Gets $276 Fine

Leo Cosmo Lee, 45, of 100 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley, must pay $276 fine and remain on one year probation for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 in Sausalito last July 31.

Pink Houses Are Still Bother To Councilmen

Mill Valley city councilmen last night wondered what to do about two pink houses that sit on concrete blocks at the entrance to the city near the intersection of East Blithdale Avenue and Camino Alto.

"They must have come from someplace," Councilman Michael Wornum said with a wrinkled brow. "Couldn't we just have them moved back?"

City Atty. Leland Jordan shook his head.

The houses were moved to the location to be converted into professional offices. Planning commission approval for the move was revoked and a $1,000 bond posted for the project has been foreclosed.

"But that doesn't get rid of the houses," Jordan said.

David Paul of Mill Valley, owner of the buildings, told the council last month, that several people have lost money in the project already. Councilmen last night wondered how they can have them moved without any loss of taxpayers' money. There was no ready answer.

Failure Of Brakes Causes Accident

Brake failure yesterday caused a Fairfax driver in West Marin to steer into an embankment on purpose, which resulted in injuries to his Woodacre passenger.

Harold A. Keelen Jr. of 47 San Gabriel Drive told the California Highway Patrol that he had been using his brakes vigorously on Point Reyes Peninsula roads and they suddenly "faded" as he was northbound on Balboa Avenue near Inverness Park.

Keelen steered into the bank in order to stop. The car tumbled backward onto its top in the road, then bounced onto its wheels and ran forward to come to rest against a big oak.

His passenger Clifford Slattery suffered a head cut for which he was treated by a Point Reyes Station physician.

Greenbrae Recreation Plan Is Withdrawn

Niels Schultz Jr., bowing to the wishes of Greenbrae residents, announced today that there will be no private recreation club on his property in Los Cerros-Manor Road area. "I said I would be guided by the residents' sentiments," Schultz said after seeing results of a poll in which 90 per cent of Greenbrae's 925 families opposed plans by East Bay investors to build a swimming pool and tennis club on the property.

Schultz said the investors may consider another site, "but I don't know that they are very serious about it."

Schultz stated his decision by letter yesterday to the Greenbrae Property Owners' Assn., which conducted the poll last month.

William G. Fleckles, association president, announced Aug. 22 that the proposed club was opposed by 95 per cent of those voting close to the eight and one-half acre site, 93 per cent throughout the community and 92 per cent of the association membership.

Marin Visitors Bureau Facing Grim Problem With Mrs. Dearth

The Marin Visitors Bureau is deadly serious.

If there is any doubt, all you have to do is look at the set of Mrs. Esther Dearth's chin when she talks about it. She has been pushing the bureau along with a solid conviction that what we do to interest visitors and tourists—and get more of them—is as important to Marin County progress as more building, new industry and lower taxes, which will then follow in natural sequence as the night the day.

Maggi Gnau, the bureau's managing and working director, is just about as grim, and imbued with the same sense of urgency.

"We should get to work on visitors when they buy their first tank of gas and drink their first glass of water in Marin," she told the Marin County Real Estate Board meeting at Dominic's last Tuesday morning. "And we need to educate everyone in giving this service so they can answer questions about the county.

"I doubt if even you smart real estate people fully realize what we have here."

MISS GNAU SAID she experimented by pretending to be an out of town visitor at service stations and restaurants. Accurate information was pitifully lacking in response to her inquiries.

She said much of the bureau's time is spent in answering telephone and mail inquiries. "And we have to satisfy all of them because you never know where the seeds you've planted will grow," she commented.

The tourist business is one of the fastest growing industries in the country, she said. "All people talk about is where they are going on their next vacation and where they are going to retire.

"EVENTUALLY we intend to go into direct advertising, but first we have to determine how the money can be spent most effectively. In spite of the fact that the county has increased our budget allowance we still need additional finances. Right now, in planning to spend what we have we almost have to play it by ear. Some brochures are made up but still more are needed."

The bureau's program is somewhat complicated by seeking to attract visitors and at the same time giving them additional facilities when they get here.

Among various projects are the promotion of pleasure boating as a primary industry in Marin, compiling information on the points of interest, preserving historical sites and having adequate markers. More accommodations for groups and conventions, more places to feed them.

"WE NEED encouragement for what we are trying to do from the business people who will eventually benefit by it, and we need volunteer help—but most of all, we need money," she concluded.

All of which is by way of promoting the bureau's current campaign for membership. The odds are high that you will be approached — as a business firm, organization, contributing sponsor or individual. Memberships are available in these several categories.

The toughest problem, it seems, is getting enough interest aroused here at home in stimulating interest elsewhere.

Summary Of ICC Tunnel Report

Carriers serving Marin County would not gain and the public would lose if Northwestern Pacific Railroad were allowed to abandon San Rafael service as petitioned to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This seems the nub of a 5,000-word recommendation against abandonment filed with the commission in Washington, D.C., by examiner F. Roy Linn as result of hearings stretching through most of the first half of this year.

Toward the end of his lengthy summary of facts plus his own analysis, Linn wrote:

The beneficiary of the abandonment apparently would be applicant's stockholder and connecting carrier, Southern Pacific Co., who would realize as its principal benefit the liquidation or diminution of carrier competition.

"It further appears that the increase in gross revenues likely to accrue to Southern Pacific Co. as result of the proposed abandonment would not exceed the sum of the anticipated decrease in revenues by NWP and the estimated loss in revenues by Santa Fe, the effects being that the carriers serving the area would not as a group realize any net gain and the shipping public would be left with fewer facilities for rail transportation and materially less efficient and less frequent service."

Based on this, which in turn is buttressed by lengthy sifting of statements and testimony:

"The examiner finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity are not shown to permit abandonment . . . and that the application should be denied."

The application was to abandon the burned and collapsed Puerto Suello tunnel and 2.46 miles of track northward from San Rafael as result of a tunnel fire on July 20, 1961.

Linn said the line "is built in a pass through a series of hills (therefore) relocation is not feasible and if service is to be resumed, restoration of the tunnel will be necessary."

Studies on various methods of restoration, including a railroad estimated cost of $851,665, were found by Linn to boil down to relatively small discrepancies as between railroad and experts retained by the City of San Rafael.

ICC's verdict against permitting abandonment of freight service to Sausalito was recalled by Linn in dealing with the complex problem of calculating rail revenues. He found that the system followed by opponents of abandonment was backed by the Sausalito decision.

With reference to the railroad claim of adequate motor carrier service to Marin County Linn found "there is no competent evidence, however, that any of such carriers with exception of Pacific Motor Trucking Co., a subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co., in fact has available facilities . . . for any of the rail traffic in issue."

Since the tunnel fire stopped rail service, he wrote, shippers "have experienced reduction from daily to twice-weekly service with accompanying fluctuations in transit time, bunching of deliveries, and other inconveniences."

Concerning the railroad claim that the San Rafael-Tiburon area "has little, if any, future industrial potential," Linn found that traffic during the first five months of last year "suggests a possibility of improved conditions along NWP lines, and in conjunction with the studies by protestants tends to support the conclusion that need for transportation service, including rail service, is not undergoing an immediate and catastrophic decline.

"It also should be kept in mind that the effects of the proposed abandonment will not be confined to the main line points of San Rafael to Tiburon, inclusive."

Restoration of the tunnel will involve relining the entire bore, Linn concluded on a basis of extensive testimony about probable conditions not actually inspected. However, he did not exclude the possibility that replacement of burned sections would suffice.

Concerning the railroad's submission that the state highway division must spend many additional thousands of dollars in widening Highway 101 if the tunnel isn't abandoned, Linn cited a court case justifying introduction of such testimony but knocked it down because of the state's slowness in acting:

"There is no indication," he said, "that highway authorities have ordered or approved any specific changes in the highway system in the area and such changes as ultimately may be made admittedly are five to 10 years away.

"The adoption herein of any definite cost figures in respect to possible future highway construction accordingly is not warranted."

Drawing toward his final conclusions, Linn said:

"NWP apparently is able, financially and otherwise, to restore the tunnel, and upon basis of its own revenues and expense figures will realize net revenues from continued operation through the tunnel that will justify reconstruction of the tunnel and the resumption of service through it . . .

"Accomplishment of the (abandonment) proposal would leave south of the tunnel site on uneconomic 'island' system with limited, roundabout and unsatisfactory access by water only, which most assuredly would be expected to deteriorate further, both physically and in financial results, until it becomes itself a burden upon interstate commerce and a legitimate candidate for abandonment."

Gwen Stone Art At College Gallery

Forty oil paintings and monoprints by Gwen Stone went on exhibit at the College of Marin Art Gallery in Kentfield last night, as the College Art Department inaugurated a new policy of monthly shows by well-known Marin artists.

Miss Stone, a Larkspur resident, has been an award winner in various shows, including the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Her most recent award was a third place ribbon out of 350 entries in the fifth annual Delta Art Show at Antioch, Contra Costa County, last weekend.

The exhibit will run through Oct. 19, according to Edwin A. Cadogan, director of the College of Marin art department.

Gallery hours are: Monday, 3 to 5 p.m.; Tuesday, noon to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, 3 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.; Thursday, noon to 5 p.m., and Friday, 3 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

Flu Fells Marin Prep Gridders; Drake Hardest Hit

The flu bug has already reared up its ugly head on the gridirons of Marin high schools as coaches reported many chargers missed a few days of practice this week because of the virus.

Biggest hit were Drake and Terra Linda high schools. About 12 gridders from Drake were out for a short while this week because of the bug and eight missed drills from Terra Linda.

Tam only had four players out but one of them was Warren Domino who missed practice Tuesday. He will still start for the Indians in their next game Saturday, but his strength may not be up to par. Domino's speed in the Tam backfield is one of the team's high points.

Novato Hornets had three athletes out with the flu during the week, but none was missing from drills at Redwood. But, said head coach Bob Troppmann, "I'm knocking on wood."

San Rafael wasn't hit either, reported coach Bob Muster.

Coach Doug Damaschino at Marin Catholic High School said the flu had not hit his gridders but, worse yet, starting tackle Joe Hebel, a senior, will be out for at least a week with a case of pneumonia.

The Terra Linda gridders are getting ready for a contest with Sonoma High which will be played Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Terra Linda High. The T. L. Trojans have been working on their passing game and defense during this week. Head coach Pete Limm said quarterback Dick Schultze has been coming along good with the passing arm.

The Drake Pirates have been working quite a bit this week on defense and different ways to stop wide runs. And they have good reason to be concerned with the wide stuff. Their foes for Saturday will be the gridders from Edison High of Stockton. This team carries six backs who run the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds flat. Whew!

The Marin Catholic Wildcats are making ready for their game with the Cloverdale gridders tomorrow night, 8 o'clock, at Kentfield. According to coach Damaschino, Cloverdale has a "good scrappy club." The Wildcats held a scrimmage yesterday and were to hold light workouts today.

Coach Troppmann at Redwood High concentrated on the Giants' passing during the week's drills in preparation for Saturday's 8 p.m. game with Montgomery High at Santa Rosa. Game captains for the second Giant game, chosen by the team members, will be quarterback Jim Troppmann and linebacking star Steve Minutoli.

The Novato Hornets, after their 26-0 loss last week, centered their work this week around the offense. The Hornets will host Ukiah Saturday at 2 p.m.

The Tam gridders, picked for big things this year, know they have their work cut out for them Saturday when they take on Castlemont of Oakland in Kentfield at 2 p.m. Castlemont's line averages 200 pounds and there are two 9.9 backfield aces on the squad. Head coach Pete Belden has been stressing offensive workouts this week, especially in the passing department. He knows he'll need a few touchdowns to win this game.

The San Rafael Bulldogs concentrated on getting a big charge from their linemen during this week, as they worked hard on the seven-man sleds. San Rafael will host St. Mary's High School tomorrow at 8 p.m. The gridders also worked to polish up the running game for tomorrow's contest.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Marin Track Club Has A Monopoly; Title Fight On TV In Richmond

Through the years baseball fans have been heard to cry, "Break up the Yankees." They referred, of course, to the New York baseball club that has dominated the major leagues with ridiculous ease. It's not fair, the fans complain, for one team to have all the best players; break 'em up and distribute them among the other teams, they reasoned.

Now we're confronted with a similar athletic monopoly right here in the county—the Marin Athletic Club. Fans of long distance foot races want to "break up" Coach Jim Imperiale's M.A.C. because it has won so many titles in recent years that a warehouse is needed just to store the trophies.

Just last Sunday, for example, the M.A.C. won the Dipsea Race team title for the fourth straight year. Since the club has been in operation for only four years, that's a pretty fair monopoly, wouldn't you say?

Even though their best runner, Darryl Beardall, wasn't feeling up to snuff and finished far down the list, the Marin runners still easily won the championship.

The club's first five men and the order in which they finished were Stu Sparling, third; Bill Ranny, fourth; Wes Hildreth, fifth; Bill Ferlatte, seventh, and Jay Pengra, thirteenth.

No other team was close in the scoring. That's why they're hollering, "Break up the Marin A.C."

IF YOU'RE planning to take in a theater-TV showing of the Patterson-Liston brawl next Tuesday, Richmond Auditorium is the closest location for Marin fans.

Promoter Matt Zidich says the auditorium holds 3,756 customers and the Richmond box office will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday and Monday and all day Tuesday. Prices are $5.50, $6.50, $7.50 and $8.70.

CAPTAIN CLYDE HICKEY of Mill Valley, who directs the Schenley Sportsmen's Club, passes along this tid-bit: "Fred Tyler of Port Hueneme found a two-foot long diamond back rattlesnake in the stomach of a 16-inch bull bass he caught. I thought I would pass this one along because Bay Area striper fishermen might want to gather up a bucket of rattlesnakes and try them out on the striped bass. If they workout alright, the fishermen could raise their own bait."

Thanks, Captain, but no thanks.

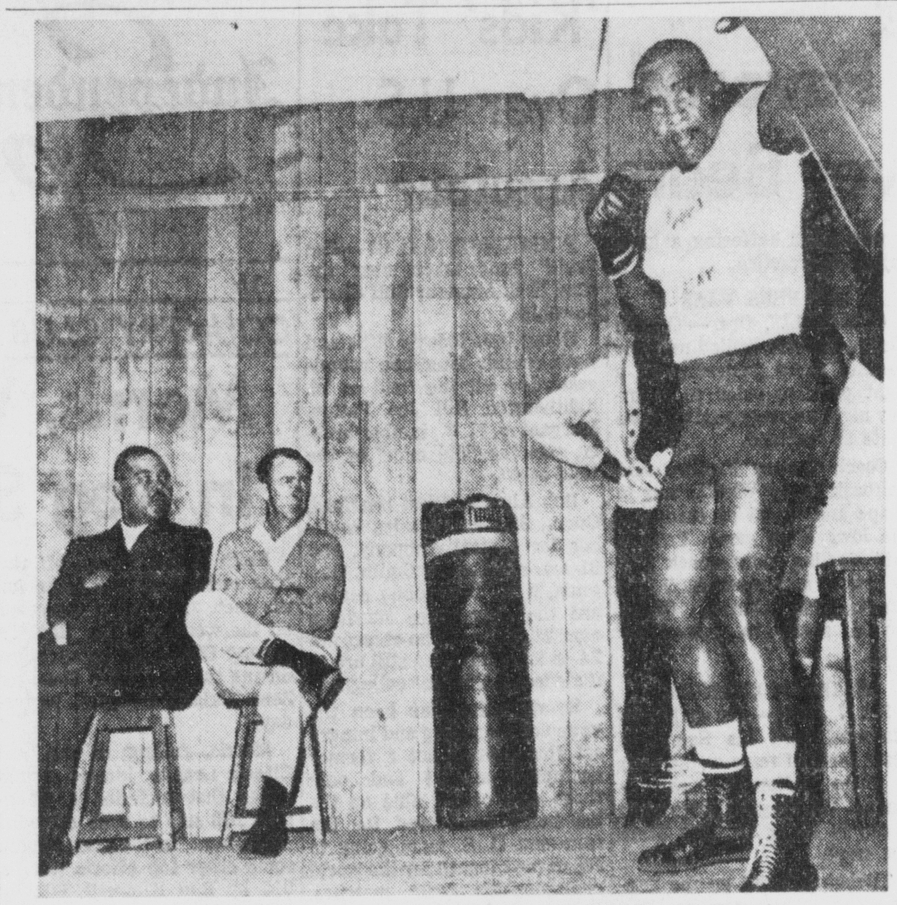
COACH PETE LIMM is calling guard Stan Pareto the "thinking man's lineman" at Terra Linda High School after last Saturday's come-from-behind 12-7 victory over Fort Bragg.

With only a few minutes to go and T.L. trailing 6-7, Pareto told Limm: "I've spotted a weakness; I think we can move well up the middle." That's just where the T.L. offense was directed and the Trojans marched 48 yards in eight plays for the winning touchdown.

JAY LATHROP, best prep miler in Marin history, has enrolled as a freshman at U. of Cal. The San Rafael High grad was timed in the low 4:20s last track season.

FOR A second stringer, Novato's Jack Sparrow was a whiz in U. of Pacific's big opening win over Brigham Young last Saturday night. Lanky Jack completed 8 of 11 passes for 120 yards and two touchdowns. But that was only as a substitute; just wait until he warms up.

ANOTHER FORMER Marin prep, Kent Francisco from San Rafael, was chosen this week by sports writers as the West Coast "sophomore lineman most likely to succeed." Kent is a tackle for UCLA.



'BROWN BOMBER' STUDIES LISTON

Heavyweight challenger Sonny Liston works on heavy bag at his Aurora, Ill., training camp as he is watched by former champ Joe Louis (left) and manager Jack Nilon. Liston will fight champion Floyd Patterson for the title next Tuesday night in Chicago. Fight will be shown on closed circuit TV, including the Richmond Auditorium. (AP Wirephoto)

Bud Foster, one of the Bay Area's most familiar sports "voices" and one of the most lauded, has been named sports editor of Channel 7. The appointment is effective Oct. 15.

The announcement was made today by ABC Vice President and General Manager of KGO-TV, David M. Sacks.

Drysdale Becomes 25-Game Winner As L.A. Wins, 4-0

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Don Drysdale applying the stop and Maury Wills the go, the Los Angeles Dodgers are back on the track in their stretch drive for the National League's winner circle.

Drysdale put the stopper on the Dodgers' three-game losing string yesterday with a five-hit pitching gem as the front-runners knocked off Milwaukee's streaking Braves 4-0.

Wills triggered the attack by opening the game with a single, stealing second, moving to third on a bunt hit and scoring the only run Drysdale needed on a double-play grounder.

The Dodger whippet has 94 steals, with one game left to match or better Ty Cobb's 154 game record of 96. His chance to better the 47-year-old mark will come tomorrow night at St. Louis against the Cardinals.

The Dodgers maintained their 3-game lead over the San Francisco Giants, who powered their way out of a six-game losing slump on homers by Willie Mays and Tom Haller and beat the Cards, 7-4. The loss was the eighth in a row for St. Louis.

Bob Friend pitched a six-hitter and Donn Clendenon homered as Pittsburgh trimmed Cincinnati by 1-0, dropping the third-place Reds 5½ games off the pace. Philadelphia downed Chicago 4-3 in a doubleheader opener shortened to six innings by rain . The second Phillies-Cub game was postponed, as was the twi-night doubleheader scheduled at New York between the Mets and Houston.

In the American League, the New York Yankees stayed four games in front by overcoming Washington 8-5, runnerup Minnesota swamped Detroit 12-5,, Los Angeles bombed Baltimore, 9-4, Chicago edged Boston 3-2 in 10 innings, and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 10-9.

Drysdale (25-7) did not allow a man past second base in throttling the Braves, winners of five straight and two in a row against Los Angeles. The hard-throwing right-hander posted his 19th complete game and struck out nine, boosting his league-leading total to 218.

Frank Howard rapped reliever Jack Curtis for a 450-foot homer in the ninth, the massive outfielder's 30th.

Bob Friend of the Pirates became an 18-game winner with his six-hit shutout of Cincinnati. Clendenon settled matters in the seventh with his homer.

By winning their abbreviated match with the Cubs, the Phillies made it five straight victories, 14 in their last 17 games and moved up to the .500 mark for the first time since May.

Gilbert Named To Manage Giants' Tacoma Farm Club

TACOMA, Wash., (UPI) — Andy Gilbert, manager of the Springfield, Mass., entry in the Eastern League for the past six seasons, will pilot Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League next year.

Rosy Ryan, general manager of the Tacoma Club, announced yesterday that Gilbert had been named to replace Red Davis.

Gilbert was with the Boston Red Sox from 1939 to 1941. Ryan said that Gilbert had been instrumental in developing such baseball talent as Juan Marichal, Tom Haller, Bob Farley, Gerry Thomas and Chuck Hiller for the San Francisco Giants. Tacoma is the Giants' number one farm team.

S.F. Sends Sanford To Mound Tonight

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants called on 22-game winner Jack Sanford today as they fought to hold on to their slim chance for the National League flag.

The Giants found their batting eyes again last night as they scored a comeback 7-4 win over the St. Louis Cards behind lefty Billy O'Dell.

Los Angeles also won so the Giants are still 3½ games in back of the Dodgers. San Francisco at least managed to cement its grip on second place since Cincinnati lost to Pittsburgh, 1-0, to fall two games back of the Giants.

Willie Mays and Tom Haller were the heroes of last night's win over the Cards. Mays' whacked a three-run homer off loser Larry Jackson to highlight a five-run third inning.

Mays' homer was number 45 for the year and fattened his run batted in total to 129, his high in 11 years as a Giant. Mays is current major league leader in homers.

Haller swatted roundtrippers in the second and third innings to drive in three more runs.

O'Dell looked as though he might be in for an early shower when the Cards bombed four hits and four runs off him in the first frame. Ken Boyer bombed a two-run homer and Del Maxvill whacked a bases-loaded single to account for the Redbird runs.

Manager Al Dark stayed with O'Dell and his decision was a wise one. O'Dell gave up only six more hits the rest of the contest to fatten his record to 18-13. O'Dell fanned six and walked two.

The Giants, who snapped a six-game loss streak, compiled 11 hits, the high for the current disastrous road swing.

Other Giants who especially helped their average included Harvey Kuenn and Chuck Hiller with two hits apiece. Boyer had three hits for the Cards and Bill White two.

Sanford, who has lost seven, will battle the Cards' Ernie Broglio (11-8) tonight. The Giants then move into Houston for a three-game set starting tomorrow.

Seals Hold First Ice Hockey Drill

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals looked good in their first hockey scrimmage, according to coach Bud Poile.

For yesterday's workout, Poile started a front line of Duke Edmonston and Danny Belisle at the wings and Ed Panagbko at center. They worked out so well together that speculation immediately arose that this could be the Seals front line this winter.

Tars Open Tomorrow; Outlook Is Bright

College of Marin Tars, with hopes of navigating their '62 football ship through another successful season, will open their grid schedule tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Menlo against Menlo College.

Despite seven early practice injuries, head coach Dick Read seems optimistic about the Tar season outcome, and has good reason to, after a look at his starting offensive lineup.

His backfield is made up of three returning lettermen, Ron Cole, Jim Lonsford and Jim Lucas, and a newcomer quarterback in Curtis Embry who played frosh ball last season at Utah State.

Read knows he will have a rough foe in the season opener, but says, "We will give a good account for ourselves." And the Tars will probably do just that.

Defensive halfback Ruben Moten with a sprained ankle, fullback Scott Moriarty with a knee injury and tackle Frank Gallardo with a damaged nose are among the injuries, but Read feels Moriarty and Gallardo may get into the Menlo battle.

Other injuries to the Tar squad were tackle Elmer Collett with a broken thumb, halfback Dan Collins with a shoulder injury, Bill Kane with a hurt knee, and Ray Edwards, also with a bruised knee.

The Tar gridders had their roughest practice during the first two weeks of practice which started Sept. 3. Drills have tapered off during this week as the footballers have been concentrating on polishing up their offense and defense.

The Tar football team also spent some time reviewing the films of last season's game with Menlo, which the Tars lost, 12-0. Menlo uses a wide open Pro T offense, with split end and wide flankerbacks.

The College of Marin starting lineup tomorrow will be:

The balance of the Tar roster includes Tom Baker (5-8, 170); Mike Crean (5-10, 160); Dan Collins (5-10, 180); Ray Edwards (6-0, 188); Dave Shore (5-11, 170); Dave Simmonds (5-9½, 140); Bob Zumwalt (5-6, 170); Scott Moriarty (6-1, 204); Dennis White (5-10, 215); Bill Callister (5-10, 185); Tony Cusimano (6-1, 184); Lyle Baucom (6-5, 248); Don Ippolito (6-0, 250); Warren Nickel (6-1, 205); Kelly Scott (6-0, 206); Ken Wolcott (5-10, 190); Curt Davis (5-8, 174); Glade Grenke (5-11, 190); John Omli (5-11, 185); Bob Souza (5-7, 170); Dwight Stewart (5-10, 180); and John Storrs (6-2, 212).

Boat Owners: Here's A Sure Cure For Those Uninvited Weekenders

They have been dropping in on the boat owner every weekend. They are as much a part of summer as sunburn and mosquitoes. They are ravenous. And hungry. Also terribly thirsty.

They are that great multitude of uninvited weekenders who drop by to say hello. And to take a look at your "wonderful boat." They come as far away as Lower Zambezi, and tell you a friend of a friend said to look you up.

There's still time to chop up that welcome mat on your dock, scatter tacks around the head and put ipecac in the beer. A smallpox sign on your craft's windshield is a tiny bit obvious—but you can't get too defensive.

If you hear dogs barking, kids screaming and a horn tooting, find the aspirin and swallow two. This gang will help you market. They love to. But before you can put hamburger, beans, cheap beer and "rat trap" cheese into your basket, they will have it loaded. Such dainties. Filet mignon, champagne, lobster, and jars from romantic far-away places. And you with $4.83 until payday. If you're ambidextrous and quick you can slip some of it back on the shelves. But, when you get to the checking stand, you are ALONE. They're reading magazines.

They're very particular. Food must be hot — and on time. Drinks, cold—and all the time. This crowd is spry enough to untidy your boat, yet, when the galley is a horror of dirty dishes, they all sink into a deep coma.

Never forget to yank your ship-to-shore phone wires out by the roots or you'll be sorry. And the telephone company will be able to declare an extra dividend.

When they leave, never bother to count your silverware, or towels. Just count the kids. They've probably left you one of theirs.

One boat owner we know licked this racket. He put a huge sign on his boat which read:

RATES
BREAKFAST ..Stew, $2.50
LUNCH .....Stew, $3.50
DINNER .....Stew $4.50

So far the City Fathers, Board of Equalization and County Planners haven't spotted his sign.

"LOOK FOR the Blue Ribbon Hull with the Two-Year Guarantee." This is Dorsett's new 1963 slogan. Actually, they do have a blue ribboned waterline. According to Harold Taylor and George Manz of Channel Boat Sales, Inc., "Two new hull designs will be presented. Our 16 and 17-foot runabouts, hardtops and cruisers will make the scene at Channel in two to three weeks. The boat buyer will find them new in every way. Soft ride, new appointments, wonderful performance. From 16 feet up, models will also be available with inboard-outdrive. Choice of motors includes the Volvo, Mercruiser, and the Eaton in 100 h.p. and the 120 h.p. V8.

THE CRUISING CLUB members of Sausalito held their annual pot luck dinner Wednesday evening. Arriving by boat, car and "hoof" the affair was termed a dandy. Commodore Dick Hayes, of San Francisco, has charge of the active group of boaters who own boats sized from dinghies to yachts, and their club house fronts the bay, next to Sausalito Boat Yard.

ONCE UPON a time Chris Craft went a little "hog wild." . . . For one year it built a sleekly beautiful craft, along the lines of the unlimited-class Gold-Cup racing hydros. It rooster-tailed away on three down-draft carbs and 131 "horses." Yet, showing everything but a profit for the company, it priced itself right off the market. That's the way it happened back in 1955.

BOB KNUDSEN, Chris Craft Sales, has one, in marvelous condition. "It's truly a collector's item, and today they're very hard to find," he told us. Anyone wanting to see a zippy orphan, is welcome to take a look.

QUESTION: Isn't an outboard motor supposed to flip up when it hits something? My 50 h.p. didn't. . . . I almost flipped, and lost part of the lower unit.

Disillusioned, Stinson Beach

ANSWER: If you have a split second choice, hit a log or sandbar head on. Never at an angle. Your mounted motor has the ability to swing up when the lower unit strikes an obstacle. Then it usually swings down and continues operation. But, it can't tip correctly when it hits at an angle. And on the subject of motor tilting: Be sure it won't tilt and wham your back-seat passenger on the back of his head. Test-tilt for clearance.

COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Missouri Favored By 10 Over Bears

By UP INTERNATIONAL

BERKELEY — University of California tackle Lauren Bock, out of action for four days with a charley horse, worked out with the Bear varsity today and was expected to start against Missouri Saturday.

The Bears held their final heavy contact scrimmage prior to the Missouri game, yesterday. The teams will meet at Berkeley. Missouri is a 10-point favorite.

STANFORD LINEUP

Coach Jack Curtice and his Stanford Indians left today for New Orleans and the season opener against Tulane tomorrow night.

Curtice picked his starters yesterday, including ends Steve Pursell and Frank Patitucci, tackles Chuck Buehler and Bob Nichols, guards Marv Harris and Frank Dubofsky, center C. B. Simons, quarterback Steve Thurlow, halfbacks J. D. Lodato and Gordon Craig, and fullback Ed Cummings.

CRIPPLED DUCKS

EUGENE, Ore. — The crippled Oregon Ducks left by plane today for Austin, Tex., and Saturday night's season inaugural with the rugged Longhorns of Texas.

The Ducks will work out tonight and tomorrow at Austin. The Texas game will be the first varsity experience for quarterback Bob Berry, who took over when veteran Doug Post was declared out for the season after suffering a knee injury in practice.

BEAVERS PASS

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Oregon State's Beavers drilled on their passing game yesterday in a light practice prior to Saturday night's opener against Iowa State at Portland.

Coach Tommy Prothro said halfback Leroy Whittle was in shape and would be ready for the Iowa State game. Prothro said starting quarterback Terry Baker and reserves Rich Brooks and Gordon Queen looked sharp in yesterday's drill.

SPARTAN CHANGES

SAN JOSE — Coach Bob Titchenal said his San Jose State football team would look a little different Saturday against Washington State than it did in losing to Utah State last week.

TIGERS DRILL

STOCKTON — University of Pacific's Tigers hoping to win their second in a row when they play New Mexico State at Las Cruces Saturday night, worked out yesterday against their opponents' formations.

The Tigers opened the season last week with a 26-7 win over Brigham Young.

Ringey Gets New Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Ringey, who has a good chance of being named American League manager of 1962, has just been named manager of 1963 and 1964 by the Los Angeles Angels.

Ringey, who will probably finish third with a team that was supposedly destined for oblivion said his new two- year contract "is the fattest I've ever had."

Ringey was believed to be making about $33,000 under his original contract. The new one may put him in the $40,000 bracket, or even higher.

Sports Car Club To Present 'Ye Half Vast Trials'

The Universal Sports Car Club will present the second annual "Ye Half Vast Trials" on Oct. 14, three miles north of San Rafael and one mile west of Highway 101 on the Lucas Valley Road.

The event is an autocross type, simulating driving conditions of the early 1900s, on unpaved ground. The course will not include mud, water or rocks.

Proceeds of the event will go to the Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. Some 31 trophies will go to the winners of various classes and divisions.

The course is on 200 acres of rolling hills, according to event officials. Persons interested in entering should write to: Rallye Master, 1145 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

'Kids' Take Over U.S. Amateur

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) —The "kids" have taken over the 62nd U. S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Going into today's fifth and sixth rounds after two rounds yesterday cut the field to 16, lighthearted Bill Joe Patton, Morganton, N. C., lumber broker, was the "old man" of the field at 40.

Bob Allen of West Hartford, Conn., 38-year-old sales engineer for a steel company, and 31-year-old Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N. C. automobile dealer, are the only other survivors over 25. Eight of the others are 24 or less and three still are in their teens. Nine are collegians.

So devasting has been the sweep of the young and hungry set that there's not a former champion around and only three men of the nine on the list being considered for the four-man U. S. team going to Japan next month for the world championship team matches. Patton, Smith and Arkansan Dick Sikes, 22-year-old winner of the last two Public Links titles make up the trio.

WARD ELIMINATED

Such notables as former champions Dick Chapman, Harvie Ward and Deane Beman and Dr. Edgar Updegraff and Marion Methvin, semi-finalist last year, went out during the third and fourth rounds yesterday.

Beman was vanquished by Homero Blancas, 24, of the University of Houston, in a 24-hole marathon in the fourth round after each had breezed to victory in the morning.

Blancas opened the fifth round today against the "baby" of the field, 18-year-old Dave Marad, Massachusetts schoolboy champion from Milton, who is going to sharpen his game this winter while serving as a bellboy on the staff of a nearby resort hotel.

ONE-UP MARGINS

Patton went up against John McKey Jr., 19, of Orlando, Fla., and Duke University, who won a pair of 1-up matches from Don Albert, a semi-finalist nine years ago, and Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion.

The other four spots in the upper half of the draw all were filled by collegians. Labron Harris Jr., 20, of Oklahoma State, son of the professional golfer, met 22-year-old Sikes. The championship of Athens was at stake, among other things, when Bob Littler, 19, of Ohio University and Athens, Ohio, played Jim Gabrielson, 20, of the University of Georgia and Athens, Ga.

Halas Honored By Sonoma Group

SONOMA (UPI) — George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, was made an honorary member of the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The chamber conferred membership on Halas after he credited the "marvelous curative waters" of nearby Boyes Springs for the Bears' opening upset 30-14 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

Hair-Raising Price

NEW YORK (UPI) — The women's wig fad has sent up the price of human hair. One Chicago wig maker says he pays as much as $10 an ounce for top quality hair, or $4 more than a year ago. Hair imports last year totaled $280,000 but have already topped that figure this year.

Club Plans Buck Hunt This Week; Annual Run Of Stripers Under Way

STEVENS

A special outing notice for a deer hunt submitted by the always active Southern Pacific Rod and Gun Club came in the mail, advising that a camp will be made on Shady Creek in Nevada County, four miles south of North San Juan, near French Corral. All members are to bring food, sleeping bag, rifle, ammunition, canteen and deer tag.

Of particular interest is a P.S. reading: "Please sight in rifles before hunt—fire at least five shots to make sure it's shooting where it's looking!"

Another item of interest is the following: "In accordance with usual practice, the hunter who kills a deer will take half, the other half being divided among the other hunters."

JUDGING by the report from the Department of Fish and Game the boys should have fairly good luck. Of Nevada County, the department says: "Nevada—Most private and public lands within the national forest are accessible and unposted. Roads are in good condition and numerous four-wheel drive roads exist. Deer are scattered and hunting success will be best above the 4,500-foot elevation. Bucks are in good condition. Fawn survival and buck carryover were good except on the east side where they were low."

THE SEASON on bear also opens on Saturday. Don't forget a bear tag (costing $1) is necessary and, also bear in mind, when hunting bears during the open season on deer, only one dog per hunter is allowed.

TO ANSWER a request — It is legal to use a shotgun for the taking of both deer and bear PROVIDED said shotgun is capable of holding only three shells, firing single slugs. So the lack of a highpowered rifle need not deter you from hunting deer or bear.

If using a shotgun firing single slugs, you should sight the weapon in as you should with the rifle.

OF COURSE, if you heed the advice of the fish and game scouts and wait until the last two weeks of the late deer season to down your buck, and intend to supply the family with fish food this weekend, how about trying bait fishing on light tackle in the San Pablo Bay?

No question but what the annual run of fresh stripers is now under way. Use bullheads or sardines or anchovies, if the winds behave, and your chances are very very good of making the grade with some nice fish.

Bear in mind that the ONLY condition which can slow down or halt the fast fishing now and for the next few weeks is wind in copious quantities.

So, I feel safe in signing off with my usual, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Bermuda Palms Baseballers Win

Litchfield's Bermuda Palms downed the Ben Franklin Press 7-6 Sunday during San Francisco C. League baseball action for boys 15 and under.

The Palms spotted the pressmen four runs in the first two innings and came back with a run in the second and four more in the third inning on their way to the victory. John Laufer, Dan Bell and Mark Maas each collected two of the winner's hits.

Winning pitcher was Ken Fowler for the Bermuda Palms nine.

S.F. Giants Sign Harvard Athlete

BINGHAM, Mass. (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants had a Harvard man under contract today.

Crimson captain Dave Morse yesterday signed with San Francisco and will report to the club's 1963 training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz.

NOVATAN TO CAPTAIN OSC

George Gnoss (above) 6-1, 200-pound senior guard from Novato, will captain the Oregon State Beavers this season. He and teammate Dick DeBisschop of San Anselmo expect to see considerable action in opener tomorrow against Iowa State. DeBisschop, 6-0, 192-pounds, is a senior center on the Oregon State team.

49er Pass Defense NFL's Best

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers were clobbered by the Chicago Bears in last Sunday's first NFL contest, but you would never know it looking at league statistics.

The Prospectors lead in six departments, mainly because they held the Bears' Billy Wade to 13 yards on 13 passes while collapsing before Chicago's running attack.

The statistics also presented a warning for the 49ers, who meet Detroit at the Motor City Sunday.

The Lions' Milt Plum leads all passers after hitting 21 of 30 passes for 251 yards and three touchdowns.

The 49er-Lion game will therefore pit the league's best pass defense against the top passer.

RAIDER FORMULA

OAKLAND (UPI) — Oakland Raiders defensive coach Red Conkright today gave the formula for beating Dallas next Sunday.

"To beat Dallas, you have to contain Abner Haynes," he said.

He said the best way to do this was to keep him from going around end. "If you keep Haynes inside and force him to cut back, then our pursuit has a chance to nail him before he gets up a head of steam."

Dallas meets the Raiders here Sunday. It will mark the debut of ex-Dallas quarterback Cotton Davidson at the controls of the Oakland offense.

THIS WEEKEND

Marinites Enter Reno Grand Prix

Marin County residents will play an active part in the second annual Reno Grand Prix this weekend at Stead Air Force Base, 12 miles north of Reno.

Duane Rice, 30-year-old auto salesman off 8 Oak Way, Ross will make his debut in Bud Oden's modified Triumph racing car. The College of Marin graduate has been racing since 1954, but this will be his first ride in the main event.

Open-wheeled formula junior cars will be the mounts of two Corte Madera men, Harry Martin Jr., 940 Meadowsweet, and Bill Dunne, 21 Pixley. Martin, who took second overall at the Oakland Grand Prix in July, races a Lotus 22, while Dunne pilots an older Lotus 18.

JUNIOR CONTESTS

Stro Jones, 275 Van Winkle Drive, San Anselmo, and his neighbor, Mike Worlund of 113 Van Winkle Drive, also will compete in the formula junior contests at Reno. Jones, former president of the Racing Drivers Club, will drive a Lotus 20, while Worlund competes in his BMC junior.

Two Marin women—Mrs. Odette Bigler, 830 La Playa Way, San Rafael, and Prudence Baxter, 3 Princess Lane, Sausalito, are slated to drive in the weekend races.

San Rafael contractor Charles Kuhn has entered his Porsche at Reno. Kuhn, of 510 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, took third in class at Cotati in August.

Frank Morrill will pit Kjell Qvale's XK-E against the Corvettes in the races for big production cars. The San Anselmo driver took second overall at Cotati earlier this year. He resides at 281 Oak Crest Road.

The local drivers will compete with some 200 other competitors, including Billy Krause of Long Beach in a Birdcage Maserati, Woolworth heir Lance Reventlow in his new Scarab, Don Hulette of Van Nuys in a Porsche RS-61 and Max Balchowsky in his "Old Yellar III."

The Reno Grand Prix is sponsored by the Reno Lions Club and underwritten by Harrah's-Reno for charity. The 14-race program will be conducted by the San Francisco Region, Sports Car Club of America, beginning at 9 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

Education Program Approved In Novato

The 1962-63 adult education program at Novato High School was approved Tuesday night by trustees of Novato Unified School District.

This year's program will offer a choice of classes similar to last year's, according to Robert McKeay, principal.

One course to be offered for the first time is "understanding securities investing," which will be taught by James Kethereid of Petaluma. It will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Other courses include clothing, woodshop, crafts, typing, citizenship preparation, bookkeeping, English for the foreign born, and business machines.

McKeay said that if enough people indicate a desire for any subject, it will be considered for a course.

Additional information can be had by phoning Novato High School, McKeay stated.

Most of the world's peanut crop is crushed into oil.

Sausalito Library Unit Backs Foundation Night

Friends of the Sausalito Library announced today they are assisting the Sausalito Foundation Inc. in presentation of the third annual Foundation Night to be held early in November. Proceeds are to go toward a new library.

At their meeting Monday Mrs. Marianne Schwartz was appointed treasurer to succeed Mrs. Edith Kodmur. It was announced that persons interested in joining the organization may communicate with Mrs. Lloyd S. Linton Sr. of 27 Edwards Avenue.

Wall Street, New York, was one of the first publicly lighted streets in the nation.

Marin State Assembly Candidates To Speak

Marin County candidates for State Assembly will speak at the Redwood High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Sept. 25 under sponsorship of the Redwood Political Club, a campus student group.

Incumbent Republican William Bagley and his Democratic opponent, Robert Carrow, will discuss capital punishment and the teaching of communism in the schools.

Larkspur School Chief Screening Set

The screening committee for a new superintendent of Larkspur School District will spend all day Saturday interviewing a dozen candidates, it was announced today.

The 12 have been selected from 50 applicants, some living as far away as Pennsylvania, said chairman Richard L. Foster of Greenbrae.

The interviews will be conducted at the Hilton Inn at San Francisco International Airport. Some candidates will fly in that day, said Foster.

From the 12 candidates, the committee will select three to five to recommend to Larkspur School District trustees, Foster said.

Paradise Cove Couple Sailing To Europe For Extended Tour

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hite of Paradise Cove sailed for Europe on the SS Rotterdam. After an extensive tour of the continent they will board the SS United States for the return cruise on the Atlantic. Several bon voyage parties were given in honor of the Hites.

FIVE COUPLES returned Monday from a delightful and unusual trip. In the party were the Ralston Hodgsons, Rowland Chapmans, H. Wallace Hickmans, Donald Perrys, of Marin and the Francis Donohues of Chico. They stayed at Laughing Waters, a resort on the Mackenzie River about 50 miles from Eugene, Ore. The Perrys flew north and the others traveled in two cars. The thrilling part of the vacation, which began Sept. 7, was shooting the rapids in boats with guides. That was when the best fishing was done.

THE JOSEPH JOHNSONS of Tiburon recently entertained her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver of New York City who were their houseguests for several weeks. The Johnsons gave a cocktail party and dinner in honor of the Weavers. The visitors also went to Lake Tahoe during their stay in California.

NANCY RITTER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ritter of Greenbrae, and Pam Gordon of Los Altos, both French majors at Stanford University and roommates, will study at the Sorbonne in Paris for their junior year. The girls will live with a family near the Sorbonne. Nancy and Pam will sail from New York on the S.S. France Sept. 28 and will visit a friend of Pam at Le Havre before going on to Paris. Nancy is a graduate of Katharine Branson School.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD G. SELLERS of San Rafael have returned from a cruise to Alaska on the S.S. Yukon Star. They went to Seattle first to see the World Fair for two days, then to Vancouver, B.C. where they boarded the ship. The cruise included stops at Ketchikan, Port Chilkoot, Haines, Skagway and Juneau. They saw the Mendenhall Glacier. At Skagway they took a trip by train to Lake Bennett where evidence of the gold rush remains. Enroute home Mr. and Mrs. Sellers went to Victoria, B.C.

A NUMBER of Marin people will attend the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Foris of Mill Valley are giving tonight in honor of Janos Ferencsik, following the final curtain of the opera Carmen. He is making his American debut as conductor of the opera. The maestro is general music director of the Budapest Opera. Mr. and Mrs. Foris are Hungarians and he studied under the direction of Ferencsik in Budapest. He is the accomplished cellist of the Marin Symphony.

Among the guests will be Sona Cervena, who is making her American debut in the role of Carmen, and Michael Lengdon, another singer in the opera. Present from Marin county will be Dr. and Mrs. William Pemberton, Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Meacham, Harold Schutte, Robert Schultz, Wayne Speckmann, Tibor Fecskes, D. B. Fyfe, George F. Weisbach, Edgar Framm, George Gelardi, George Goheen, Sam Herst, Tibor Szilas, William Parker, and Mrs. Jean Mattos Maguire.

MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN MILLER of Belvedere entertained many houseguests during the summer. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson of Santa Barbara and their daughters, Linda and Lauren, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sugich and their sons, Mike, Pete and David, who also live in the channel city, Donald Casey of Milwaukee, Wis., and Miss Mary McDonough and Miss Heather Amans, both of Los Angeles.

MRS. DOROTHY EBERWEIN has returned to her home in Loch Lomond after attending the Home Organ Festival held at Hoberg's in Lake County for a week.

Tutorial Robots Head To School

STANFORD (UPI) — By 1971, every major school, college and university will have at least one closed-circuit television system, primarily for demonstration, laboratory, and observation.

The prediction is based on a study by the Institute for Communications Research of Stanford University.

The report estimated that in elementary and secondary schools about a third of the students' class time will be spent in front of television sets.

At the college level, the percentage is expected to be 50 per cent.

The large television-taught classes will be balanced by small discussion groups where questions can be answered, arguments put forth and knowledge sharpened.

On Hand For Fall

Gloves are truly touched with individualized and unique accents. Fur cuffs, draped effects, rows of buttons and fabrics printed to look like fur or snakeskin are incoming novelties.

Talk On Church Art Set In Mill Valley

Walter Schmidt, San Francisco artist, will be the guest speaker at the fall luncheon meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen at the Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley, on Wednesday.

Born in Europe, Schmidt studied at the Folkwang School, a branch of Bauhaus, and also at the Leipzig State Academy.

The Schmidts cmae to North America in 1951 and lived in Canada for 10 years before coming with their three children to San Francisco. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt are active in the Artists' Cooperative in San Francisco.

Schmidt's pictures represent a new and original approach to church art. Using shapes of pure color which create a feeling of light he has composed collages, both abstract and semi-abstract. They are similar to stained glass windows, an art in which he is also interested. Symbols play a part in his personal interpretation of Biblical scenes and parables.

Schmidt will explain what he wants to communicate through his pictures and how he has conveyed this meaning.

No reservations are required. Members and friends are invited to attend both the morning meeting and luncheon that will follow in Hammond Hall of the church.

Upsilon Gamma To Fete Pledges

A rush party for 10 new pledges of Novato to Upsilon Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harris, 481 Blackstone Dr. in San Rafael at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

Club Plans Meet For New Section

Members of the San Rafael Improvement Club are invited to attend the first meeting of the American Home section of the club Monday, at 9:30 a.m. at the clubhouse.

This organization meeting is designed to let those interested in such a section indicate their choices for program emphasis, possible workshops, and exchanges of ideas so the group can be tailored to suit.

Mrs. Cletus J. Fitzharris is chairman of the group with Mrs. Louis L. Walsh as co-chairman.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D

Temperance Is Taught Youngsters By Example, Not Phoney Experiments

Temperance is important. But we aren't teaching it successfully. Recently I visited some high schools to find out why. What I saw bothered me. Did you know some high school temperance teachers still perform phony experiments in front of the class? Experiments identical to the ones we laughed at long ago. Their testbooks have improved, but only a little.

Temperance teachers, throw your books and paraphernalia out the window! Then subscribe to the daily papers. Have your pupils list the accidents reported in them. Have them interview the officers who investigate the crashes. Get them to find out which ones were caused by drinking. Have them find out how many deaths occur each year in your city, county and state because of drunk driving. And how many injuries, and how much property damage. Have them go to see the chief of police and the sheriff, to ask how much other crime comes from alcohol. Then they'll begin to get the picture.

Bring real experts into class to talk. Leading members of Alcoholics Anonymous, for example. A police judge, a deputy district attorney, a cop on a night beat in a slum. That will round out the teen-agers' education effectively.

I've seen a few high school civics classes study temperance this way. The kids didn't laugh at their lessons. They learned some important lessons fast.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is drinking among teenagers increasing? Our principal says he thinks he can see some improvement this year." —F.P.

(A) I'm glad for your improvement. Every indication I've seen elsewhere points to a continued increase in drinking by American teenagers.

Orchid Talk Set For Section

The Sausalito Woman's Club Garden Section will meet for the first time this season Sept. 27 at 10:30 a.m., when Mrs. Robert Friedrich, garden committee chairman, will present Henry Dreger Jr. as speaker.

Dreger, head of the cut orchid sales department for a San Francisco company, will talk on "Growing Orchids in Your Home and in Your Garden." He will also bring specimens of orchids.

After the program sherry and sandwiches will be served to members and guests by Mrs. Friedrich and her committee, Mesdames Alan Hayes and Peter Sloss.

Sleep Is Greatest Beauty Treatment You Can Recive

Whether you realize it or not, about one-third of your life is spent undergoing the best beauty treatment obtainable. It doesn't cost you a cent, yet its effects are better than the most expensive salon can offer.

Your best beauty treatment is a good night's sleep. While you are sleeping, your body relaxes and your cells rebuild. If you have slept well, you awake feeling rejuvenated and you look it. If you haven't slept well, you feel tense and snappish, and your looks reflect this feeling.

Here are a few tips to help you to restful, relaxing sleep:

Unwind before bedtime. Well before the time you usually retire, begin to taper off on your daily activities. Don't maintain the frantic rush of chores right up until bedtime. Complete your hair set, facials, ironing and other jobs at least a half-hour before you plan to retire. Use that time to relax your nerves and body in preparation for the time you turn off the lights and close your eyes.

A WARM BATH is the ideal way to relax before bedtime. As your body soaks up the warmth and your muscles relax, let your troubles slip out of your mind.

Be sure you sleep on a pillow. The main purpose of a pillow is not to provide a soft resting place for your head, but a prop to help keep your head in the same position relative to your body and shoulders as when you're awake.

You need a firm mattress to give your muscles the support they need while they gain the benefits of nightly relaxation.

FRESH AIR while you are sleeping is the best preparation for a sparkling awakening. Make sure you have enough bedclothes to keep you warm during the night, but open your windows to let in fresh air.

If you've preceded your bedtime with a period of relaxation for your body and mind, you shouldn't have much trouble dropping off to sleep. Even if you're still slightly wakeful after the lights are out, you can help welcome sleep by consciously relaxing your muscles, starting at the toes and working up.

How much sleep you need is up to you. You'll know when you've had enough sleep by the manner in which you awaken. If your sleep has been restful and long enough to meet your body's needs, you'll wake up feeling refreshed.

PLANNING A June wedding are Susan Nancy Darnell of San Anselmo and Cadet Everett William Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark.

Susan Nancy Darnell Engaged

The engagement of Susan Nancy Darnell to Cadet Everett William Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Darnell of San Anselmo.

Susan was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is a student at the College of Marin.

The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Vaughn of Fayetteville, Ark., was graduated from Fayetteville High School and attended the University of Arkansas. He will be graduated from the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs in June. Everett is the brother of Mrs. Donald Stewart of Scotland.

The couple is planning a June wedding.

LIKE PEOPLE

Our Pets Are Multiplying, Too

FAIR LAWN, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Jane Williamson doesn't think the population explosion hereabouts is just a two-footed problem.

The slender, attractive veterinarian works a 12- to 13-hour day 6 days a week, treating a burgeoning number of dogs, cats and other pets.

"So many people are coming out of the city. They've never had an animal before, so they get one," she says.

"The animals are subject to about the same diseases as humans. They get asthma, heart trouble, leukemia . . . and like their owners, dogs and cats don't seem to be getting enough exercise."

"I do think that cantagious diseases need more careful watching from all this crowding. If one dog gets sick, all the other dogs on his block are apt to follow suit."

The veterinarian would therefore be happier if people were better informed about vaccines that are available to guard the health of their pets.

"People rush in for shots when their pets get sick, but inoculation must be given to a well animal, not a sick one, you know."

She lifts the chin of a Persian cat with a hugely swollen cheek. Deftly she pries open its jaws and peers into its mouth. The cat surprisingly makes no to-do.

"This one has an abcessed tooth. I'll have to pull it."

Dr. Williamson remembers the man who was especially concerned about his dog's eyes.

"He said, 'She watches television by the hour and we're worried. She likes cartoons, anmal things and especially sports. When it's football or tennis or any kind of ball is thrown, she'll run up and down the way she will for our bring-the-ball game outside. We often leave the television on for her when we go out.'"

Dr. Williamson's verdict: television didn't hurt the cocker's eyes and she should be allowed to watch as much as she wanted.

"Animals can best be compared to little children in their behavior. Like children they often need a firm hand, a confident direction," she adds.

Among the saddest cases are those where an owner has died and "we know the animal would not be happy with a son or daughter or a new family and I am asked to put him to sleep."

One especially that gripped her was the case of a magnificent, healthy German shepherd.

Over the years the big dog had been tormented by a little neighbor dog of the yip-yap variety. One day the yipper moved in too close. The Shepherd took one bite, and that was it for Mr. Tease.

The Shepherd's owner mournfully brought his pet in to be destroyed.

"The man kept saying, 'it wasn't his fault, it wasn't his fault.'"

Dr. Williamson belongs to three veterinary associations in the New York metropolitan area. She goes to their meetings because "they're helpful for keeping up with the latest in my profession." Usually she's the only woman attending.

Does Dr. Williamson have a pet of her own?

Oh yes, "Abbe, age 8 months, part Poodle and part Terrier.

"A man brought her with others of a litter to be put to sleep. She was 10 days old and her eyes were closed. I brought her up on a bottle."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Easier To Play Well On Paper Than At The Bridge Table

It's easier to play well on a piece of paper than at the bridge table. For example, you'll see the danger in today's hand and you'll spot the right play.

Good for you. But would you see them if you held the South hand at the bridge table?

South saw nothing dangerous in the hearts. He'd have been worried if he held something obviously weak, such as K-x, but who worries about Q-10-8-3?

SOUTH WON

So South won the first club and started the diamonds with the queen and then a low diamond to dummy. He continued with a third and fourth diamond, giving a trick to East.

Since West had discarded a low spade and a low club, East had no trouble finding the shift to the five of hearts.

South put in the ten, and West won with the jack. West returned a low heart to the ace, and back came another heart.

SOME DANGER

That's when South first realized that he was in trouble. By this time, of course, it was too late for him to do anything. The defenders took a diamond and four hearts, defeating the contract.

If you're going to protect yourself against mishaps of his kind, your first step is to see that the danger is directional. You are safe if West starts the hearts, but not if East does.

Try the safe line of play. Win the first club with dummy's ace and lead the ten of diamonds from dummy for a finesse. It happens to win, so you collect five diamonds and a total of ten tricks in a hurry.

JUST IMAGINE

But imagine that West is able to win the first diamond. He returns a low heart to the ace. A heart comes through you, and West beats anything you play. What next? How can the defenders get more than three heart tricks?

In short, you can afford to give up a diamond trick to West, but not to East.

Add Q-10-8-x to your little list of combinations that are safe only if led to by the opponent at your left.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Supervisors Deserve Praise For Start To Redistricting

It is indeed heartening to find the Marin Board of Supervisors taking a definite interest in redistricting the county's supervisorial districts.

On Tuesday, Supervisors William Fusselman and Peter Behr (not noted for thinking alike on many things) united to push through a resolution ordering the county counsel to instruct them on procedures necessary to bring about redistricting.

The resolution, passed by a 4 to 0 vote —with George Ludy absent, showed an improved interest on the part of Supervisors Walter Castro and William Gnoss in the subject.

Actually, it appears quite normal that Fusselman and Behr would lead the move for redistricting if anyone on the board is to lead it. Behr has been outspoken on the need for it; Fusselman, as he himself pointed out, "won't be here" when the redistricting could become effective because he has indicated he won't run for re-election.

Fusselman, then, finds himself in a position to do a fine service to the county as a whole. He has become the logical man, one who knows all about the problems and inequities of the present districting (he alone represents more than twice as many residents as Gnoss and Ludy combined), and one who has nothing to lose because of the outcome.

It could be a fine project of county-wide importance with which Fusselman could round out his many, many years of service on the board.

But because the supervisors have evidenced this initial interest in the project is no reason for the county's citizens and organizations to relax and forget about it.

If Fusselman or any of the other supervisors are going to spearhead the drive for redistricting, they will need citizen support. And if they start to falter, citizen insistence that the job be done.

There is much difference between asking for a legal road map toward redistricting and reaching the destination.

We cheer Behr and Fusselman and the other supervisors for asking for the right route; we urge the citizens to get together and start paving the way.

Memo To A Friendly Skunk

Sir:

Please desist! Either your aim is poor or you have recently suffered great provocation outside our bedroom window.

We have known each other's families for 16 years off and on and we know you are a steady, family fellow. We also know that your clan were prior settlers on our Marin land.

During our long acquaintance, we have often met and exchanged greetings in the gardens. And we have always respected each other's privacy.

But your conduct in recent weeks has been alarming. Please keep us out of your private quarrels. Use a little more restraint. You are straining our friendship.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

500 Workers Go Out To Collect Democrat Dollars This Weekend

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Nearly 500 Marin County workers, most of them women, will participate Saturday and Sunday in the annual Dollars For Democrats drive. As planned, there is one or more workers for every one of the approximately 325 precincts in the county. Last year, more than $5,000 were contributed by slightly more than 4,000 individuals.

Organization of this massive activity is being done by the chairman, Mrs. Robert Westberg of Mill Valley. These are some of her area chairmen:

Mrs. George Renworth and Don Slichter, Ross Valley; Mrs. John Collier, Muir Beach; Duane Beeson, Tiburon-Belvedere; Mrs. Carl Schaefer, Strawberry; Mrs. Hurford Sharon, Bolinas and Stinson Beach; Mrs. John Stone, Terra Linda; Frank Kleineman, San Rafael; Frank Phillips, Marin City.

Frank King, Fairfax; Misses Mary and Helen Henry, Corte Madera; Mrs. Joseph Guthrie, Ross; Mrs. Lawrence Keilman, Greenbrae; Mrs. Ben Solomon, Kentfield; Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Sausalito; Mrs. Preble Stolz, Mill Valley; Mrs. John McRee, Outer Mill Valley; Frank Solomon, Marinwood; Bob Mertle, Santa Venetia.

George deTuncq, Novato; Mrs. William Straus, Marshall and Pt. Reyes; Mrs. Walter Coppock, Woodacre and Lagunitas.

NIXON HEADQUARTERS are opening all over the place. Newest one is in Novato which opened Monday, but the most interesting is the one in Belvedere due to open the 29th.

Mrs. Merritt Ruddick of Tiburon is in charge of running it, but her husband will be her principal assistant.

Interesting point here is that she's a Republican and he's a Democrat. He's just been appointed both Marin County and Northern California chairman of the Democrats for Nixon organization.

TOMORROW IS, of course, a big day for the Democrats—cocktails at the Flax's home in Ross, then dinner with Governor Brown at the Meadow Club, followed by dancing.

But Republicans would have a harder time doing everything there is to do: Luncheon with Mayor and Mrs. George Christopher at Dominics; tea with Mrs. Don Clausen at Mrs. Marjorie Chaille's home in San Anselmo; a visit to the old sailing ship Balclutha at Fisherman's Wharf to honor (and benefit) Tom Coakley, and dinner with Don Clausen at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

(Footnote: Brown for governor; Christopher for lieutenant governor; Clausen for Congress; Coakley for attorney general, if you've forgotten.)

AS A RESULT of politics, the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation will hold a victory cocktail party and dinner Oct. 4 at Sabella's. They hope Congress will have adjourned so that Senators Thomas Kuchel and Clair Engle and Rep. Clem Miller, all of whom put in bills to establish the national seashore, will be on hand to celebrate.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Governor To Act On Ballot Failing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

You will recall that following our inability to cast an absentee ballot at the last primary election, due to inadequate information on the sample ballot sent to us, and upon learning the same thing happened to service men at Hamilton Field, we sent a telegram to Governor Brown calling his attention to the situation. You printed this telegram in your columns.

We believe you will be pleased to know that the governor replied as follows:

"Thank you for your telegram regarding a need for more notification and information about absentee ballots.

"Our inquiry of the Secretary of State about this indicates a need for more information to the voter, and we will keep this proposal on hand for consideration during the 1963 legislative session.

"Again, my thanks for your concern."

EDMUND G. BROWN
Governor

Our deep thanks to you, and the governor, for excellent public service.

Try The New Dial O System

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Having noted a recent concern in your letters column regarding digit-dialing, and having received (as most readers doubtless also did) the telephone company's new educaional piece on "DIAL 1," I have a brief and easily-remembered suggestion.

Instead of remembering to "dial 1," remembering the "area code" and then remembering the additional seven digits required to henceforth reach a friend or business associate, my suggestion requires only recollecting one digit.

With apologies to the telephone company for copying their title, I call it the Dial O system, and I heartily recommend it to all users.

In the Dial O system, one merely inserts the right forefinger in the dial space marked "O," moves it clockwise until it stops, and then releases same. In a moment, a friendly voice comes onto the line—a person far better trained to move through the digital morass of modern-day telephoning than I—and this person, more times than not, is able to direct the proper automatons to move in the proper fashion, to complete my call.

I heartily recommend to all that Dial O be adopted as your system. In addition to its simplicity and error-free operation, if adopted as common practice by sufficient people, it should rather quickly indicate to the telephone company how some of us feel about their multi-digit steamroller.

Why Notice To Property Owners

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have mailed the following letter:

Niels Schulz Jr.,
Commissioner
County Planning Commission
San Rafael

I am enclosing a "Notice of Hearing" concerning spot rezoning in Kentfield from single family residence to multiple dwelling; also the Independent-Journal's report of the hearing, in its September 17th issue.

If I have correctly read the news article, more than 30 residents appeared in order to protest against the rezoning, while only one party, the owner of the property, was in favor. Nevertheless the rezoning was granted.

What puzzles me is this: Why spend the public money to send out notices to interested property holders if their views are to be completely ignored? Certainly you cannot say that they were not ignored, considering the 30 to 1 majority.

Or is it possibly the fact that the law calls for such notice and the commission complies with the formality but has already made its own decision in advance?

I am sending a copy of this letter to the editor of the Independent-Journal in hopes that it may be published and further call to the attention of the reading public what I personally consider high-handed methods of the commission.

BENNETT CERF

Shortly after D-Day in World War II, an aviator was dispatched over the Rhineland to drop propaganda leaflets. He didn't check back in at headquarters for three weeks. "Where you been?" demanded his squadron leader crossly. "How could you take three weeks just to dump a load of leaflets over enemy territory?"

"Dump them?" repeated the pilot in a hollow voice. "I thought you wanted me to slip one under every door!"

Jayne Mansfield recalls that when she was a sweet young co-ed at the University of Texas she once walked into a dress shop and inquired of the manager, "May I try on the bathing suit in the window?" The manager eyed her appreciatively and urged, "Go ahead. It might help business."

QUOTABLE QUOTES:

"A good leader takes a little more than his share of the blame; a little less than his share of the credit."—Arnold Glasgow.

"A stubborn man doesn't hold opinions; they hold him."—A. Ribicoff.

"It is prudent to thank an author for his book before reading it, so as to avoid the necessity of lying about it afterwards."—George Santayana.

"Hollywood is a place where people from Iowa mistake each other for stars."—Fred Allen.

"Give me my golf clubs, the fresh air, and a beautiful girl for a partner, and you can keep my golf clubs and the fresh air."—Jack Benny.

When Washburn Attends College Board Meetings Things Happen

Trustee George G. Washburn, who has missed numerous meetings, got to the Marin Junior College District board meeting last week. Some results:

"I don't want to sound like a miser," he said of the pay to be given Istvan Nadas for a College of Marin piano recital, "but I think $300 is a lot of money." College president Stephen E. Epler thought it a bargain.

Washburn wondered whether Nadas was nationally known. "Internationally known," he was told. Clerk Kent O. Seymour's motion to approve the recital was passed.

TRUSTEES LATER voted 4-1 to send several board and administration members to the California Junior College Assn. Conference at Fresno Oct. 30-31 after Washburn said, "I never saw any trustee get anything out of this."

Trustee Robert E. Oliver, a steel firm executive noted for the jaundiced look he gives any suspected extra expense, countered, "It's good to talk with other administrators" (from outside Marin). Trustee Robert E. Rogers said, "I benefited greatly" from the conference he attended.

"I'm afraid to go for fear I'll get brainwashed," said Washburn.

Washburn then surprised the board by moving to authorize attendance at a different college conference in San Diego Dec. 3. "Hooray!" exclaimed the normally sedate Oliver.

THERE WAS quite an exchange between Washburn and board president Elizabeth M. Deedy over his complaint that he didn't want a $75,000 commission to be paid to some real estate firm when the college buys a second campus site in North Marin.

Mrs. Deedy said, "Realtors make up a sizable portion of the business community. I don't think we should alienate them."

"I'd alienate anybody for $75,000," retorted Washburn. In her soft Southern drawl Mrs. Deedy said, "Oh, George, I'm sure you're too conscientious to mean that."

Washburn shook his head. Real estate man Gene McDaniel said, "The commission wouldn't be that large."

Washburn wondered whether jobless persons to be retrained in business clerical skills would be "middle aged, in their 30s." Persons above age 40 in the room suddenly felt terribly old. When Robert Wilkens, the teacher for the special class, was being discussed, Washburn wondered whether "we'll have trouble getting rid of Wilkins" after the course is completed. "No," he was assured.

WASHBURN MADE his big campaign of the evening pressing for a course to teach bluntly in simple words that communism is slavery and hence evil and Americanism is freedom.

Dean Ellsworth R. Briggs recited a 120-word description of a three-hour adult course covering communism as included in several among a dozen hot world issues. One board member said, "Wow!" and all trustees laughed as though they suddenly had quit holding their breath.

Leonard Blomquist, acting head of Liberal Arts, thought existing day courses adequately expounded differences between the two systems.

Mild appearing librarian Charles Mastin thought present courses satisfactory and believed submitting conclusions to students would tend to make them rebel and reject the conclusions.

ON THIS SUBJECT the United Press International reported from Los Angeles Saturday the State Board of Education unanimously approved a policy statement urging a method sounding like the current College of Marin system.

The statement called "for a scholarly and objective approach to the study of communism . . . rather than indoctrination."

Only Way To Keep Cuba From Being Partisan Issue Is Tell Truth

WASHINGTON — In pouring a massive volume of Soviet arms, including military men and missiles, into Cuba, Nikita Khrushchev is embarking on a policy of brinkmanship, the end result of which cannot possibly be foreseen.

One thing is clear. The planting of Soviet power in Cuba is creating a depth of uneasiness and anxiety among the American people which can hardly be overstated.

Quite properly, President Kennedy has addressed himself to this uncertain and frustrated state of public opinion. At his latest press conference, he appealed to the Americans to "keep both their nerve and their head."

KENNEDY IS hopeful that this new stage in the Cuban crisis will not become a lacerating partisan issue in the coming elections. I know of only one way it can be prevented. That is for the President to convince the American people that they will get an absolutely straight and frank account of the gravity of what is happening and that the administration will take measures equal to the danger.

It is my present conviction —which I put down for whatever it is worth—that the administration is not yet forthrightly stating to the country the gravity of the challenge we now face, nor embracing an adequate course of action to counter and to liquidate that challenge.

AT THE OUTSET of his statement, designed to put the Cuban situation "in perspective," the President pointed out that "it is Mr. Castro" who is in trouble.

Castro's troubles don't ease our troubles one iota, now that Castro's Cuba has become Khrushchev's Cuba.

Spokesmen for the administration continue to suggest that the Monroe Doctrine will be applicable and will surely be invoked if Soviet arms in Cuba become big enough to be "offensive" and are turned against other American nations.

The truth is that the Monroe Doctrine has already been breached by the takeover of Cuba by a foreign power. On this point the influential Washington Post goes to the heart of the matter in saying:

"The ships and arms that Khrushchev has sent to Cuba are as menacing as the fleet that Emperor Alexander gave to Spain to help her subdue her former American colonies in 1818. This country resisted Russia then, it must resist its penetration of the Western hemisphere today."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY rightly counsels against provocative talk and rash action. But the only thing which will counter both is adequate action by the administration to resist and in the end liquidate Soviet penetration of the Western hemisphere.

Thoughtful people will agree, I think, that unilateral military intervention is not the beginning of such a course—but the last resort if other steps fail.

Mr. K threatens war if we do anything to lift the Khrushchev-Castro dictatorship from the backs of the Cuban people. I think the American people are not going to scare easily.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

The Tobacco-Lung Cancer Feud Is Just About To Go Up In Smoke

Van Dellen

The tobacco-lung cancer feud is about to go up in smoke. The evidence against cigarette smoking is mounting. Millions of men will need all the will power they can muster to stop the habit, unless the industry can find different tobaccos or more efficient filters to reduce the nicotine, phenol, and tar content.

Cigarette smoke affects the cells lining the bronchi. Some of these cells have hair-like cilia that protrude into the passageways and move in a whiplash manner to propel mucus toward the mouth. This is the way the lungs expel small particles of dust and other debris. Tobacco smoke inhibts the action of cilia and, in time, the cells containing the hairlike projections disappear.

ONE OF THE CIGARETTE filters now on the market removes the phenols that are responsible for this adverse effect upon the cilia and it decreases some of the other ill effects of smoke. It does not solve the problem but is mentioned as an example of what the tobacco industry is trying to do.

The most incriminating evidence against cigarettes comes from the work of Dr. Oscar Auerbach and colleagues. They made microscopic studies of the lining membranes of hundreds of persons who died of causes other than lung cancer. In one study, the membranes of 72 men who had smoked until the end were compared with those of 72 ex-smokers and 72 who never smoked. All were matched as to age, occupation, and residence.

ATYPICAL OR abnormal nuclei were seen in the lining cells of the bronchi in 93.2 per cent of the sections removed from the lungs of smokers. This condition was present in 6.0 per cent of ex-cigarette smokers and 1.2 per cent of nonsmokers. These atypical nuclei resembled those seen in cancer cells and probably represent precancerous lesions.

Other studies have demonstrated that these cellular changes (along with loss of cilia) are observed less frequently in women, especially nonsmokers, but are just as common in country as in city dwellers. In addition, older smokers have more changes than the neophyte.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SEX HORMONES

J. M. writes: You mentioned a hormone product that is stripped of its sex stimulating factor. Is there a hormone to stimulate sex, and if so, what is it?

REPLY

Yes. Testerone, for example, may stimulate sex in men and thyroid extract or liotryronine may do the same for individuals with low metabolism. But there is a difference between stimulating sex and stimulating secondary sex characteristics, which we referred to; the hormones mentioned are those stripped of their ability to masculinize women and feminize men.

PACIFIERS ARE IN

Mrs. K. writes: My 5 month old son goes to sleep peacefully when he has a pacifier in his mouth. I have heard that this gadget is frowned upon and wonder why.

REPLY

History has a way of repeating itself. Pacifiers are popular again.

PELLAGRA

L. L. H. writes: Does a person with pellagra have to take niacin the rest of his life?

REPLY

No. Niacin is a specific remedy but once the condition is brought under control, a well balanced diet will prevent a recurrence.

BRAS AND CANCER

I. D. writes: Could wearing a tight bra lead to cancer?

REPLY

The cause of this type of cancer is not known but it is doubtful that the bra plays a role.

Today's Health Hint—Never take a chance with your eyes.

Steel Unions Ready To Discuss Contracts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has been airing its woes but without taking time off from its drive to sell more steel.

Steel leaders have been telling Congress — and also the stockholders—about the woes.

Most publicized are lower earnings, sometimes lower than current dividend rates, and in other cases low enough to trigger dividend cuts. Looming large is increasing competition from foreign steel mills. Hurting for several years has been the growing inroad of other materials into steel's old markets. And all of these have been compounded by an inventory glut in the hands of steel's customers, now slowly disappearing.

But over the horizon is still another problem — the steel unions are beginning to talk about reopening their contracts next year to seek a wage increase.

The woes of the industry are real enough. But there are signs that the steelmen are doing something about it. For several years the drive was to increase ingot production. Now the emphasis is on technology to produce steel more cheaply and on marketing — creating new uses, recapturing old customers.

Inroads of aluminum, copper, glass and other materials in the vehicular industry are being combatted by new high-strength alloy steels. They boast both light weight and strength.

The American Iron and Steel Institute strives to encourage more imaginative use of steel. A steel products design competition currently is being cosponsored by the National Design Center in New York.

The container industry took about 10 per cent of total steel shipments in 1961. A Youngstown Sheet and Tube executive predicts this year some eight million tons of steel, or about 11 per cent of the total, should be sold to this industry.

Competition here has grown in recent years from paper, glass, aluminum, copper, plastics. But the steelmen have come up with a thinner tin plate to compete.

The drive to win new markets or recapture old ones is on in earnest. But even the steel salesmen admit that the near future prospects depend upon a still unresolved uncertainty: Will business in general next year be up or down — especially in the heavy industry, transportation, appliance and construction fields? Getting a bigger share of the market is fine, but there has to be a healthy market.

No. 1303 Sept. 20, 1962

ORDINANCE NO. 756
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE ZONING MAP OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, ADOPTED BY REFERENCE BY SECTION 14.12.020 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, SO AS TO RECLASSIFY CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY FROM AN R-1 (SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL) DISTRICT TO AN R-2 (DUPLEX RESIDENTIAL) DISTRICT.

The Council of the City of San Rafael do ordain as follows:

SECTION I: The Zoning Map of the City of San Rafael, California, adopted by reference by Section 14.12.020 of the Municipal Code, is amended by reclassifying the following described real property from an R-1 (Single Family Residential) District to an R-2 (Duplex Residential) District. Said property so reclassified is located between Clark Street and Reservoir Road, portion of County Assessor's Parcels No. 12-171-05 & 06.

SECTION 2: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

/s/ C. W. ABY, Acting Mayor

5 NEW SERIES!

ALFRED HITCHCOCK HOUR Brace yourself for suspense with an ending you'll never guess—or forget!

Felons Would Make $44 Million

Wages totaling $44,142,435 would be earned by inmates of San Quentin Prison if the average sentence period were spent at paid labor, according to a compilation in the current San Quentin News.

The prison paper isn't trying to make a case for turning everybody loose. Its calculations were just to pass an idle hour, apparently, but they're based on the following:

With 3,587 inmates a total of 28,696 man-hours go to waste daily. This works out, says the paper, at 8,608,000 hours annually or on a national wage average, $14,376,696 per 10-month working period or $44,142,435 for an average three year sentence.

From this, the calculation runs, the government might take $2,873,339 annually in income tax, adding "almost enough to maintain Caroline's pony."

The News quotes another calculation by an inmate with time hanging heavy on his hands, to the effect that during the current year there will be 31,536,000 ticks of the clock.

How Dry They Were

BAGDAD (UPI)—In this little, appropriately-named desert town, probably the longest dry spell in the United States lasted from October, 1912, to November, 1914 — a total of 767 days.

The first true light on cosmic rays came in 1910 when the Austrian physicist, Victor F. Hess, took his instruments to 17,000 feet in a balloon and found that cosmic-ray activity intensified at higher altitudes.

ADULT CLASSES SET AT JEWISH CENTER

Adult evening classes in dancing, bridge and metalworking will begin the first week in October at the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Begun last night was a painting and drawing class. Classes in creative dance for all ages will start Oct. 1 from 8 to 10 p.m., continuing for 17 sessions on Monday nights. Ballroom dancing will be taught for 10 Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock, starting Oct. 3.

Eight sessions in beginning bridge will be taught Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m. starting Oct. 1. A junior bridge tournament will be held each Tuesday starting at 8 p.m.

In a new series of classes for adults, artists of Marin will instruct in their own studios on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon, with the first of eight sessions set for Oct. 23 with metalsmith Victor Reis.

Beginning drawing and painting will be taught at the center from 8 to 10 p.m. each Tuesday for eight sessions, first of which was held last night.

Registrations are accepted at the Jewish Community Center.

College's Concert, Lecture Series Set

Features of the fall concert and lecture series at College of Marin following tomorrow night's recital by pianist Istvan Nadas were announced today.

All events will be at 8:30 p.m. in Olney Hall on the Kentfield campus.

These other events are scheduled: Dr. Urban Whitaker, San Francisco State College professor, will talk on "Red China: Recognized or Ignored," Oct. 11; Berkeley Chamber Singers, Nov. 6; William Winter of Belvedere, subject not yet selected, Dec. 6. An event in January will complete the series.

Bus Stop Relocations Backed By Mill Valleyans

Mill Valley Commuters Club directors Tuesday night endorsed a proposal of Police Chief Dan Terzich to relocate five bus stops on Miller Avenue.

Proposed new locations are South Miller and Montford avenues in front of Faber's Restaurant; Reed Street and South Miller Avenue (across Reed Street from present location); Tamalpais High School at 558 Miller Avenue; in front of Safeway Store, 100 feet west of present location, and in front of the Harry's Union Service, 455 Miller Avenue, instead of before the American Legion Hall.

The new stops are intended to increase safety and public convenience, said club president James A. Bollier.

The club will hold an open meeting Oct. 16 at 8:15 p.m. in the city hall to discuss Greyhound Lines schedules, routes and seating capacity.

The board also said it is interested in legislative appropriation to enable a feasibility study of Supervisor Peter Behr's plan for another bay crossing from San Rafael to Point Richmond, Treasure Island and the Embarcadero in San Francisco.

Opposition was voiced against Golden Gate Bridge traffic arches, board members stating they prefer the lane marker system. The board also endorsed recommendations of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs that the bridge board go to established outside agencies for assistance in planning.

A grizzly bear in Yellowstone Park, running ahead of an automobile, was clocked at a speed of 30 miles per hour.

American Dairy Meet

Armin Truttman of Olema, California, president of the American Dairy Assn., will represent state dairy farmers at the fall business meeting of the association in Seattle Sept. 24-26. In addition to being a member of the seven-man executive committee of the national dairy group, Truttman is a member of the subcommittee on advertising and merchandising.

COPTER — This is the Hughes 269-A helicopter (right) that will fly over Corte Madera Center Saturday at 11 a.m. to drop the balls filled with prize certificates in celebration of the Center's fourth anniversary. Hundreds of balls, each stuffed with a certificate, will be dropped. Participating in the trial run are Mrs. Gene Smith of San Rafael, and the pilot, Commodore Helicopter's Bob Hallbeck.

Ping Pong Balls Mark 4th Anniversary

Friday and Saturday are the dates of the Fourth Anniversary Sale at the Corte Madera Center, and Saturday at 11 a.m. is the time of the traditional Ping Pong Ball Drop.

At that hour a helicopter will pass over the parking lot and drop hundreds of gift certificates stuffed into plastic practice golf balls.

There will be a certificate for a 19-inch portable television set in one of the balls, and one for a Polaroid Camera in another.

Someone will catch a ball with a certificate for a Bulova Sea-King 17-jewel watch.

Also there will be certificates for a hair dryer and vanity set with hood and mirror, a blender with two-speed control and replacable blades, or a portable mixer.

Further prizes include an automatic can and bottle opener and a steam iron.

Other balls will contain certificates good for a dollar in merchandise. These certificates must be used before September 29, and are not redeemable for cash.

Shoe Store Owner Has Experience

Harry Kramar of Kramar's Shoes in the Corte Madera Center has spent 22 years in shoe retailing. He has always carried the best of the name brands, and has continued this at Corte Madera Center.

Kramar attended Stockton schools, and is a graduate of Stockton High School and College of the Pacific, where he was a basketball player. He enjoys golfing, and has earned a low handicap.

His wife, Betty, assists in their shoe store and their daughter Marjorie attends Redwood High School where she is a sophomore.

Kramar is a member of the Corte Madera Lions Club. He was active in organizing the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council of which he is now president.

Winners Of Bicycles Told

Here are the holders of the winning tickets in the Corte Madera Center back-to-school bicycle give-away.

Kevin Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Kirby of 201 Wallace Hall in Mill Valley, is especially thrilled as he was hoping to receive a two-wheel bicycle at Christmas, and now he won't have to wait. Kevin will be 6 in December and attends Alto School.

The other winner is Robert Lethbridge, Jr., who is in second grade at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lethbridge of 218 Monte Vista in Larkspur.

STYLED FOR AUTUMN

Stepping out of the Jay Vee Store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, Hazel Ballou of San Anselmo prepares for brisk Fall breezes by turning up the fox collar of this plush-lined all-weather coat, one of several styles in the Jay Vee coat department.

New Kirby's Manager

The new manager of Kirby's Shoe Store in the Corte Madera Center has a long record of experience in the shoe retailing business.

Ernest Sandgren is a native of Canada and attended schools there. He was associated with the shoe department of Robert Simpson's in Montreal.

He was with Reeves Shoe Stores for several years, and later manager of the shoe concession in the Federal Department Store in Eureka.

After one year with Kirby's Shoes in San Francisco, Sandgren was promoted to manager of the Corte Madera store, and has now moved to San Rafael.

Sandgren states that he will continue Kirby's policy of quality and service, with a large selection of styles for the entire family.

Jury Is Silent For Good Reason

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—"Ladies and gentlemen, please answer to your names," said a clerk to a jury seated before Supreme Court Justice Reid S. Moule.

The clerk then read off a series of names and got no response from the jurors.

"Oh, I'm sorry," the clerk apologized. "Wrong jury."

BOB STAVE
Five departments

Penney Man Runs Five Departments

J. C. Penney Co. has promoted Bob Stave, formerly of their San Francisco store, to Department Manager for five department in their Corte Madera Center store.

Bob, his wife, Carol, and their 19-month-old son, John, live in Greenbrae.

Stave was transferred to Penney's downtown San Francisco store in 1959 as department head for the curtain and drapery department, and received his transfer to Corte Madera Center this month.

His responsibilities now include women's ready-to-wear and furnishing, home furnishings, yardage and girls' apparel.

HAIR STYLIST NOW IS OWNER OF STORE

Duke Barker of Mam'Selle Stylists was co-owner for over a year, and last month became full owner of the shop. Before coming to Mam'Selle in August of 1961, Barker was a hair stylist in Los Angeles.

Mam'Selle Stylists offer a complete line of hair care and styling. They will cut, color, shampoo and set, in traditional or hi-fashion styles.

Barker is now specializing in customized work on wigs. He carries a line of wigs which are 75 per cent human hair and 25 per cent synthetic. They come in several colors and can also be colored to order.
